Fiction & Non-Fiction

WEIDENFELD & NICOLSON is one of the most prestigious and dynamic literary imprints in British and international publishing, home of groundbreaking, award-winning, thought-provoking books since 1949.

Our passion for extraordinary writing dates back to our two founders, who were responsible for introducing some of the twentieth century's most remarkable voices – Vladimir Nabokov, Isaiah Berlin, Sybille Bedford, Eric Hobsbawm, Edna O'Brien, Jorge Luis Borges and many others – to a wide readership. They launched their publishing house with the idea of building bridges and opening minds through exceptional works of literature: we have been carrying on their legacy ever since.

We publish history, memoir, ideas, popular science, biography, narrative non-fiction, crime and thrillers, translated fiction and literary fiction of all kinds.

For the Love of Music

A Conductor's Guide to the Art of Listening

John Mauceri

New York City, USA
www.johnmauceri.com

A masterly conductor's guide to classical music for anyone seeking to love and understand it

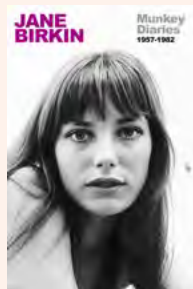

With a lifetime of experience, profound knowledge and understanding, and heartwarming appreciation, an internationally celebrated conductor and teacher answers the questions: Why should I listen to classical music? How can I get the most from the listening experience?

John Mauceri helps us to reap the joy and pleasures classical music has to offer. Unpretentious, graceful, instructive, this is a book for anyone looking to have the love of music fired within them.

JOHN MAUCERI is an American conductor, producer, educator and writer. A protégé of Leonard Bernstein – his colleague for eighteen years, he has toured and recorded all over the world.

Munkey Diaries

Jane Birkin

Paris, France
/JaneBirkinOff

The intimate journals (1957-1982) of iconic actor, singer, songwriter and model Jane Birkin

Jane Birkin attained international fame with her decade-long musical and personal relationship with Serge Gainsbourg, which featured their internationally controversial hit song 'Je t'aime...moi non plus'. She has enjoyed a notable career as an actress in British and French cinema, including Blow-Up and Death on the Nile. And then there is the Birkin bag...

Jane's diaries not only re-create the flamboyant era of Swinging London and Saint-Germain-des-Prés in the 1970s, it also lets us in to the everyday life of an exceptional woman.

JANE BIRKIN was born in London in 1946. Aged 21 and the definition of Sixties 'cool', she took up with singer-songwriter Serge Gainsbourg. She lives in Paris.

Revenge is worth waiting for. The new thriller by the master of the killer twist

Jamal loves to run. But one morning – as he is training on a path winding up a steep cliff – he stumbles across a woman in distress. It's a matter of seconds: suddenly she is falling through the air, crashing on the beach below.

Jamal is only an unlucky bystander – or is he? Perhaps this was no accident after all. Or perhaps there is something more sinister afoot – a devilish plan decades in the making, master-minded by someone hell-bent on revenge.

MICHEL BUSSI is the author of many bestselling novels, including After the Crash and Black Water Lilies. He is one of the most successful French authors of all time, with millions of copies sold internationally.

Small Pleasures Clare Chambers

Greater London, UK
@ClareDChambers

Maggie O'Farrell meets the witty observational skills of Kate Atkinson in a novel of unexpected second chances set in 1950s England

1957, south-east suburbs of London.

Jean Swinney is a journalist on the brink of forty living a small life from which there is no likelihood of escape. When a young woman, Gretchen Tilbury, contacts the paper to claim that her daughter is the result of a virgin birth, it is down to Jean to discover whether she is a miracle or a fraud. But the more Jean investigates, the more her life becomes intertwined with that of the Tilburys, Gretchen's husband Howard in particular.

Jean cannot bring herself to discard the chance of finally having a taste of happiness – but there will be a price to pay, and it will be unbearable.

CLARE CHAMBERS' first novel Uncertain Terms was published by Diana Athill in 1992 and she is the author of five other novels. Small Pleasures is her first work of fiction in ten years.

