PRINSIP-PRINSIP ASAS

Pergerakan Palang Merah dan Bulan Sabit Merah

Tujuh Prinsip Asas Pergerakan Palang Merah dan Bulan Sabit Merah berikut telah diterima secara rasmi pada Persidangan Antarabangsa Palang Merah dan Bulan Sabit Merah ke-20 yang telah diadakan di Vienna pada tahun 1965 dan telah dimasukkan dalam Perlembagaan Pergerakan:

KEMANUSIAAN HUMANITY

Pergerakan Palang Merah Dan Bulan Sabit Merah dilahirkan dengan hasrat untuk memberikan pertolongan tanpa diskriminasi kepada mereka yang cedera di medan pertempuran dan berusaha untuk mencegah dan meringankan kesengsaraan dimana jua ia wujud. Tujuannya adalah untuk melindungi nyawa dan kesihatan serta hormat-menghormati sesama manusia. Ia memupuk kesefahaman, persahabatan, kerjasama, yang berkekalan di kalangan manusia.

The International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement, born of a desire to bring assistance without discrimination to the wounded on the battlefield, endeavours, in its international and national capacity, to prevent and alleviate human suffering wherever it may be found. Its purpose is to protect life and health and to ensure respect for the human being. It promotes mutual understanding, friendship, cooperation and lasting peace amongst all peoples.

KESAKSAMAAN IMPARTIALITY

Tidak membezakan bangsa, kaum, agama, darjat atau fahaman politik dalam kegiatannya. Tujuan asasnya ialah meringankan kesengsaraan individu dan memberi keutamaan kepada kes-kes kecemasan yang paling serius.

It makes no discrimination as to nationality, race, religious beliefs, class or political opinions. It endeavours to relieve the suffering of individuals, being guided solely by their needs, and to give priority to the most urgent cases of distress.

KEBERKECUALIAN NEUTRALITY

Untuk terus mendapat kepercayaan orang ramai terhadapnya, Persatuan tidak menyebelahi mana-mana pihak yang bermusuhan dan tidak menyertai pertikaian yang bercorak politik, perkauman, agama, dan ideologi.

In order to continue to enjoy the confidence of all, the Movement may not take sides in hostilities or engage at any time in controversies of a political, racial, religious or ideological nature.

FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES of the Red Cross and the Red Crescent Movement

The following Seven Fundamental Principles of the Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement was proclaimed at the 20th International Conference of the Red Cross and Red Crescent held in Vienna in 1965 and has been included in the Statutes of the Movement:

KEBEBASAN INDEPENDENCE

Walaupun berupa badan tambahan kepada pihak yang berkuasa awam dan tertakluk kepada undang-undang Negara, Persatuan tetap menjaga autonominya supaya ia boleh bertindak mengikut prinsip pergerakan.

The Movement is independent. The National Societies, while auxiliaries in the humanitarian services of their governments and subject to the laws of their respective countries, must always maintain their autonomy so that they may be able at all times to act in accordance with the principles of the Movement.

KHIDMAT SUKARELA VOLUNTERY SERVICE

Ia merupakan badan sukarela yang tidak didorong oleh sebarang tujuan mencari untung.

It is a voluntary relief movement not prompted in any manner by desire for gain.

KETUNGGALAN UNITY

Hanya ada satu Persatuan Palang Merah atau Bulan Sabit Merah dalam sesebuah Negara. Persatuan ini hendaklah terbuka kepada semua pihak dan aktivitinya meliputi seluruh Negara.

There can be only one Red Cross or one Red Crescent Society in any one country. It must be open to all. It must carry on its humanitarian work throughout its territory.

KESEJAGATAN UNIVERSALITY

Gerakan Palang Merah dan Bulan Sabit Merah Antarabangsa meliputi seluruh dunia, dimana semua Persatuan mempunyai taraf dan tanggungjawab yang sama serta saling bantu-membantu diantara satu sama lain.

The International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement, in which all Societies have equal status and share equal responsibilities and duties in helping each other, is worldwide.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with approved standards on auditing in Malaysia and International Standards on Auditing. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors’ Responsibility for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Independence and Other Ethical Responsibilities

We are independent of the Company in accordance with the By—Laws (on professional Ethics, Conduct and Practice) of the Malaysian Institute of Accountants (“By-Laws”) and the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants’ Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (“IESBA Code”), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the By-Laws and the IESBA Code.

