

Celebrating 100 years of the 19th Amendment

Lucretia Mott
(1793 - 1880)

"The world has never yet seen a truly great and virtuous nation because, in the degradation of women, the very fountains of life are poisoned at their source."

THE SUFFRAGE PROJECT

19

The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.