A gut-punch of a novel set in the rolling foothills of the Appalachians

Born in a bathtub in 1954 to a Cherokee father and white mother, Betty inhabits a world of poverty and violence – both from outside the family, and also, devastatingly, from within.

But despite the hardship she faces, Betty is resilient. Her curiosity about the natural world, her fierce love for her sisters, and her father's brilliant stories are kindling for the fire of her own imagination, and in the face of all she bears witness to, Betty discovers an escape in the redemptive power of words.

TIFFANY MCDANIEL is an Ohio native whose writing is inspired by the rolling hills and buckeye woods she knows. Her debut novel, The Summer That Melted Everything, won the Guardian's Not the Booker award. Betty is inspired by her own family history

The Crown in Crisis

Countdown to the Abdication
Alexander Larman

Oxford, UK
www.alexanderlarman.com
@alexlarman

A gripping account of the countdown to the Abdication Crisis of 1936

In late 1936, the British monarchy faced a constitutional crisis that was its gravest since the execution of Charles I nearly three centuries earlier. The ruling monarch, Edward VIII, wished to marry the American divorcée Wallis Simpson who was regarded as scandalous. The Establishment was desperate to frustrate Edward's wishes, thus avoiding an international embarrassment at a time when war seemed imminent. The Crown in Crisis is the definitive book about these events; painstakingly researched and incisively written, it brings the events of that time to life.

ALEXANDER LARMAN is a historian and journalist. He writes for the Observer, the Telegraph and the Guardian, among others, and lives in Oxford.

Dead Doubles

The Portland Spy Ring

Trevor Barnes

London, UK

 @trevorwbarnes

A ground-breaking account of the sensational Portland Spy Ring and its famous trial in 1961

The Portland Spy Ring was one of the most notorious spy cases from the Cold War. It seized international attention and revealed the shadowy world of deep cover KGB spies operating under false identities. The CIA's revelation to MI5 that a KGB agent was stealing crucial secrets from the sensitive submarine research base at Portland in Dorset looked initially like a dangerous but contained lapse of security but this astonishing true story of MI5's spyhunt is straight from the world of John Le Carré. An extraordinary story of a Cold War stand-off between the USSR and the West; this is a case that fully justified the West's paranoia about infiltration and treachery.

TREVOR BARNES studied espionage and the early history of the CIA at Cambridge, and as a Kennedy Scholar at Harvard. He worked as a BBC radio and TV journalist on programmes including Radio 4's Today and BBC Two's Newsnight. He is the author of three crime novels.

A fascinating investigation into the origins of cancer and how genetics holds the key to overcoming it

Cancer has always been with us. It killed our hominid ancestors, the mammals they evolved from and the dinosaurs that trampled the ground before that. Tumours grow in pets, livestock and wild animals. Paradoxically, many of us think of cancer as a contemporary killer, a disease of our own making. But that's not true. Cancer is a bug in the system of life. In Rebel Cell geneticist and science writer Kat Arney shows us how by better understanding cancer we might one day overcome it.

DR KAT ARNEY has degrees in natural sciences and genetics from Cambridge University. She has worked at Cancer Research and is an award-winning Science writer, author, presenter, podcaster and public speaker. San Francisco, USA

An illuminating history of the moviemakers who have shaped cinema by the doyen of film writers

In little more than a century of cinema our sense of what a film director is, or should be, has shifted in fascinating ways. David Thomson's brilliant A Light in the Dark personalises each chapter through a highly influential moviemaker: Jean Renoir, Howard Hawks, Jean-Luc Godard, Alfred Hitchcock, Luis Bunuel, Orson Welles, Fritz Lang, Jane Campion, Stephen Frears and Quentin Tarantino. Through these directors and others, Thomson relates an imaginative new history of a medium that has changed the world.

DAVID THOMSON is the acclaimed author of one of the greatest books on cinema, The New Biographical Dictionary of Film. He lives in San Francisco.

