Learn to tell the time 4 is a fantastic way to help students and small children learn to read an analog clock.

Featuring the Bounce Learning Kids custom designed clock-face, these learn to tell the time decks are easy to read, intuitive and instructive. Color-coding provides a visual cue to help understand the elements of the clock and how to read it correctly.

This deck features the following times:

- 5 to & 5 past
- 10 to & 10 past
- 20 to & 20 past
- 25 to & 25 past

Each card depicts a clock face with a specific time indicated. Adjacent are 6 different times to choose from. Simply select the correct time from the list of six that matches what's on the clock face. Only 1 of the 6 choices matches with the time shown on the clock.

This deck comes with 8 instruction cards which carefully and clearly explain how to correctly read the time on an analog clock. Thereafter, there are 32 randomised question cards broken down as follows:

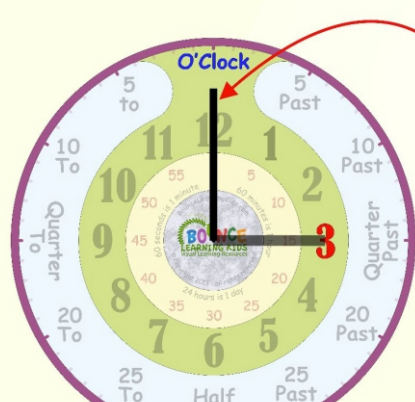

- 8 question cards depicting 5 to something
- 8 question cards depicting 5 past something
- 8 question cards depicting 10 to something
- 8 question cards depicting 10 past something
- 8 question cards depicting 20 to something
- 8 question cards depicting 20 past something
- 8 question cards depicting 25 to something
- 8 question cards depicting 25 past something

Let's learn to tell the time.

The little hand tells you what that something is.

So the time on this clock is 3 o'clock

The little hand tells you what that something is.

It's half way between 4 & 5, so the time on this clock is half past 4

For everything else, say what the big hand points to first, then what the little hand is closest to.

So the time on this clock is quarter past 7
