

Marquette University Law School Learning Outcomes

The Marquette University Law School curriculum is designed to ensure that graduates will have the substantive knowledge, skills, and values essential to practice law in the twenty-first century. Our faculty has adopted the following learning outcomes for graduates.

Outcome 1: Graduates will be able to communicate with clients, decision makers, and the range of other stakeholders in the legal system to solve legal problems in a manner expected of a new lawyer.

Outcome 2: Graduates will demonstrate knowledge of core areas of legal doctrine and the processes through which law is created, developed, and changed, and legal rights and duties are enforced and adjudicated in a manner expected of a new lawyer.

Outcome 3: Graduates will employ legal reasoning strategies to identify, analyze, and research legal problems in a manner expected of a new lawyer.

Outcome 4: Graduates will exercise proper professional and ethical responsibilities to clients and the legal system.

Outcome 5: Graduates will have been exposed to Wisconsin law in a variety of legal fields and settings.

Outcome 6: Graduates will recognize the challenges confronting the poor, marginalized, and under-represented in society, consistent with the Jesuit mission.
