ABOUT GARDEN STATE TILE

About Garden State Tile

Garden State Tile first opened its doors in New Jersey in 1957. Since then, we have grown into one of the most sought-after tile and stone distributors in the nation. Our vast array of product offerings paired with our renowned customer service has made Garden State Tile the premier destination for designers, architects, builders, contractors, homeowners and beyond.

Both trade professionals and home owners alike will benefit from working with Garden State Tile. Our 13 luxury design showrooms in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, South Carolina and Georgia feature the very best of today's tile, stone, glass and countertop offerings. Our knowledgeable design consultants will manage every aspect of your purchase from selection to delivery. Showrooms are also available to design professionals who are welcome to reserve our private meeting rooms with their clients for one-on-one consultations.

For the architectural and design community, Garden State Tile's team of of acclaimed account managers will enhance your client's projects while meeting their budget and your schedule. Our collections can be found in some of the most architecturally celebrated commercial spaces in the United States. From hotels to restaurants, airports to hospitals, universities, office buildings and beyond - there is no challenge too big or too small for Garden State Tile.

The Process & The People

Whether it be the globally acclaimed factories of Italy, the traditional manufacturing facilities of Spain or the cutting edge plants in the USA, Garden State Tile visits the people and the places around the globe who produce our collections. Our hands-on selection process ensures that only the very best quality products are specified for your home or project.

Just as important as the products are the people who stand behind them. Garden State Tile has been family owned and operated since 1957, and these family values are present in all that we concierge service. See why the designers, architects, builders, contractors, homeowners and the companies both large and small who know us and have worked with us, return again and again to Garden State Tile.
