Why a Christian K – 12 Education for Your Child?

Since the majority of a child's day is spent at school, it's important to consider the influence that institution has on his or her life. With that being said, the school environment has a great impact on how a child develops.

The truth is, a Christian education can make a great difference in your child's life.

What is a Christian education?

Christian schools provide an environment where a child can grow "...in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and men" (Luke 2:52). Through a Christian education at the schools in the following pages, students will not only learn about the world around them, but will also cultivate a deep and lasting relationship with God.

The goal of any school is to educate children about life, the world, and their purpose in it. Christian education seeks to teach children about the world God created, how our faith is woven into each area of learning, and how to find purpose and meaning through God's Will for our life. Only through an understanding of God, His Word, and His works, can we know truth and show His love to those around us.

A Christian education isn't just having a Bible or religion class in addition to normal classes, but an integration of a biblical worldview into every area of study. In a science class, students may learn about how God's handiwork is seen in the natural laws and design of the world; in physical education, they may learn about setting a Christ-like example both on and off the field. Through these experiences, students learn that following God isn't limited to one area of life.

Consider this example: for most families, church is once a week. As a result, we can unknowingly infer that we only learn about God once a week. With a Christian education, children learn that God doesn't only exist on Sunday, but is constantly at work in the world each and every day.

A Christian school seeks to build on what's taught at church and in the home. Building a faith that exists outside of the church and home is essential to establishing a deep and mature spiritual foundation later on in life. We strive to kindle a desire in students to learn about God and the Bible, preparing them to follow Christ after they leave school.

What if we can't afford a Christian education?

The fact of the matter is that private schooling isn't cheap. It makes more sense, from a strictly financial point of view, to consider public education instead, seeing as we already pay school taxes. Many families appreciate what a Christian school has to offer, but hesitate to apply due to the financial commitment.

It is possible for your child to attend a Christian school. It may mean unexpected income, such as a bonus or a raise at work, or it could mean learning to cut back on certain expenses. A scholarship or financial support could be available through your church or state. Many schools provide financial aid. The opportunities for provision are there. Our God owns the cattle on a thousand hills (Psalm 50), and he owns the hills, too.

Choosing a school is a big decision any way you look at it. The right school will encourage your child to succeed and enrich his/her understanding of God. We know "...that in all things God works for the good of those who love him, who have been called according to his purpose" (Romans 8:28). Ultimately, the hope and prayer is that God guides your family to make the decision that will best help your child grow in his or her faith and knowledge of Christ.

Can't Christians go to public schools and turn out fine?

Indeed, they can. Just because a school is public doesn't mean it can't provide a good education and teachers who care about their students.

However, keep in mind that the goal of the public school is to educate according to the world's standards and beliefs. As stated earlier, Christian schools integrate Christian morals and principles into each class. The whole atmosphere of a Christian school is one that both promotes and points students to the love of Christ. What's more, every teacher will seek to help your child grow, both academically and in their walk with Christ.

Christian schools hold students to both a higher level of academic achievement as well as accountability in their walk with God. They are challenged to achieve their fullest potential in school, and aren't just seen as a number. From a spiritual standpoint, they are encouraged to grow in their faith and ask the questions that help them understand why they believe what they believe.

The Barna group, a faith-based research company, recently found that many church leaders in both Protestant and Catholic churches see public schools as a negative influence on a child's faith. Ultimately they concluded,

"Clergy view parents, churches, and Christian communities, as positive influences on a child's spiritual formation and development. However, children are spending most of their day-time weekday hours each at school, which is perceived by many church leaders as a negative influence on a child's spiritual formation. In fact, schools are ranked alongside a child's friends and peers as primarily negative influences—a view held by 61 percent of Protestant leaders and 65 percent of Catholic leaders. In some cases, the perceived negative influence of a child's school or friend group outweighs a perceived positive influence by double."