Report on the Financial Statements (cont’d)

Responsibilities of the National Executive Board Members for the Financial Statements

The National Executive Board Members of the Society are responsible for the preparation of financial statements of the Society that give a true and fair view in accordance with Malaysian Financial Reporting Standards, International Financial Reporting Standard and the rules and regulations of the Society. The National Executive Board Members are also responsible for such internal control as the National Executive Board Members determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements of the Society that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements of the Society, the National Executive Board Members are responsible for assessing the Society’s ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the National Executive Board Members either intend to liquidate the Society or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditors’ Responsibilities for the Audit of Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements of the Society as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors’ report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with approved standards on auditing in Malaysia and International Standards on Auditing will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with approved standards on auditing in Malaysia and International Standards on Auditing, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements of the Society, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Society's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the National Executive Board Members.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the National Executive Board Members' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Society's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the financial statements of the Society or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Society to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements of the Society, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with the National Executive Board Members regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Other Matters

This report is made solely to the National Council of the Society, as a body, in accordance with the rules and regulations of the MRCS in Malaysia and for no other purpose. We do not assume any responsibility to any other person for the content of this report.

Classification determines how financial assets and financial liabilities are accounted for in financial statements and, in particular, how they are measured on an ongoing basis. The Standard introduces an approach for classification of financial assets which is driven by cash flow characteristics and the business model in which an asset is held. The new model also results in a single impairment model being applied to all financial instruments, thereby removing a source of complexity associated with previous accounting requirements.

If financial asset is simple debt instrument and the objective of the entity's business model within which it is held is to collect its contractual cash flows, the financial asset is measured at amortised cost. In contrast, if that asset is held in a business model the objective of which is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets, then the financial asset is measured at a fair value in the balance sheet, and amortised cost information is provided through profit or loss.

If the business model is neither of this, then fair value information is increasingly important, so it is provided both in the profit or loss and in the balance sheet.

The Standard introduces a new, expected-loss impairment model that will require more timely recognition of expected credit losses. Specifically, it requires entities to account for expected credit losses from when financial instruments are first recognised and to recognise full lifetime expected losses on a more timely basis. The model requires an entity to recognise expected credit losses at all times and to update the amount of expected credit losses recognised at each reporting date to reflect changes in the credit risk of financial instruments. This model is forward-looking and it eliminates the threshold for the recognition of expected credit losses, so that it is no longer necessary for a trigger event to have occurred before credit losses are recognised.

2. Basis of preparation (cont'd)

a) Statement of compliance (cont'd)

In addition, the Standard introduces a substantially-reformed model for hedge accounting, with enhanced disclosures about risk management activity. The new model represents a significant overhaul of hedge accounting that aligns the accounting treatment with risk management activities, enabling entities to better reflect these activities in their financial statements. As a result of these changes, users of the financial statements will be provided with better information about risk management and the effect of hedge accounting on the financial statements.

Effective date yet to be determined by the Malaysian Accounting Standards Board

Amendments to MFRS 10 Consolidated Financial Statements and MFRS 128 Investments in Associates and Joint Ventures

The Amendments address an acknowledge inconsistency between the requirements in MFRS 10 and those in MFRS 128, in dealing with the sale or contribution of assets between an investor and its associate or joint venture. The main consequence of the Amendments is that a full gain or loss is recognised when a transaction involves a business (whether it is housed in a subsidiary or not), as defined in MFRS 3. A partial gain or loss is recognised when a transaction involves assets that do not constitute a business, even if these assets are housed in a subsidiary.

The Society is in the process of assessing the impact of MFRS 9 and MFRS 15 in the year of initial application. Aside from the above mentioned, the adoption of the accounting standards and amendments to accounting standards are not expected to have any significant impact to the financial statements of the Society.

Accounting standards and amendments to accounting standards that are not relevant and not yet effective for the Society are as follows:

- Amendments to MFRS 10, MFRS 12 and MFRS 128, Investment

2. Basis of preparation (cont'd)

b) Basis of measurement

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis other than as disclosed in Note 3.

c) Functional and presentation currency

The financial statements of the Company are presented in Ringgit Malaysia ("RM"), which is the Company's functional currency.

d) Used of estimates and judgments

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with MFRSs requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an on-going basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimates are revised and in any future periods affected. There are no significant areas of estimation uncertainty and critical judgements in applying accounting policies that have significant affect on the amounts recognised in the financial statements.

3. Summary of significant accounting policies

The accounting policies set out below have been applied consistently to the periods presented in these financial statements.

a) Basis of accounting

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention (unless otherwise indicated in the individual accounting policies).

3. Summary of significant accounting policies (cont'd)

b) Property, plant and equipment and depreciation

i. Recognition and measurement

Items in property, plant and equipment are measured at cost less any accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses.

