

SOCIAL AGENCIES COUNCIL MEETS

New Organization of Queens County Holds First Annual Dinner at Jamaica

SEE MANY WAYS TO AID NEEDY

Members of the Council of Social Agencies of Queens Borough conducted their first annual dinner Monday night at the Colonial Arms, Shelton and Herriman Avenues, Jamaica. Fifty members were present, including thirty representatives from charitable organizations in Queens, Richmond Hill being well represented.

Probation Officer Joseph Maskey, attached to the Flushing Magistrate's Court, was toastmaster. He referred to the work of the organization during the last twelve months and spoke of wonderful work accomplished. He also spoke of the need for charitable organizations in the borough to aid those whose breadwinners had been sent away for some crime. He strongly advocated the probation system as a means of keeping "first offenders on the straight path."

Robert W. Hebbard, superintendent of the Queens Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, Jamaica, gave an account of the work during the last year of the organization which he represents. He strongly urged individuals to join the council, the dues for which are $1 a year, and help in its charitable work.

"There never was so great a need for such an organization as there is now," Mr. Hebbard declared.

He also spoke of the advisability of a probation exchange system, whereby track could always be kept of probationers should they ever leave the borough in which they were placed on probation.

Miss Dorcas Campbell, secretary of the Brooklyn and Queens Social Service Exchange, referred to the work of her organization, which is affiliated with the council. She urged other organizations to affiliate, particularly in view of the fact that the dues are only $5 per year.

Dr. Charles Prest, representing the Queensboro Tuberculosis Association of Jamaica, gave a detailed account of the work of his organization during the last twelve months, in which he referred to the number of persons his organization has assisted.

R. H. MAN HURT IN TROLLEY COLLISION

Hurled Against Window When Cars Come Together at Belmont Park

Wet, slippery rails were blamed for a collision between two trolley cars of the Long Island Traction Company at Hempstead Road, Belmont Park, late Saturday night. The cars were only slightly damaged, but the impact was sufficient to hurl the conductor and one passenger of one of the cars, who was standing, against windows, causing cuts.

One of the cars was stationary when the other came up behind it and the wheels slid along the wet rails after the brakes were applied. W. C. Woodson, 47, of 30 Front Street, Hempstead, conductor of the second car, was thrown against a front window and cut a deep gash in his left forearm, severing a blood vessel. Frank Graham, 31, of 10057 Ashland Avenue, Richmond Hill, a passenger, was thrown against a door, suffering laceration of the forehead and confusion of the nose. Both were placed in a passing automobile and taken to Mary Immaculate Hospital, Jamaica. After their injuries had been treated by Dr. Bunim, the house surgeon, they were able to go to their homes.

New Railroad Platform at Kew
The Long Island Railroad Company has at last finished work on the lengthening of the platform at the Kew Gardens station. This has added much to the convenience of commuters who live west of the station, and due to the fact that this longer station platform will enable all the passengers on the train to reach the platform without having to walk thru several cars as formerly and causing the train to wait longer at the station, this new platform will be an added comfort to all who use the Jamaica local trains.

SCOUT RALLY IN FOREST PARK
Program Tomorrow Will Be Scout Sports and of Interest to All

Those interested in scouting will read with interest that the Boy Scouts of the Ridgewood district will gather together tomorrow afternoon at the baseball field, near Woodhaven and Myrtle Avenue, for their first scout rally and the first outdoor scout rally held this autumn in Queens.

The program will be essentially one of typically scout sports and will be of interest to every onlooker. It includes water boiling contests, ante-lope, first aid and dressing races, a demonstration of making fire by friction, message contests in which both wig-wag and semaphore signalling systems are employed, making of tent pegs out of rough wood using only knife and axe, staff throwing and knot-tying tests and other events.

The rally will be preceded by a scout parade and review, salute to the flag and recitation of the scout oath in unison. The rally will be free to all spectators and it is expected that many fathers and mothers of scouts will take the opportunity to find out just what scouting means to their sons. The rally will begin at 3 o'clock.

R. H. DEMOCRATS TO HEAR CANDIDATES

Next Meeting of Richmond Hill Club, October 25, Will Be An Important One

The Richmond Hill Democratic Club, Inc., held its regular meeting on Thursday, October 11, at its clubhouse, 11001 Jamaica Avenue, a large number of members attending. The club went on record endorsing the proposed police and firemen's increase in salary. The campaign committee reported progress in their work for the county ticket.