The History Makers

2,500 Years of Who We Are

Richard Cohen

New York, USA

A magisterial history of historians showing how the narrative is influenced by the life and beliefs of the storyteller

The History Makers is an epic exploration of who writes about the past and how the biases of certain storytellers – whether Julius Caesar, William Shakespeare or Simon Schama – continue to influence our ideas about history (and about who we are) today. There are many stories we can spin about years gone by, but which accounts come to be told, and by whom? The book abounds in captivating figures brought to vivid life, from Thucydides and Tacitus to Voltaire and Gibbon, from Winston Churchill to Mary Beard. Rich in character, complex truths and surprising anecdotes, the result is a unique exploration of both the aims and craft of history-making that will lead us to think anew about our past and ourselves.

An alternative history of humanity reflecting on how our relationship with dogs has changed over the centuries

In the last 200 years no inter-species relationship has come so far. Dogs accompany us in every walk of life, usually three times a day. How did this relationship begin? How has it changed over the centuries? Here we revisit the most important milestones in our shared journey. From ancient rock art to the first Labradoodle in Australia. From an ill-fated Poodle trainer to the mutniks of the Soviet space programme. Entertaining, informative, eccentric and erudite, Dog's Best Friend is all told with Garfield's gift for witty and insightful storytelling.

SIMON GARFIELD is the author of twenty books, including the bestsellers Just My Type, On the Map and Mauve. His study of AIDS in Britain, The End of Innocence, won the Somerset Maugham prize.

Sad Janet

Lucie Britsch

Higham Ferrars, UK
@LucieBritsch

A hilarious, provocative new voice in literary fiction, perfect for fans of Ottessa Moshfegh and Halle Butler

Meet Janet. Janet is sad – not just about her life, but about the world. Have you seen it? That's why she works at a dog shelter in the woods, where she can wear a giant coat and avoid human contact.

But when she hears about a new pill that promises one day off from being sad, even Janet is curious. But the side-effects of experimenting with happiness prove to be unexpectedly life-changing – for everyone concerned.

LUCIE BRITSCH's writing has appeared in Catapult Story, Vol. 1 Brooklyn, Split Lip magazine and The Sun magazine, and been nominated for a Pushcart Prize. Sad Janet is her first novel.

Last Word's Uncommon Women

Celia Hayley (editor)

London, UK

The companion book to BBC Radio 4's Last Word, a rich tapestry of women's lives in the 20th and 21st centuries

Every week, BBC Radio 4's Last Word celebrates the lives of extraordinary people who have recently died. It gathers the memories of those who knew them best, giving a personal slant to their histories and bringing their own voices to the fore. The stories it tells are illuminating, moving and often inspiring. This book focuses on a selection of the hundreds of women it has featured over the years. Like the radio programme itself, it is a treasure trove – a celebration of women of spirit and their remarkable lives.

CELIA HAYLEY is a freelance writer and editor who has worked on some of our best books, including The Best of A.A. Gill. She lives in London.

Far and Away

A.A. Gill

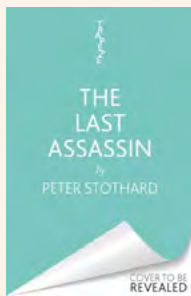

A selection of the best writings of A. A. Gill, 'by miles the most brilliant journalist of our age' (Lynn Barber)

A.A. Gill was fearsomely well-travelled. One of his ambitions when he started out was to 'interview places' – he wanted to go somewhere, get under its skin, ask it questions. He turned out to be a genius at this: he could make you look at the familiar with completely fresh insight. Far and Away collects some of his greatest writing – not only his travel pieces, but subjects pulled from around the world that show all the different facets of the way he wrote: adventurous, funny, wise and always curious.

A.A. GILL (1954 - 2016) was the TV and restaurant critic and regular features writer for The Sunday Times, as well as a columnist for Esquire. The Best of A. A. Gill, a collection of his journalism, was published in 2017.