Cost includes expenditures that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset and any other costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to working condition for its intended use, and the costs of dismantling and removing the items and restoring the site on which they are located.

The cost of self-constructed assets also includes the cost of materials and direct labour. Cost also may include transfers from equity of any gain or loss on qualifying hedges of foreign currency purchases of property, plant and equipment.

Purchased software that is integral to the functionality of the related equipment is capitalised as part of that equipment.

The gain or loss on disposal of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined by comparing the proceeds from disposal with the carrying amount of plant and equipment and is recognised net within "other income" or "other expenses" respectively in profit or loss.

ii. Subsequent Costs

The cost of replacing a component of an item of property, plant and equipment is recognised in the carrying amount of the item if it is probable that the future economic benefits embodied within the component will flow to the society and its cost can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced component is derecognized to profit or loss. The costs of the day-to-day servicing of property, plant and equipment are recognised in profit or loss as incurred.

iii. Depreciation

Depreciation is based on the cost of an asset less its residual value. Significant components of individual assets are assessed, and if a component has a useful life that is different from remainder of that asset, then that component are depreciated separately.

c) Financial assets

i. Classification

The Society classifies its financial assets based on the purpose for which the financial assets were acquired at initial recognition in the following categories:

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Fair value through profit or loss category comprises financial assets that are held for trading, including derivatives (except for a derivative that is a financial guarantee contract or a designated and effective hedging instrument) or financial assets that are specifically designated into this category upon initial recognition.

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market.

They are included in current assets, except for maturities greater than 12 months after the end of the reporting period. These are classified as noncurrent assets.

3. Summary of significant accounting policies (cont'd)

c) Financial assets (cont'd)

i. Classification (cont'd)

Held-to-maturity financial assets

Held-to-maturity financial assets are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturities that the Society's management has the positive intention and ability to hold to maturity.

Held-to-maturity financial assets are included in non-current assets, except for those with maturities less than 12 months from the end of the reporting period, which are classified as current assets.

Available-for-sale financial assets

Available-for-sale financial assets are non-derivatives that are either designated in this category or not classified in any of the other categories.

They are included in non-current assets unless the investment matures or management intends to dispose of it within 12 months of the end of the reporting period.

ii. Recognition and initial measurement

Regular purchases and sales of financial assets are recognised on the trade-date, the date on which the Society commits to purchase or sell the asset.

Financial assets are initially recognised at fair value plus transaction costs for all financial assets not carried at fair value through profit or loss. Financial assets carried at fair value through profit or loss are initially recognised at fair value, and transaction costs are expensed in profit or loss.

iii. Subsequent measurement

Gains and losses

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss and available-for-sale financial assets are subsequently carried at fair value. Loans and receivables and held-to-maturity financial assets are subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

3. Summary of significant accounting policies (cont'd)

c) Financial assets (cont'd)

iii. Subsequent measurement (cont'd)

Gains and losses (cont'd)

Changes in the fair values of financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, including the effects of currency translation, interest and dividend income are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which the changes arise.

Changes in the fair value of available-for-sale financial assets are recognised in other comprehensive income. Impairment losses and exchange differences on monetary assets are recognised in profit or loss, whereas exchange differences on non-monetary assets are recognised in other comprehensive income as part of fair value change.

Interest and dividend income on available-for-sale financial assets are recognised separately in profit or loss. Interest on available-for-sale debt securities calculated using the effective interest method is recognised in profit or loss. Dividend income on available-for-sale equity instruments are recognised in profit or loss when the Society's right to receive payments is established.

Impairment of financial assets

A financial asset is considered to be impaired if objective evidence indicates that one or more events have had a negative effect on the estimated future cash flows of that asset. For an equity instrument, a significant or prolonged decline in fair value below its cost is also considered objective evidence of impairment.

An impairment loss in respect of loans and receivables and held-to-maturity investments is recognised in profit or loss and is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows discounted at the asset's original effective interest rate. The carrying amount of the asset is reduced through the use of an allowance account.

3. Summary of significant accounting policies (cont'd)

iii. Subsequent measurement (cont'd)

An impairment loss in respect of available-for-sale financial assets is recognised in profit or loss and is measured as the difference between the asset's acquisition cost (net of any principal repayment and amortization) and the asset's current fair value, less any impairment loss previously recognised. Where a decline in the fair value of an available-for-sale financial asset has been recognised in other comprehensive income, the cumulative loss in other comprehensive income is reclassified from equity to profit or loss.

An impairment loss in respect of unquoted equity instrument that is carried at cost is recognised in profit or loss and is measured as the difference between the financial asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows discounted at the current market rate of return for a similar financial asset.