John B. Young, chairman of the committee for the ball to be held on Saturday, October 27, at Association Hall, Myrtle Avenue and 109th Street, reported that from indications the ball will be one of the largest ever held in Richmond Hill, over 1,000 tickets having already been sold.

At the next meeting, Thursday, October 25, all the county candidates will be on hand to address the members and all members are urgently requested to be present. Thirty-four new members were elected, bringing the total to over 500 within one year.

Harvest Festival for Hospital

A harvest festival for the benefit of Mary Immaculate Hospital, Jamaica, is to be given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Richmond Hill Community Branch on Wednesday evening, October 24, at the Roosevelt Republican Clubhouse, 109th Street and 91st Avenue, Richmond Hill. There will be prizes, dancing and refreshments. Music by Burke brothers.

ST. ELIZABETH'S IS 50 YEARS OLD

Bishop Molloy Preaches Sermon at Golden Jubilee Celebration at Woodhaven Church

CELEBRATION ON ALL THE WEEK

St. Elizabeth's R. C. Church opened its fiftieth anniversary celebration with a solemn high mass of thanksgiving at the church, 84th Street and Atlantic Avenue, Woodhaven, Sunday morning, the Right Rev. Bishop Thomas E. Molloy and his secretary, Father Kelly, attending the ceremonies.

The Rev. Gustav E. Baer, rector of the church, officiated as celebrant, with the Rev. Alfred Hagemaier, of Buffalo, as deacon, and the Rev. John F. Bruno as sub-deacon. The Rev. Ernest Fris, curate of St. Elizabeth's, was master of ceremonies, while the Rev. George A. Hatzgar, rector of the Church of the Most Holy Trinity, preached the sermon.

Founded in 1873, under the name of St. Joseph's, St. Elizabeth's, was in its early years an out-mission of St. Monica's, Jamaica, the Rev. Anthony Farley, pastor. Its first rector, the Rev. Aloys Staffan, was appointed in 1885. His successors were the Rev. Joseph Ernst (1895), the Rev. Andrew Klammann (1901), and the present rector, Father Baer (1910).

St. Elizabeth's parish is festively decorated for its week of rejoicing. Speaking towards the close of the service, Bishop Molloy felicitated the members of the parish upon the work accomplished, and reminded them that their "first obligation" in these solemn and sacred ceremonies is to give thanks to God, and then to summon to memory the many priests who have worked toward the betterment of the church and the guidance of the souls under their care.

Father Baer, rector of the parish, in offering his congratulations, laid stress upon the fact that the older members deserved special praise and prayer, and declared that in the presence of his Bishop he could truthfully say that he was satisfied with the devotion of his parishioners.

At the evening service, solemn vespers were sung, with the Rev. Alfred Hagemaier, as celebrant, and the Rev. F. X. Renner and the Rev. Ernest A. R. Fries, officiating. Pioneer members, the various organizations in the parish and a number of Sisters of the Order of St. Dominic, who are graduates of the parish school, occupied pews reserved for them.

Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings entertainments were presented in the Parish Hall.

McINTOSH LECTURE TO BE BROADCAST TONIGHT

Burr McIntosh says it is impossible for him to accept an invitation to be present at the dedication of the memorial trees in honor of the Richmond Hill men who died in the service during the World War, to be held at Forest Park Armistice Day, but he is heartily in sympathy with the movement.

Mr. McIntosh wishes to announce to his Richmond Hill friends that he lectures tonight at 7:30 o'clock, the lecture tonight at 7:30 o'clock, the lecture to be broadcast from Station WJZ and all are invited to listen in.

PUSHING GOOD ROAD MOVEMENT

Many Associations Devoting Themselves to the Establishment of Better Highways

The extent of the Nation's interest in good roads in general, and any governmental scheme which will provide real highways, in particular, is well shown in the number of organizations of State, interstate, and national character, which are actively engaged in promoting the cause of good roads.

There are no less than twenty-five organizations, each devoting itself to pressing for the establishment or the completion of a transcontinental highway; that is, one which crosses several States, in distinction to those purely State highways, which are wholly within a State.

