Labor and Freedom

Labor and Freedom by Eugene V. Debs

"While there is a lower class I am in it; While there is a criminal class I am of it; While there is a soul in prison I am not free."

This collection of essays charts the thought and character of Eugene V. Debs. Debs was an influential early American labor leader, a founding member of the Industrial Workers of the World (IWW), and a Presidential candidate for the Socialist Party of America. In these essays, Debs employs his characteristically fiery rhetoric in a spirited defense of worker's rights, organized labor, women's suffrage, class solidarity, and the principles of economic socialism.
