Enable + IDEA Connector - A Single Source of Data Truth

The IDEA Connector allows trading partners in the electrical industry to securely share accurate and harmonized product data from a single source. With IDEA Connector and Enable, manufacturers and distributors can now build and represent their rebate agreements digitally leveraging the rich source of product information already present in IDEA Connector.

By using the Enable and IDEA Connector integration, you can:

- Create, track and execute rebate agreements instantly with no data migration
- Drive efficiency with access to manufacturer-authorized product data within the Enable platform
- Ensure clean and accurate rebate management and execution by eliminating data disparity

“The collaborative nature of the Enable platform enables us to engage in productive conversations with our suppliers. We have been able to generate more revenue and explore additional income opportunities through increased volume.”