Twenty-two great associations are working on twenty-two interstate highways, entirely distinct from the twenty-three State Highway Associations which are actively laboring for better roads of all kinds within their respective States.

Besides these, there are eleven great national organizations either wholly devoted to roads or including roads as one of their major activities.

Subsidiary to these are hundreds of smaller road organizations, working with these associations, but chiefly concerned over some local stretch of road. It is to be noted that when, as is inevitable, the National Government begins to build a national highways system, a great many of these great organizations can write "done" after their charter explanation of their purposes.

"THE SPOILERS" FOR FIVE DAYS AT THE MERRICK

Rex Beach's story of the Klondike gold rush, "The Spoilers," has lost none of its glamour, none of its vividness and none of its drama in the years that have passed since it was written—and that have passed since it was first put upon the screen ten years ago by Colonel Selig. The new version, produced by Jesse D. Hampson, with Lambert Hillyer directing, is to be the attraction at the Merrick Monday to Friday, October 22-26. "The Spoilers" is a true picture of life in the Klondike gold rush and the attempt of certain unprincipled adventurers to jump the claims of the early miners. Its story has a peculiar fascination over the minds of red-blooded Americans. The picture is one of the best made in recent years and there is no doubt that it will repeat the big success of its first screen incarnation.

The cast is certainly one of the most notable that has ever been seen in any one photoplay. It reads like a "Who's Who" of the screen—Milton Sills, Barbara Bedford, Anna Q. Nilsson, Noah Beery, Robert Edeson, Mitchell Lewis, Wallace MacDonald, Ford Sterling, Robert McKim, Sam de Grasse, John Elliott, Louis Fazenda, Kate Price, Rockcliffe Fellows, Gordon Russell, Albert Roscoe, Tom McGuire and Jack Curtis.

The fight between Milton Sills, who is the Roy Glennister, and Noah Beery, impersonating the villainous

Alex McNamara, is without a doubt the greatest screen fight ever filmed. It is stated that it required five days to film this fight scene.

James C. Archer Estate $500

The late James C. Archer, of Jamaica, for many years one of the best known auctioneers on Long Island, left an estate which is valued at only $500 in personal property in the petition accompanying the will, which is on file for probate with Surrogate Noble, at Jamaica. The estate is given to the widow, Marie L. Archer, of 21 Willet Street, Jamaica, and she is appointed executrix. The will was executed June, 1920. Mr. Archer died May 12th.

An estate valued at $21,900 is disposed of by the will of Robert Hampshire, late of Richmond Hill. It is directed that, after the death or remarriage of the widow, $1,000 each is to be paid to Inez and Russell Wilcox, children of Mrs. Grace Wilcox, of Oyster Bay. The estate is to be held in trust for the benefit of the widow, Martha, of 8541 102nd Street, Richmond Hill. At her death, the entire estate goes to a son, Robert, with the exception of the bequests to the Wilcox children. Should Mrs. Hampshire remarry, she is thereafter to receive the income from only one-third of the estate, the remainder going to the son, Robert. The Title Guarantee & Trust Co. of Manhattan is appointed executor. The will was executed on November 15, 1920, and the testator died on September 30, last. You can sometimes tie a man's hands but never a woman's tongue.

We want to be hosts that week to every housewife, and others interested, in Corona, Flushing, Astoria, Long Island City, Newtown, Greenpoint, Steinway, Elmhurst, Jackson Heights, Richmond Hill, Forest Hills and Kew Gardens. We are your neighbors—the only absolutely Modern, Up-to-date, Sanitary Laundry in the District!
We've learned that women are interested in knowing how a laundry does its work. We want to show you all about it. Every department will be open to your inspection—you will actually see washings going through all the way from the classifying table to our patented Better Washing at Less Cost!
We mean no reflection on home-washing when we claim our work is better. If every housewife could do her own housework, including her washing, herself, her work would probably always be the very best.
But we are in the business of washing. We want to stay in business. To do so we know our work must satisfy. And we leave nothing undone to keep all our work always up to the high standard of the American housewife. Put your washing responsibility on us; we're organized and equipped for it.
Send your next week's washing to us. Judge the quality of our work. Compare the cost.
