GLOVE LADDER

The Handgards Glove Ladder is a model to our key glove categories, divided into three sections: good, better, and best. We introduce our disposable gloves in the best way to help customers match their needs with our offering. Our disposable gloves are classified by the materials they are made of and the tasks they are designed for.

From the Prep Table To the Finished Plate

Handgards Gloves are there to protect you.

1 - BACK OF THE HOUSE

With numerous options in hand protection today, it is recommended that back-of-the-house personnel wear the right gloves for the right task when preparing and handling food. Wearing gloves minimizes cuts, burns, and, most importantly, prevent food cross-contamination that leads to foodborne illnesses.

3 - CLEANING/SANITIZING PICK-UP

Disinfecting hard surfaces is a reliable way to help lower the risk of spreading germs when touched and wearing gloves is the most reliable way to protect the skin from irritating chemicals. Wearing our gloves is important when cleaning and disinfecting tables, counters, kitchens, and high touch surfaces. Having a clean and sanitized environment during this new normality is crucial for restaurant operators as many customers find hygiene a top priority when eating out.

2 - FRONT OF THE HOUSE

Handgards gloves are designed to provide protection and prevent cross-contamination during tasks such as handling menus, taking orders/payments, prepping, and running food out to the customers. We give customers and employees the protection they deserve and the tranquility they need to eat and work in a safe environment.

4 - PICK-UP/TO GO ORDERS

Food safety is our top priority. Unsafe food creates a vicious cycle of illnesses that affects everyone. We recommend wearing gloves for tasks such as packing to-go foods and drinks, distributing orders via curbside pick-up/drive-thru, and when touching registers, counters, and cash/cards payments.
