Flatiron School 2022 Jobs Report

About This Year's Report

As a leader in the tech industry, Flatiron School believes that education is the best investment you can make in your future.

Our courses provide an immersive, outcomes-driven curriculum for students looking to launch a career in Software Engineering, Data Science, Cybersecurity, or Product Design. We also offer targeted education solutions for companies. At the time of publication of this report, our Alumni Community includes over 15,000 learners who have trusted us to guide their acquisition of new skills.

Back in 2014, we released our first independently examined jobs report, pioneering the concept of jobs reporting in the tech education industry and setting a standard of transparency in educational results. As we have grown, we have remained committed to these strict standards, releasing examined annual jobs reports concerning graduates of our career-focused programs.

This report covers 3,196 students across our Full-Time and Part-Time career-focused programs. 1,735 of these students were job-seeking graduates; their job search journey is covered in this report.

Making a career change takes commitment, focus, and courage, and we couldn't be prouder of each student who puts in the work to see that change through. They inspire us every day.

Changes in Flatiron School's Offerings and Reporting Methodology Since the 2021 Jobs Report

In our tenth year of tech education, Flatiron School continued to adapt to best serve our students. We introduced our Live and Flex programs, giving students who choose to learn online a clear option between full-time and part-time learning. This change and updates to our reporting methodology are highlighted below.

Live and Flex Programs

In June 2021, we launched our Live and Flex programs online. The full-time Live program is a structured fast-track schedule with live lectures, programming sessions with the rest of the cohort, and lab time with instructional staff. The part-time Flex program is, as the name suggests, flexible for students who prefer to set their own schedule. Work is done independently with recorded lectures, optional study groups, accountability deadlines, and instructor check-ins.

Changes to Reporting Methodology

For the 2022 Jobs Report, we have revised three of our reporting policies.

First, in alignment with the introduction of our Live and Flex programs, this report is now presented as the outcomes of our Full-Time and Part-Time programs. When Live and Flex were launched, we still had students actively progressing through our former Online program. Outcomes for Live, Campus, and our former Online Full-Time cohorts have been reported together as our Full-Time learning programs. Outcomes for Flex, our former Online Part-Time cohorts, and our former Online Self-Paced cohorts have been reported together as our Part-Time learning programs.

Second, we have made an addition to the list of reasons why graduates may be defined as “not job-seeking.” We are proud to include veterans and members of the military in our student population. After graduation, some of them use their new technical skills to advance their military service instead of embarking on a new career. Those graduates will now be categorized as “not job-seeking” due to becoming active in military service and choosing to stop job-seeking.

Third, in our ongoing goal to both recognize and celebrate the varying ways in which our graduates advance their careers as a result of their Flatiron School education, we have updated the list of job functions for accepted offers. Job functions are used to broadly classify the type of work being done in the day-to-day of a position. In response to the evolving areas of the tech industry in which our students accept offers, we have added Solutions Engineering and Data Engineering, and we have expanded UX Design or UI Design to also include Product Design.

We believe that all of these adjustments to our reporting methodology more accurately reflect the outcomes of our students.

Management Statement Regarding Assertions Related to Flatiron School's Program Results and Completions

We, as management of Flatiron School (the "School"), are responsible for the assertions made in preparing the Flatiron School 2022 Jobs Report (the "Report") for students who were scheduled to complete or graduated from a Full-Time or Part-Time program between January 1, 2021, and December 31, 2021. Management's assertions are included within the results of the Report and are based on the criteria as defined.

The Report is intended to provide readers with information about aggregate historical employment statistics and metrics¹ for students who were scheduled to complete or graduated from a Full-Time or Part-Time program between January 1, 2021, and December 31, 2021. We confirm, to the best of our knowledge and belief, the assertions that follow.

¹ This Report does not replace any state-required reporting using state-specific data.

This Year's Student Population

The addressable population² in this Report is a total of 3,196 students with 3,259 enrollments across our Full-Time and Part-Time programs.

The Full-Time student population includes 2,011 students who were scheduled to complete or graduated from a Live, Campus, or Online Full-Time program between January 1, 2021, and December 31, 2021.

- 1,548 total students graduated from a Full-Time program in 2021³.
- 463 total students were scheduled to graduate from a Full-Time program in 2021, but did not graduate from a Full-Time program⁴.
 - 331 withdrew from Flatiron School.
 - 132 withdrew from a Full-Time program and enrolled in a Part-Time program.
 - 77 enrolled in a Part-Time program and had not yet graduated as of December 31, 2021.
 - 20 enrolled in and graduated from a Part-Time program by December 31, 2021. Results for these students are included in the Part-Time graduate population. Because these students had a scheduled graduation date from both programs within the 2021 calendar year, they have been counted in both populations, but their demographic information has only been counted once in the aggregate population.
 - 35 enrolled in a Part-Time program and then later withdrew from Flatiron School. Because these students had a scheduled graduation date from both programs within the 2021 calendar year, they have been counted in the withdrawal numbers for both populations, but their demographic information has only been counted once in the aggregate population.

The Part-Time student population includes 1,248 students who were scheduled to complete an Online Part-Time program or graduated from a Flex, Online Part-Time, or Online Self-Paced program between January 1, 2021, and December 31, 2021.

- 733 total students graduated from a Part-Time program in 2021⁵.
 - 490 students graduated from a Flex or Online Part-Time structured program.
 - 243 students graduated from an Online Self-Paced unstructured program.

² Per management's criteria, the addressable population is defined as all students who graduated or were scheduled to graduate from our consumer programs in calendar year 2021 and excludes individuals who participated in programs through their employer or other enterprise programs.

³ Of 1,548 students who graduated from a Full-Time program, 810 (52%) graduated from the Campus program, 279 (18%) graduated from the new Live program, and 459 (30%) graduated from the former Online Full-Time program.

⁴ Of 463 students who were scheduled to graduate from a Full-Time program in 2021, but did not graduate from a Full-Time program, 122 (26%) were scheduled to graduate from the Campus program, 76 (16%) were scheduled to graduate from the new Live program, and 265 (57%) were scheduled to graduate from the former Online Full-Time program.

⁵ Of 733 students who graduated from a Part-Time program, 1 (0.1%) graduated from the new Flex program, 489 (67%) graduated from the former Online Part-Time program, and 243 (33%) graduated from the former Online Self-Paced program.

Addressable Population

- 515 total students were scheduled to graduate from an Online Part-Time structured program in 2021, but did not graduate from a Part-Time program⁶.
 - 509 withdrew from Flatiron School.
 - 2 enrolled in and withdrew from two different Part-Time courses that were scheduled to graduate within the 2021 calendar year. Because these students had two scheduled graduation dates within the year, they have been counted twice in the withdrawal number for the Part-Time program, but their demographic information has only been counted once in the aggregate population.
 - 6 withdrew from a Part-Time program and enrolled in a Full-Time program.
 - 5 enrolled in and graduated from a Full-Time program by December 31, 2021. Results for these students are included in the Full-Time graduate population. Because these students had a scheduled graduation date from both programs within the 2021 calendar year, they have been counted in both populations, but their demographic information has only been counted once in the aggregate population.
 - 1 enrolled in a Full-Time program and then later withdrew from Flatiron School. Because this student had a scheduled graduation date from both programs within the 2021 calendar year, they have been counted in the withdrawal numbers for both populations, but their demographic information has only been counted once in the aggregate population.

⁶ The first cohorts in the new Flex structured Part-Time program were not scheduled to graduate until 2022.
