STAINLESS STEEL SEISMIC LIPS & TURRETS FOR SHELVING

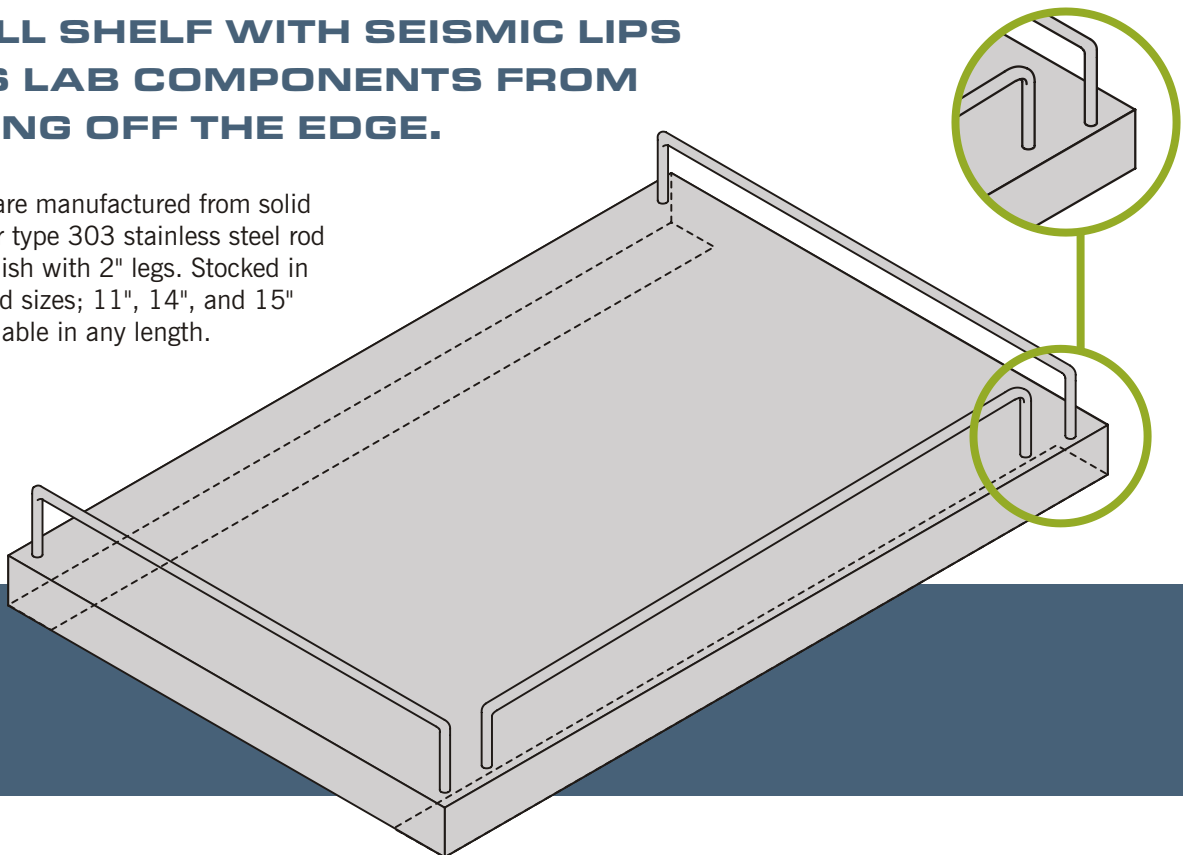

Inter Dyne Systems now manufactures and stocks several styles and sizes of seismic lips and turret posts for any shelving need. The all stainless steel construction makes these not only durable but aesthetically pleasing for laboratories, hospitals, and even the select few who seek that industrial look in a residential atmosphere. Choose from using rods that glue in with two inch tall legs or fasten them in from below with a drilled and tapped leg. For longer spans choose the turret system that allows you to place solid 3/4" round posts between the rods for even more rigidity.

Let us place this system on our stainless steel shelving for you or obtain it to adhere to any other surface such as epoxy, phenolic, plastic laminate, wood or even glass shelves.