The Last Assassin

The Hunt for the Killers of Julius Caesar

Peter Stothard

London, UK

A history of the fall of the Roman republic, told through the gripping story of Caesar's longest-surviving assassin

For fourteen years after 44 BC, Cassius of Parma (Cassius Parmensis), one of the lesser-known assassins of Julius Caesar, watched from the wings as all of his co-conspirators were murdered. In telling the story of Cassius's flight from justice, The Last Assassin opens up a fascinating new angle to a well-known segment of Roman history. This book charts an epic turn of history through the eyes of an ordinary man, participating in a world-changing sequence of events. It is a gripping story of fear, revenge and survival.

PETER STOTHARD was editor of The Times from 1992 to 2002, and then the editor of the Times Literary Supplement until his retirement in 2016. He was knighted in 2003.

Types and Shadows

Diaries 2004-2015

Roy Strong

Herefordshire, UK

The third volume of diaries from the bestselling author and former director of the Victoria & Albert Museum

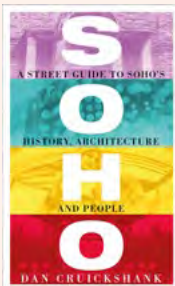

In January 2004, Roy Strong was in a state of deep grief following the death of his wife, Julia Trevelyan Oman, three months earlier. There followed a reconfiguring of The Laskett and the wonderful garden that he and Julia had created together. Types and Shadows is a wonderful window into Roy Strong's world, and his encounters with leading figures in the museum, theatre and media worlds, churchmen, politicians, royalty. His telling eye for detail and wicked observation make the diaries hugely entertaining and informative, but also punctuated with moments of sadness at the passing of friends and frustration at the changing world around him.

SIR ROY STRONG CH, historian, diarist and gardener, was director of the National Portrait Gallery (1967-1973) and the Victoria & Albert Museum (1973-1987). His previous two volumes of his diaries cover the years 1967-2003.

Dan Cruickshank

London, UK

An imaginative and meticulously researched street-by-street biography of one of London's most vibrant and seductive districts

Soho – illicit, glamorous, sordid, louche, poverty-stricken, squalid, exhilarating.

One of Britain's best-loved historians, Dan Cruickshank grants us an intimacy with centuries of rich and varied history as he guides us around Soho. The story of Soho is written in its surviving architecture. Cruickshank observes how the common denominator over the centuries is its appeal as a destination for immigrants and that this is the foundation of its spirit and success. He wonders if the Soho beloved by Londoners and visitors alike can survive, and pays heartfelt testament to the district's resilience.

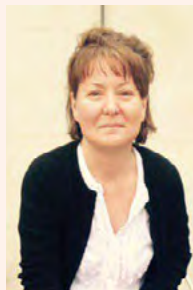

DAN CRUICKSHANK is a renowned television presenter and author of numerous books on historical architecture, including Spitalfields (2016). He lives in east London.

A literary noir set in the streets of Buenos Aires, vibrating with the pulse of a country in turmoil; a debut novel by a bright new talent

Buenos Aires, 2001: the streets are overflowing with protestors, frustrated by the government's inability to face a mounting economic crisis. Inspector Alzada is convinced of the futility of yet another doomed Argentinean attempt at democracy and is determined to remain a detached bystander. But the disappearance of a woman from one of the city's wealthiest families brings back painful memories of Alzada's work in the Buenos Aires police force during the Dirty War in the 80s, a war that tore a nation apart and destroyed the inspector's family forever.

ELOÍSA DÍAZ lives in Madrid and is the daughter of Argentinian immigrants. She received an MFA from Columbia University. Repentance, which she wrote in English, is her debut novel.

A wildly original take on the 'great American novel' by one of today's most fearless voices

On the day of their estranged father's wedding, half-sisters Cheyenne and Livy set off to claim their inheritance. It's been years since the two have seen each other: Cheyenne is newly back in Seattle after a failed marriage; Livy works refinishing boats and dreams of fishing off the coast of Alaska.

But instead of money, their father gives them information – a name – that reveals a stunning family secret and propels the two sisters on an epic trip across America.