"While it is great that some churches have partnered with or served at local public schools for the purposes of outreach, the decision of where a Christian parent should send their child to school should take into account the whole-person formation of the child," Brooke Hempell, Barna's senior vice president of research, says. "And if public schools are perceived to have a negative influence on the spiritual formation of a child, parents need guidance on how to navigate this decision."

Shouldn't we as Christians be "salt and light" in the public schools?

A Christian school shouldn't seek to shelter its students from the world, but rather to teach them how to transform it. Just as churches equip Christians to learn about God and show His love to others, a Christian school allows for a more hands-on approach to this purpose. A Christian education trains students to understand the truth in the Bible and then share their faith confidently with others. Learning how to defend their faith and effectively share the Gospel is what will allow people to change the world through Christ.

We're all human, and regardless of our background or upbringing we all need to experience the love of Christ. Children in a Christian school are no different. They can experience the same issues and have the same questions as those in a public school can. The difference is that in a Christian school, the focus of education is to draw students into a deeper and fuller understanding of God and the world He created.

Again, we understand that choosing a school for your children is a big decision and pray that God guides you to the best choice for your family.

If you have any additional questions or concerns, you can always reach out to the Admissions office at any of the schools in the following pages and additional schools listed in the poster on the back page.

Institute for Creation Research

At the Institute for Creation Research, we believe the Bible is more than a compilation of stories or a guidebook for life. It's the fulfillment of our search for answers—who we are, where we came from, and why we're here. From creation to Jesus' second coming, everything it holds will remain true for all eternity.

The world claims otherwise, saying there is no ultimate, final truth. It's fully subjective—your "truth" might look different from mine, and yet that doesn't make either of us wrong. If there are no absolute answers, who's to determine fact from fiction?

All the conflicting viewpoints can be hard to navigate, even from a Christian perspective. If experts seem to know what they're talking about, then who are we to challenge? When it comes to science, contradicting the accepted story can feel virtually impossible. We see human evolution in textbooks, "million-year-old" rocks at national parks, and documentaries that credit natural processes for our existence. But is this really who we are? Aimless walking atoms that sprang randomly from apes?

The book of Genesis provides a different narrative. Scripture tells us God made people in His image at creation, and we were created for a purpose—to glorify Him. No spontaneous "Big Bang" or evolving animals needed. Yet, society believes there's so much evidence showing that evolution is fact. But what does that evidence really say?

Our mission at ICR is to proclaim how science actually affirms Scripture. From carbon dating to rock formation, scientists continue to discover evidence that confirms the biblical creation account. ICR publishes scientifically based resources, holds speaking events, and does much more to illustrate God's magnificent design in creation and its complete alignment with His Word. Through our research, we will encourage and equip you to share the truth with confidence on campus and beyond.

You don't need a Ph.D. to defend your faith. You don't have to be a biblical scholar to interpret Scripture or a scientist to find answers. All you need is a heart to know our Creator and to make Him known in a broken world. It starts with the recognition of our great need for Christ—and the knowledge that He alone can satisfy our longing for the truth.

We invite you to find us at ICR.org or visit us at the ICR Discovery Institute in Dallas.

At Outreach Christian Education, our desire is to embody the love of Christ and equip our students to defend their faith in a tumultuous world. Students are being lambasted on every side by a cultural worldview that is contrary to God's Word. Our hope is to reach this generation to build the Kingdom of God by empowering them academically, spiritually, physically, and mentally.

We understand that society may change, but the principles inherent in the Word of God never change. 1 Peter states that "grass withers and the flowers fall, but the word of the Lord endures forever." At OCE, we believe in a strong triune partnership: God at the head, the family, and the school. We refuse to compromise on the truth of God's Word, and we desire to prepare the next generation for all that they will endure. We are in a battle for the lives, souls, and futures of these students, and our call is to give them the very best preparation possible so they may achieve and accomplish all that God has for them.

We invite you to join us in "reaching this generation." The time is NOW!

