PVC Film PeelCoat Disclaimer:

Our products are protected with a strippable PVC Film to preserve the product during manufacturing and shipping. It is a glue-based product. Please follow these instructions to help alleviate any problems with the film adhesion and removal:

Store material with film in a dry place away from sunlight and moisture. If material is stored outside, please take necessary precautions. Store materials on a slope to help remove any moisture and cover material to keep dry. If materials become wet, please wait until all materials are dry to remove film. This will keep the glue from sticking to the metal surface. PVC film is best removed at 40-90 degrees fahrenheit.

The PVC film must be completely removed prior to the installation of the product or within 5 days of receiving the product.

Failure to comply with this "Notice" may result in deterioration of the film and may also cause excessive glue residue to remain on the product. This will cause the PVC film to be unremovable and void all warranties.