A tale of boundless verve and undeniable tenderness – and the first great post-capitalist novel of the 21st century.

VANESSA VESELKA is the author of the novel Zazen which won the PEN/Robert Bingham prize for fiction. She has been, at various times, a teenage runaway, a sex-worker, a union organizer, an independent record label owner, a train-hopper, a waitress and a mother.

Mending the Mind

The Art and Science of Treating Clinical Depression

Oliver Kamm

London, UK

 @OliverKamm

A deeply researched investigation into depression arguing the case for embracing both art and science in our understanding and treatment of the condition

In Mending the Mind, Oliver Kamm uses his own experience of illness and treatment as a jumping off point to investigate the mental disorder of depression. He uses the work of other writers who suffered from depression to illuminate the condition and explores the state of scientific remedies that have been devised in treating mental disorder. Oliver argues that cures for depression are attainable, and ultimately that both art and science are essential to our understanding, and treatment, of a condition that affects 1 in 10 of us at some point in our lives.

The Octopus Man

Jasper Gibson

East Sussex, UK

 @OliverKamm

Deeply moving and tragi-comic, The Octopus Man takes us into the complex and disturbing world of voice-hearing in a bravura literary performance.

The Octopus Man tells the story of Tom, once an outstanding student, now lost in the dispassionate machinery and medication of the British mental health system. Stalked not only by his memories of the promise and wilderness of his past, but also by the carceral psychiatric units of his future, Tom is a lesson in paradox.

Opening with a swirling, compulsive diatribe, Tom comes quickly to confirm what we readers suspect: that he is not entirely alone: Malamock, Octopus God of his own creation, part-comforter, part-autarch, part-guide, stalks our narrator at every turn, handicapping him in every respect.

An emotional literary debut about a life cut short by cancer, and a love cut short by fear and social pressure

A profoundly beautiful story about two men separated by generations: Joe longs for a boyfriend and plays the violin magnificently. Edward falls in love with his best friend in a nettle-infested garden before starting a family and becoming a grandfather. When Joe is diagnosed with Stage 4 cancer, his sister and grandfather, Edward, are left waiting for a miracle. A miracle that won't come. Intensely moving, this book is about love and loss; and about the beautiful and violent randomness of life.

ESSENTIALS

Launching in Summer 2020, W&N Essentials is a delightfully varied list of literary jewels. The list will be home to fiction and non-fiction; to books that are already studied on university syllabi; and to cult classics ahead of their time ripe for mainstream recognition.

Each one will be a book of the highest quality, will be adored by those that have already discovered it, will have stood the test of time, and will burn as brightly – or even more brightly – as it did on first publication.

Each book will be published as a paperback original, with an introduction from a contemporary author. We have a subtle series look, but each will have an elegant distinctive cover of its own.

Remain in Love

Chris Frantz

Connecticut, USA
@ChrisFrantzTTC

Remain in Love tells the story of two bands and a love story (and marriage) that survived them both

Chris Frantz met David Byrne at art school in the early 1970s. Together – and soon with Frantz’s future wife, Tina Weymouth – they formed Talking Heads and took up residence in the grimy environs of Manhattan’s Lower East Side, where their neighbours were Patti Smith, William Burroughs and their early albums quickly became classics; until the Brian Eno produced masterpiece Remain in Light, saw them explode. Warm and candid, funny and heartfelt, Remain in Love charts the rise and fall of a band who combined the sensibility of artists with extraordinary songwriting vision. A classic 1970s downtown New York memoir and a book which shares secrets and stories Talking Heads fans have been curious about for decades.

CHRIS FRANTZ is founder member and drummer in Talking Heads. He also formed Tom Tom Club with his wife Tina Weymouth, with whom he has produced many great artists.

