

What Makes an Orchid an Orchid?

Bletia purpurea

Directions

- Now that you've learned about what makes up an orchid flower, it's time to make your own!
- Can you identify each section of the orchid? What is number 1 called? What about number 2? Section 3 has three main components, can you name each one?
- Now that you've identified each part, color your orchid.
- After coloring, cut out each section. Remember what each section is numbered.
- Assemble your orchid by gluing section 2 to section 1 and section 3 on top of section 2. Your finished project should look similar to Figure 1.