Impairment losses recognised in profit or loss for an investment in an equity instrument classified as available for sale is not reversed through profit or loss.

If, in a subsequent period, the fair value of a financial asset measured at amortised cost and the increase can be objectively related to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognised in profit or loss, the impairment loss reversed, to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed what the carrying amount would have been had the impairment not been recognised at the date the impairment is reversed. The amount of the reversal is recognised in profit or loss.

iv. De-recognition

Financial assets are de-recognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the investments have expired or have been transferred and the Society has transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership.

When available-for-sale financial assets are sold, the accumulated fair value adjustments recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to profit or loss.

3. Summary of significant accounting policies (cont'd)

d) Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are initially recognised at fair value net of transaction costs for all financial liabilities not carried at fair value through profit or loss. Financial liabilities carried at fair value through profit or losses are initially recognised at fair value, and transaction costs are expensed in profit or loss.

Fair value through profit or loss category comprises financial liabilities that are derivatives (except for a derivative that is financial guarantee or a designated and effective hedging instrument) or financial liabilities that are specifically designated into this category upon initial recognition. All financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method other than those categorised as fair value through profit or loss.

The Company's contributions to statutory pension funds are charged to profit or loss in the financial year to which they relate. Prepaid contributions are recognised as an asset to the extent that a cash refund or a reduction in future payments is available.

iii. Defined benefits plans

As required by Law, companies in Malaysia make contributions to the Employees Provident Fund.

j) Income tax

Malaysian Red Crescent Society is exempted from income tax under the Income Tax Act, 1967.

k) Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognised when the amount of the revenue can be measured reliably.

- i. Donations income is accounted for as and when received.
- ii. Interest income is recognised on a time proportion basis that reflects the effective yield of assets.
- iii. Rental income from investment property is recognised in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease. Lease incentives granted are recognised as an integral part of the total rental income, over the term of the lease. Rental income from sub-leased property is recognised as other income.

3. Summary of significant accounting policies (cont'd)

g) Government grants

Government grants are recognised upon receipt or when there is reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and all attaching conditions will be complied with.

h) Inventories

Inventories are measured at the lower of cost and estimated selling price less costs to complete and sell.

The costs of inventories is calculated using the weighted average method, and excludes expenditure incurred in acquiring the inventories, production or conversion costs and other costs incurred in bringing them to their existing location and condition.

At each reporting date, the company whether any inventories are impaired by comparing the carrying amount of each item of inventory of similar items with its selling price less costs to complete and sell. If an item of inventory of similar items is impaired.

The company reduces the carrying amount of the inventory of similar items to its selling price less costs to complete and sell. That reduction is an impairment loss it is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

If it is impracticable to determine the selling price less costs to complete and sell for inventories item by item, items of inventory relating to the same product line that have similar purpose or end uses and are produced and marketed in the same geographical area are grouped together for the purpose of assessing impairment of the inventory.

i) Employee benefits

i. Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefit obligations in respect of salaries, annual bonuses, paid annual leave and sick leave are measured on an undiscounted basis and are expensed as the related service is provided.

A liability is recognised for the amount expected to be paid under short-term cash bonus or profit-sharing plans if the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided

14. Taxation

No provision for taxation has been made for the financial year as the MRCS has been granted tax exempt status under the Income Tax Act, 1967.

15. Financial risk management objectives and policies

The Society's financial risk management policy seeks to ensure that adequate financial resources are available for the development of the Society's businesses whilst managing its interest rate, liquidity/funding and credit risks. The Society operates within clearly defined guidelines that are approved by the Board and the Society's policy is not to engage in speculative transactions.

a) Interest rate risk

Cash flow interest rate risk is the risk that the future cash flow of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. Fair value interest rate risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in market interest rates.

As the Society has no significant interest-bearing financial assets, the Society's income and operating cash flows are substantially independent of changes in market interest rates. The Society's interest-bearing financial assets are mainly short term in nature and have been mostly placed in fixed deposits.

b) Liquidity and cash flow risk

The Society maintains a certain level of cash and cash convertible investments to meet its working capital requirements.

The table below summaries the maturity profile of the Society's financial liabilities as the reporting date based on the contractual undiscounted repayment obligations:

2019	Carrying Amounts RM	Total Contractual Cash flows RM	On demand or within one year RM
Financial liabilities	124,997	124,997	124,997

c) Credit risk

Credit risk, or the risk of counterparties defaulting, is controlled by the application of credit approvals, limits and monitoring procedures. Credit risk is minimised and monitored via strictly limiting the Society's associations to business partners with high creditworthiness.