A celebration of Heavenly Recordings, one of the great independent British labels of the past three decades, published to mark its 30th anniversary of the label

Believe in Magic is a fully illustrated history of one of the most exciting independent British record labels, Heavenly. Set up by Jeff Barrett in 1990 as the acid house revolution was in full swing, Heavenly's early releases set the tone and tempo for the mood of the decade to come, with music from Andrew Weatherall, St Etienne and Manic Street Preachers. This book collects rare photographs, ephemera, artwork and anecdotal evidence into a visual history of a label that is one of the most beloved institutions on the independent landscape.

ROBIN TURNER worked for Heavenly Recordings, where he started the legendary Sunday Social in 1994. He is the co-creator and co-owner of The Social chain of bars in London.

from Radio 1's First Female DJ

Annie Nightingale

London, UK

 @aanightingal

Stories from a remarkable life spent on the frontiers of pop music and broadcasting at the BBC

Annie Nightingale has been a fixture on the pop culture radar for five decades on radio, TV and as a live DJ and tastemaker. She was there at the heart of the early 70s rock boom and was still at the heart of the culture when acid house hit in the late 80s. This book tells her story through memories, encounters and experiences across a career which spans 1970-2020 and ties-in with celebrations at the BBC to mark her extraordinary career.

ANNIE NIGHTINGALE was the first female presenter on BBC Radio 1 in 1970. In 2020 she was also the first and only DJ to be appointed a CBE in the New Year's Honours List.

Xstabeth

David Keenan

Glasgow, UK

 @reversedorama

A short, explosive novel about Russia, Scotland, sex and singer-songwriters

Xstabeth is a magical novel narrated by a Russian girl torn between her father and his best friend. Set between St Petersburg, and St Andrews, it tackles the metaphysics of golf, the mindset of the classic Russian novels, and the power of art to rewrite reality, as Aneliya is confronted with an angelic presence who simultaneously fulfils, and disappears, her father and her lover. It is a love letter to Chandler, Nabokov and Dostoevsky by a writer who is rewriting the rulebook of contemporary fiction.

DAVID KEENAN is the author of the cult classic This Is Memorial Device, which won the Collyer Bristow/London Magazine Award for Debut Fiction 2018, and For The Good Times, which won the Gordon Burn Prize in 2019.

Monolithic Undertow
In Search of Sonic Oblivion
Harry Sword

Cambridge, UK
@HarrySword

A journey to the heart of heavy music, the universe and everything

Monolithic Undertow alights a crooked path across musical, religious and subcultural frontiers. It traces the line from ancient traditions to the modern underground, navigating archeoacoustics, ringing feedback, chest plate sub-bass, avant-garde eccentricity, sound weaponry and fervent spiritualism. From Neolithic beginnings to bawdy medieval troubadours, Sufi mystics to Indian raga masters, Gnostic New York minimalists to the meditative power of drone metal, Monolithic Undertow explores the power of the drone – an audio carrier vessel capable of evoking womb like warmth or cavernous dread alike.

Fiction & Non-Fiction

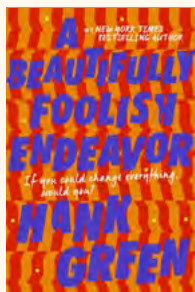

Launched in October 2016 with a mission to publish books that start conversations, TRAPEZE has established itself as one of the most vibrant, dynamic – and commercially successful – imprints in the industry. Publishing both fiction and non-fiction, and already the home of eighteen Sunday Times bestsellers, our books reflect the world around us, tapping into the things that readers want to talk about now. Trapeze was nominated for Imprint of the Year at the British Book Awards 2019.

Trapeze is innovative in our publishing: we explore new publishing models – being format-flexible and innovative in how we reach our readers; we are the home of brand partnerships, working with the Ordnance Survey, Historic Royal Palaces, ITV and the Natural History Museum; and we are creative in our commissioning, finding talent through traditional and non-traditional channels, including writing competitions, IP, and partnerships.

Our non-fiction authors include the number 1 bestseller Noel Fitzpatrick, star of Channel 4's The Supervet; number 1 bestseller Sarah Millican; Glastonbury Festival's Michael and Emily Eavis; comedy legend Alan Partridge; Daisy May Cooper and Charlie Cooper, writers and stars of the three-time BAFTA nominated BBC comedy This Country; and the biggest podcast networks in the world, Stuff You Should Know and My Favourite Murder.

