EXPERIENCE

IQVIA | Mar 2020 - Present

A Fortune 500 company that administers clinical trials for major healthcare and pharmaceutical organizations. As a designer at IQVIA, I am working to create usable products for the teams that run the trials and the patients who participate in them.

Senior UI/UX Designer

Mar 2020 – present

Leading the transition of the Apollo Design System from Sketch to Figma through component refactoring, user testing, training and implementation. Admin for Figma instance of 70+ designers. Spearheaded design on several enterprise and SaaS products for diverse sets of users by working with Stakeholders, Engineers and Agile Product Teams.

The Boeing Company | Aug 2015 - Mar 2020

One of the world's leading aerospace manufacturing companies. I worked on several products in my time here from supporting manufacturing of the planes to defining architecture of our IT systems.

Product Designer

Boeing Wiring Systems & Data Analytics | Jan 2019 - Mar 2020

Developed UX best practices for the balanced team through user-centered design leading with user research and balancing the technical feasibility. Prototyped, user tested and implemented features for multiple applications. Established style guides for applications while contributing to the creation of a new design system for the entire organization.

Design Lead

Early Career Programs | Jan 2019 - Jan 2020

Held this position in addition to my responsibilities as a Product Designer. Redesigned the program's newsletter based on user research and increased its effectiveness. Rebranded the Early Career Programs by creating logos and establishing a consistent look and feel for the first time across 5 programs.

Product Manager

Digital Transformation Environment | Jan 2018 - Jan 2019

Educated the IT organization on product design and Agile principles. Developed personas to inform targeted stakeholders and customers. Personas were used by service managers and business team to inform high-level business priorities and desired outcomes.

Database Administrator

Database Group | Aug 2015 - Jan 2018

Worked with product teams to implement and maintain efficient SQL Server databases.