Trade receivables are monitored on an ongoing basis via Society management reporting procedures. The Society does not have any significant exposure to any individual customer or counterparty. The Society does not have any major concentration of credit risk related to any financial instruments.

d) Fair values

The carrying amounts of cash and cash equivalents and other receivables and other payables approximate fair values due to the relatively short term nature of these financial instruments.

The aggregate fair value of the other financial assets and liabilities carried on the statement of financial position approximates its carrying value and the Society does not anticipate the carrying amounts recorded at the reporting date to be significantly different from the values that would eventually be settled.

Fair value hierarchy

The Society uses the following hierarchy for determining and disclosing the fair value of financial instruments by valuation technique.

Level 1: Quoted (unadjusted) prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2: Other techniques for which all inputs which have a significant effect on the recorded fair value are observable, either directly or indirectly

Level 3: Technique which use inputs that have a significant effect on the recorded fair value that are not based on observable market data.

16. Capital management

The Society relies on both the internally generated funds and donations as working capital to sustain its operations.

COMPONENTS OF THE MOVEMENT

The International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement is made up of the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC), the the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (IFRC) and the National Societies.

ICRC

The International Committee of the Red Cross is an impartial, neutral and independent organisation whose exclusively humanitarian mission is to protect the lives and dignity of victims of armed conflict and other situations of violence and to provide them with assistance. The ICRC also endeavours to prevent suffering by promoting and strengthening humanitarian law and universal humanitarian principles. Established in 1863, the ICRC is at the origin of the Geneva Convention and the International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement. It directs and coordinates the international activities conducted by the Movement in armed conflict and other situations of violence.

International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies

The International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (IFRC) is the world's largest volunteer-based humanitarian network, reaching 160 million people each year through its 192 member National Societies. Together, the IFRC acts before, during and after disasters and health emergencies to meet the needs and improve the lives of vulnerable people. It does so with impartiality as to nationality, race, gender, religious beliefs, class and political opinions. Guided by Strategy 2020 – a collective plan of action to tackle the major humanitarian and development challenges of this decade – the IFRC is committed to 'saving lives and changing minds'.

National Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies embody the work and principles of the International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement in more than 192 countries. National Societies act as auxiliaries to the public authorities of their own countries in the humanitarian field and provide a range of services including disaster relief, health and social programmes. During wartime, National Societies assist the affected civilian population and support the army medical services where appropriate.

The International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement is guided by seven Fundamental Principles:

humanity, impartiality, neutrality, independence, voluntary service, unity and universality.

All Red Cross and Red Crescent activities have one central purpose to help without discrimination those who suffer and thus contribute to peace in the world

SEJARAH LAMBANG HISTORY OF THE EMBLEM

1863

An International Conference met in Geneva to try and find means of remedying the ineffectiveness of army medical services in the field. It adopted a red cross on a white ground as the distinctive sign for relief societies for wounded soldiers - the future National Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies.

1864

The first-ever Geneva Convention was adopted: the red cross on a white ground was officially recognized as the distinctive sign of the medical services of armed forces.

RED CRESCENT

1876

During the Russo-Turkish war, fought in the Balkans, the Ottoman Empire decided to use a red crescent on a white ground in place of the red cross. Egypt also opted for the red crescent and Persia subsequently chose a red lion and sun on a white ground. These States made reservations to the Conventions, and their exceptional signs were then written into the 1929 Conventions.

1949

Article 38 of the First Geneva Convention of 1949 confirmed the emblems of the red cross, the red crescent and the red lion and sun on a white ground as the protective signs for army medical services. It thus excluded the use of any exceptional sign other than the red crescent and the red lion and sun.

RED LION AND SUN

1980

The Islamic Republic of Iran decided to give up the red lion and sun, to use the red crescent in its place.

2005

The International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement announced the additional emblem, known as the Red Crystal, alongside the red cross and red crescent, recognized in the Geneva Convention. The Red Crystal emblem, appears as a red frame in the shape of a square on edge, on a white background, provides a comprehensive and lasting solution to the emblem question, and is free from any religious, political or other connotation.

RED CRYSTAL

2007 (14 JAN)

The Third Additional Protocol to the 1949 Geneva Conventions enters into force. The red crystal has the same status under international law as the red cross and red crescent emblems.

2009 (30 JUN)

There are 152 national Red Cross societies and 33 national Red Crescent societies in the world. One more national society adopting the Red Crystal emblem was accepted.

2015 (DECEMBER)

With the recognition of Tuvalu Red Cross in December 2015, there are currently 155 national Red Cross, 34 national Red Crescent and one national Red Crystal societies worldwide, making the total number of National Societies to 192.