Trapeze fiction is home to award-winning writers including Candice Carty-Williams, whose Sunday Times bestselling novel Queenie was shortlisted for the Costa First Novel Award and longlisted for the Women's Prize. We publish crime and thrillers with something to say, including Sunday Times bestselling crime writers Sharon Bolton and Daniel Cole, and our list includes debut stars Leaf Arbuthnot, Robin Morgan-Bentley and Rhiannon Ward.

Nurse Kitty's Secret War

Maggie Campbell

Manchester, UK

A saga novel based on the history of Trafford General, the first ever NHS hospital

It's May 1945 and at 3pm, nurse Kitty Longthorne listens, together with the other surgical staff at South Manchester's Park Hospital, to Winston Churchill's broadcast on the radio. The war is over.

The mood in Park Hospital is jubilant and hopeful, though Kitty is anything but. Her clandestine squeeze and the man she hopes to marry, James Williams, has been giving her the cold shoulder, and she can't work out why. Furthermore, her twin brother, Ned, is still missing in action.

MAGGIE CAMPBELL worked as a seamstress in the factories of Manchester in the post-war era and then retrained to be a midwife – a career she adored.

London, UK

 @RebeccaCNReid

An empowering call to arms for women to assert themselves through harnessing the power of the word 'rude'

The Power of Rude will discuss the way women are constantly worrying about being polite, even putting themselves in situations they'd rather avoid, due to a fear of saying the wrong thing.

It will take the reader chapter by chapter through dating, family relationships, sex, the workplace, money, customer service and more, and show how we can reclaim the word 'rude' and use it to our advantage.

As women, we need to change the narrative, and we need to use our voices to take control.

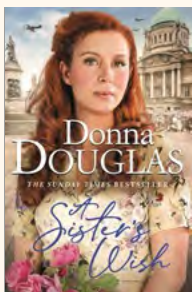

REBECCA REID is a novelist and journalist who appears frequently on television, arguing with everyone from Piers Morgan to Jameela Jamil about gender politics, social class and sex and relationships.

The Wanted Holly Seddon

London, UK

 @hollyseddon

What would you do if you found your name on a hitlist? And your late husband put it there?

Things go from bad to worse for Marianne when she discovers that not only has her seemingly ordinary late husband, Greg, been accessing the dark web, but that her name is also on a hitlist on his laptop.

Marianne must figure out whether Greg was trying to protect her or whether he was complicit in the conspiracy to murder her.

As she is pulled deeper into an underworld that Greg was seemingly hostage to, she gets closer to meeting Sam – the assassin hired to kill her.

HOLLY SEDDON is the international bestselling author of Try Not to Breathe, Don't Close Your Eyes and Love Will Tear Us Apart.

The third novel of the galaxy-spanning Sun Eater series merges the best of space opera and epic fantasy

Hadrian has been serving the empire in military engagements against the Cielcin, the vicious alien civilisation bent on humanity's destruction. His popularity has grown, but it culminates in an assassination attempt by people within his own government.

In response, Hadrian leaves to pursue his true interest: a long-rumoured connection between the first Emperor and the Quiet: the ancient, seemingly long-dead race. And he will find the key to unlocking their secrets in a massive library on a distant world.

The coordinates for their origin planet.

An unsettling tale of a man caught up in a crime he does not understand, and cannot believe

Todd Fremde is a writer of criminal mysteries. Invited to the island of Dearth, far across the Dream Archipelago, to talk at a conference, he finds himself caught up in a series of mysteries.

How can Dearth claim to be crime-free, yet still have an armed police force?

Why are they so keen for him to appear, but so dismissive when he arrives?

And how does this all connect with a murder on his home island, ten years before?

Fremde's investigations will lead him to some dangerous conclusions ...

