

Climate Intervention

This project will use climate models to investigate new approaches to mitigate global warming through Solar Radiation Management. The project seeks to develop a better understanding of the radiative, dynamical, hydrological, and chemical response of the climate system to the injection of aerosols in the upper stratosphere. Research will consider both the possible benefits as well as potential unintended consequences of the stratospheric aerosol injection strategy.