A WALL SHELF WITH SEISMIC LIPS KEEPS LAB COMPONENTS FROM SLIPPING OFF THE EDGE.

Seismic lips are manufactured from solid 1/4" diameter type 303 stainless steel rod with a #4 finish with 2" legs. Stocked in three standard sizes; 11", 14", and 15" lengths. Available in any length.

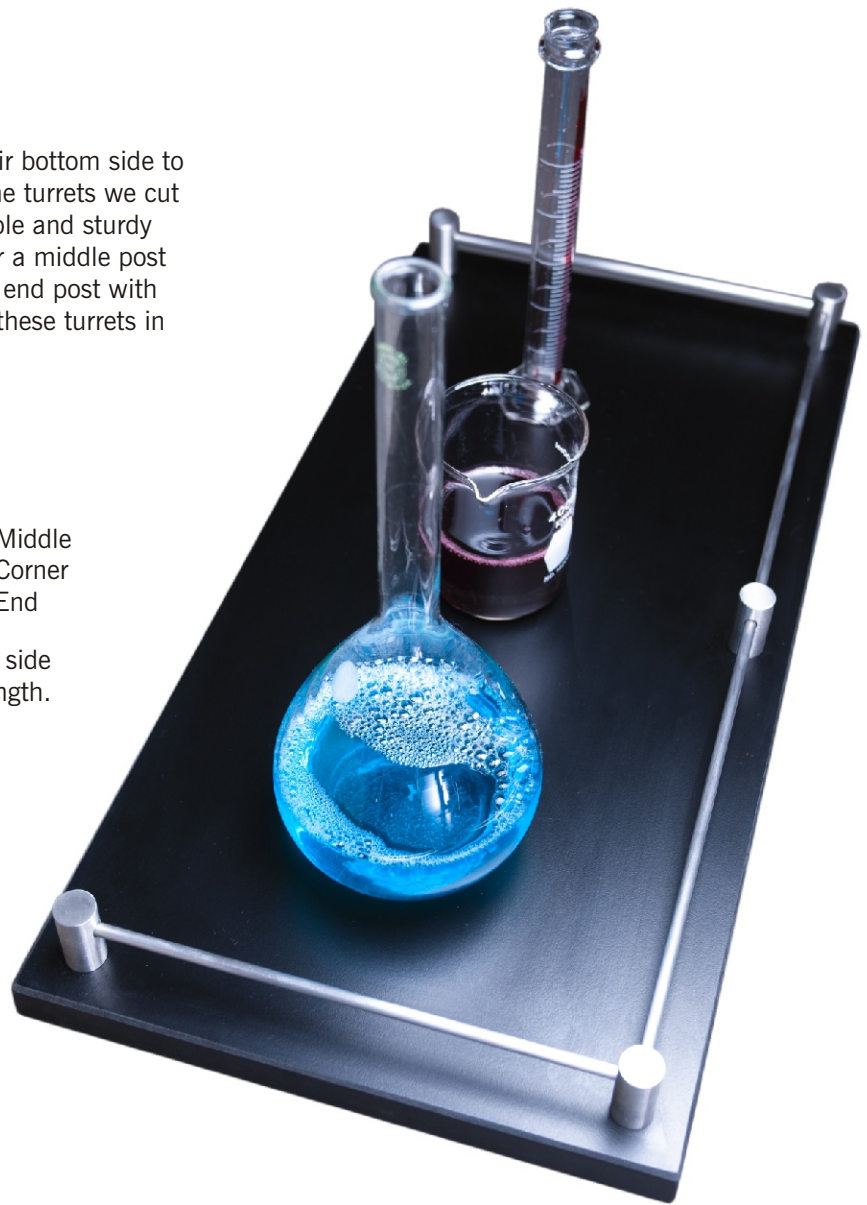

All turret posts are drilled and tapped on their bottom side to accept a 1/4-20 threaded screw. Between the turrets we cut 1/4" rods to specific lengths to assure a simple and sturdy installation. Turret posts are stocked in either a middle post or a corner post with two access holes or an end post with one access hole. Inter Dyne Systems stocks these turrets in order to meet any customer's time needs.