The new hilarious, heart-warming novel from the author of The Year of Surprising Acts of Kindness and Bring Me Sunshine

High in the Welsh hills sits the community of The Mountain – a once-thriving village which has changed beyond recognition. Wanda Williams has always dreamed of escaping, but she's had to put her dreams on hold to care for her mother.

So Wanda sets about reviving her family's run-down campsite, replacing tired old tents with yurts, adding a hot tub and providing lovely homemade goodies for the campers.

Can Wanda bring life back into the little community? And will her wanderlust ever subside ... ?

LAURA KEMP writes tender but hilarious romantic comedies which are unashamed love letters to the everywoman. She is a journalist who has written for the Guardian, Daily Mail and the Sun.

A beautifully haunting novel about faith, grief, courage and love, from acclaimed bestseller Julie Cohen

In Victorian England, Viola is an amateur photographer struggling with the grief of her father's death and her loveless marriage to her childhood friend, Jonah. When she discovers a talent for capturing ghostly images on camera, Viola comes to the attention of a spirit medium, and a powerful attraction between the two women is sparked. As each woman puts herself at risk, unspeakable truths are brought to light that will change their lives forever.

Driven by passionate, courageous female characters, Spirited is an unforgettable read.

JULIE COHEN's books have been translated into fifteen languages and have sold over a million copies; Dear Thing and Together were Richard and Judy Book Club picks.

Groomed to Be a Bride

Maggie Hartley

 MaggieHartleyAuthor

A young Syrian girl comes to live with Maggie after surviving unimaginable horrors. But the nightmare may only just be beginning ...

Maggie faces one of the most challenging cases of her career when a young, orphaned Syrian girl comes to live with her. Barely able to communicate without a shared language, Maggie must battle to reach the vulnerable refugee and help her to start to overcome the traumas she has endured.

But there is more horror to come when Maggie starts to suspect that the young girl is being groomed by relatives back in Syria to return and join ISIS ...

MAGGIE HARTLEY has fostered more than 300 children while being a foster carer for over twenty years, taking on the children other carers often can't cope with.

A raw, uncompromising look at the harsh reality of life as a prison officer in HMP Parkhurst Assaults. Riots. Cell fires. Understaffed wings. Suicides. Hooch. Weapons. It's all in a week's work at HMP Parkhurst.

David Berridge has spent twenty-eight years working as a prison officer, with twenty-two years at Parkhurst. A tough character with a big personality and a dark sense of humour, David has seen it all. Inside Parkhurst is his raw, uncompromising look behind the menacing gates of one of Britain's highest security prisons.

Reggie Kray, Gary Glitter, Peter Sutcliffe, Ian Brady and senior IRA leaders were among DAVID BERRIDGE's most high-profile charges.

A heartbreaking and brutally honest account of love, loss and the reality of grief

In July 2019 football-hardman turned actor Vinnie Jones tragically lost his wife Tanya after her six-year battle with cancer. Despite Tanya's long, and often painful fight, her passing was a profound shock to Vinnie and their family, and Vinnie found himself struggling to cope.

With diary entries and letters written by Tanya during the twenty-seven years she spent with her soulmate woven through the book, Vinnie's tender, revelatory writing will pave the way for more open and frank discussions on the most complex and difficult of topics: grief.

Football-hardman turned actor VINNIE JONES speaks incredibly movingly about his love for and loss of his wife.

The extraordinary story of a homeless dog, and the incredible charity she helped to inspire

Michelle Clark was an ordinary businesswoman and mother until she met rough sleeper Ed and his staffie, Poppy. After learning that the pair have been separated following Ed's hospitalisation, and with Poppy now missing, Michelle is determined to help. In her journey to reunite them, Michelle finds herself immersed in the homeless community of London, getting to know the people who live on the streets, and the beloved dogs that are often their sole companions. The first book in a new series from Dogs on the Streets.

MICHELLE CLARK is the founder of DOTS, a nationwide charity that supports rough sleepers and their dogs. DOTS offer emergency veterinary treatment and works to get both dogs and owners off the streets and into permanent accommodation together.
