The Southern Touch

From the screened porch to the kitchen, classic home accents with a modern twist

LANTERN Mounted by the front door, Bevolo's Governor lantern provides a handsome welcome with clean lines. Made in the heart of New Orleans' French Quarter since 1945, the distinctive copper fixtures are each handcrafted—no shortcuts. And though it's hard to beat the charm of a flickering gas flame, the lanterns can be outfitted for electricity, too ($675; bevolo.com).
