SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

In 1863, after Abraham Lincoln issued the Emancipation Proclamation, what had been a war to preserve the union also became a war to end slavery in the United States. This edition of Records of U.S. Colored Troops shows that, given the opportunity, African Americans seized the chance to help win the war and deal the death blow to slavery. By the end of the war in 1865, over 180,000 African Americans, including former slaves and escaped slaves, had served in the ranks of the U.S. Colored Troops (U.S.C.T.). This collection consists of correspondence from military officers and from civilians regarding the members of the U.S.C.T. These two types of correspondence are interfiled, organized by year and, within each year, alphabetically by name of soldier or correspondent. The documents date from 1863 to 1865.

The first type of correspondence in the collection is letters from officers of the U.S. Colored Troops, other army officers, surgeons, and chaplains. These letters can be separated into two categories. The first category covers recruitment, medical exams, death records, musters, inventories of possessions of deceased soldiers, and other administrative matters. These items appear in every folder and therefore are not listed in the major topics in the Reel Index. The second category is reports on the activities of different regiments. These letters, primarily written by the chaplains of the regiments, are less frequent but contain revealing information about the experience of African Americans in the Union Army and their contribution to the Union cause. Some letters, for example, discuss the combat activities of individual regiments. In his monthly report dated June 1, 1864, H. H. Moore, chaplain of the 34th regiment, U.S.C.T., describes battles in Florida and skirmishes in Georgia and South Carolina. In both Florida and South Carolina the regiment not only defeated the enemy but also destroyed materials stockpiled by the Confederacy. While marching through South Carolina, the regiment liberated 837 slaves (Reel 2, Frame 0796). Other battles mentioned in the correspondence include Chattanooga, Tennessee; Decatur, Alabama; Helena, Arkansas; Nashville, Tennessee; Petersburg, Virginia; and Wallace's Ferry, Arkansas.

Several letters offer glimpses into the everyday experience of soldiers in the U.S.C.T. In his report for June 1864, William Elgin, chaplain of the 14th regiment, U.S.C.T., wrote that the men had spent the month building fortifications near Chattanooga. The regiment lost twenty men to disease during the month, but Elgin still reported that the men "at all times are cheerful, kind, and respectful, and evince an earnest devotion to soldierly duties." He also stated that the men had a strong interest in education and frequently attended religious services. Other chaplains also reported that soldiers used their military service as a chance to improve their education. On August 1, 1864, George LaVere, chaplain of the 20th regiment U.S.C.T., wrote: "Our regiment has enjoyed the quiet of camp life ... by the consent and assistance of Col. Mather (commanding) we have been able to open a school for the instruction of those of the regiment who are enabled to read write and cipher. And I am happy to report that there is manifested a great [sincerety?] to learn" (Reel 2, Frame 0700).

The second group of letters in the collection consists of correspondence from civilians. These letters are primarily from relatives—mothers, wives, fathers, sisters, brothers—trying to find out about their loved ones. In most cases, the soldiers died or were killed or missing in action. Over 2,000 names of correspondents are listed alphabetically in the Principal Correspondents Index of this guide. As a result, this collection is an excellent source for genealogical research on African Americans during the Civil War.

LexisNexis has microfilmed other collections that provide information on the Civil War. These include Civil War Battles and Campaigns; Civil War Unit Histories: Regimental Histories and Personal Narratives; Papers of Union Staff Officers, 1861–1865; and Confederate Military Manuscripts. Other records pertaining to African Americans during this period are Race, Slavery, and Free Blacks and Records of Ante-Bellum Southern Plantations from the Revolution through the Civil War.

SOURCE NOTE

The materials in this microform publication are from Record Group 94, Records of the Adjutant General's Office, Colored Troops Division, 1863–1889, "Letters Received relating to Recruiting, 1863–1868," in the possession of the National Archives, Washington, D.C.

EDITORIAL NOTE

The War Department organized the Colored Troops Division in May of 1863. The functions of the division included all matter pertaining to the recruitment, organization, and service of colored troops and officers. This microform collection consists of only the documents for the period 1863–1865 of the series entitled "Letters Received relating to Recruiting, 1863–1868."

The "Letters Received relating to Recruiting, 1863–1868" consist of letters, reports, and related papers in "jackets." These "jacketed" documents are tri-folded with an outer cover or "jacket" with identifying information. These "jacketed" documents are arranged chronologically by year, then by initial letter of the soldier's surname, and then numerically by registration number. LexisNexis has microfilmed all documents, including the jacket, for each year for the period 1863–1865. A very small number of documents may have legibility problems due to poor storage conditions, age, quality of paper, and/or usage. LexisNexis will microfilm the remaining years, 1866–1868, of this series in Part 2 of Records of U.S. Colored Troops.

REEL INDEX

Following is a listing of the Records of U.S. Colored Troops, Part 1: Letters Related to Recruitment of African Americans, 1863–1865. The four-digit number on the far left is the frame number at which a new alphabetical group of documents begins. Substantive issues are highlighted under the heading Major Topics, as are prominent correspondents under the heading Principal Correspondents. Topics and correspondents are listed in the order in which they appear on the film, and each one is listed only once per folder. The word “colored” has been used throughout this guide to reflect the usage at the time. “U.S. Colored Troops” has been abbreviated as “U.S.C.T.”

PRINCIPAL CORRESPONDENTS INDEX

The following index is a guide to the major correspondents in this microform publication. The first number after each entry refers to the reel, while the four-digit number following the colon refers to the frame number at which a particular file containing correspondence by the person begins. Hence, 1: 0056 refers to the file that begins at Frame 0056 of Reel 1. By referring to the Reel Index, which constitutes the initial section of this guide, the researcher will find the file title and list of Major Topics and Principal Correspondents, listed in the order in which they appear on the film.

SUBJECT INDEX

The following index is a guide to the major topics in this microfilm publication. The first number after an entry refers to the reel, while the four-digit number following the colon refers to the frame number at which the file folder containing the subject begins. Hence, 3: 0513 directs the researcher to the folder that begins at Frame 0513 of Reel 3. By referring to the Reel Index, which constitutes the initial section of this guide, the researcher will find the folder title, inclusive dates, and a list of Major Topics and Principal Correspondents, listed in the order in which they appear on the film.
