Garage Floor Treatment Options

To fully maximise the potential of your garage space you need to cover your bare concrete floor. We have two proven techniques, first and most versatile is Fastfloor. This is a PVC interlocking tile that can be laid on top of any treated or untreated floor. This will give you a floor that is rugged enough to handle your cars and forgiving enough to protect your children from bad play accidents.

The second is treating your floor with a two pack epoxy resin. A permanent solution that will always look impressive and is, unbelievably, easy to clean. Our fully accredited installers will professionally prepare the concrete for the epoxy coating which is crucial for a quality finish and durability.

More Than Just A Floor

Stylish

The two-pack epoxy coating looks great and you'll want to keep your garage door open.

Do It Your Self

Fastfloor can easily be installed in just a few hours. You can take this floor with you if you move.

Variety of Colours

A range of mix and match colours to help make your garage floor unique.

Long Lasting

Epoxy flooring requires our accredited installers to guarantee a professional finish.

What are Flooring Treatments?

A Fastfloor is made using our 450mm x 450mm x 5mm thick PVC flooring tiles. This is a revolutionary way to cover a bad floor or protect good concrete. Once laid, Fastfloor gives you total protection against, damaging, automotive and household fluids. Comes in nine colours.

Decorative flake flooring solutions are made using a non-yellowing, two-pack epoxy which has coloured pvc flakes added directly into the epoxy. This leaves you with a floor that has no seams, is easy to clean and has great slip resistance when wet.