Heartland Christian School

Education is essential for the young people and has many components that make it successful. The first component is the home. God's Word gives parents the guidance needed for successfully completing this daunting responsibility. Parents are accountable to God to do everything possible to guide their children to accept Christ as their Savior, to develop a Biblical belief system to guide them in their life decisions, and to surrender to God's will for their lives.

The second necessary component is the church. The New Testament church is ordained of God for the proclamation of the gospel and the building up of the saints. For a child, regular attendance in church is essential to Christian growth and the support of what is being taught at home and, hopefully, at their school.

The final component is the school itself, specifically one providing a Christian education. Neither public nor private, nor even Christian schools, are mentioned in Scripture. Therefore, our calling and purpose, given today's societal structure, is to assist parents in their assignment of educating their child, with the ultimate goal being successful in life - in God's eyes. The school can fulfill its calling in Kingdom Education by hiring loving and qualified Christian educators, teaching academics from a Biblical perspective, having students take daily Bible classes, having weekly chapel services, and providing a Christ-centered environment where students can thrive in their faith. All of that is done with academic excellence from an accredited school. Everything the school does should be done with Kingdom Education in mind. That is the goal of Heartland Christian School - to come alongside parents in raising and instructing the next generation for Christ by providing an accessible, available, and affordable education to anyone who is led by the Lord to be a part of Christian Education. It only takes one generation to change a nation.

Overland Christian Schools

Hope Lutheran School

Why send your child to a Lutheran school like Hope Lutheran in Shawnee?

We strive to keep the focus on Jesus Christ, and Hope Lutheran School emphasizes the following:

- Our school is driven by a commitment to the Gospel and focused on a mission of bringing hope and Jesus to the students and their families.

- Hope meets and exceeds state and national academic standards at all grade levels from preschool through 8th grade. Our students are prepared to succeed in the next grade level.

- Hope has educators who model spiritual leadership. Our teachers study God's word, share their personal faith stories, apply the Law and Gospel appropriately, exhibit a passion for ministry, act courageously, equip God's people for service, care for others, demonstrate, and pray.

- Hope has small classes and a low student-faculty ratio allowing our teachers to form close, trusting relationships with students and parents.

- Hope Lutheran School has three accreditations - KESA Kansas Accredited Private School, National Lutheran School Accreditation, and Cognia Performance Accreditation.

If you are interested in Hope Lutheran School, please email us at school.office@hopelutheran.org or call us at 913-631-6940.

Northland Catholic Schools

Imagine a place where every child is cherished, every mind is nurtured, and every heart is guided with love and purpose. That place is here, at the seven Northland Catholic Schools, where we have been empowering children to achieve their full academic and Christian potential since 1947, when the first school opened its doors to students.

Our schools are a beacon of hope and excellence in the Kansas City area, currently serving over 2000 youth through a curriculum that balances academic rigor with moral and social responsibility. From our kindergarteners taking their first steps into a classroom to our eighth graders preparing for high school, we witness daily miracles of growth and learning.

As we continue to welcome families into our schools, we remain committed to providing the highest quality faith-based education, enriched with extracurricular activities like basketball, track and field, Spanish, and so much more to create well-rounded individuals. Our faculty and staff bring experience, a spirit of collaboration and dedication to student's success.

Looking ahead, the Northland area is growing, and so is the demand for quality education that upholds Catholic School values. We are proud to be accredited by the Missouri Nonpublic School Accrediting Association, a testament to our commitment to educational excellence and mission to Learn, Grow, Succeed.

For any questions about enrollment, financial aid, or to schedule a tour/visit, please visit us at northlandcatholicschools.com

Marian Hope Academy

Every child deserves an educational experience that identifies their strengths, develops their whole person and empowers them to reach their God-given potential.

Marian Hope Academy is a private K-12 Christian school on a mission to raise up a generation of well-rounded leaders, thinkers, and doers in the gifting God gave them. We are committed to maintaining low student-teacher ratios so that every child is well-known, challenged and has access to one-on-one instruction, when needed.

Children are meant to actively engage with their environment, read, explore, and become astute observers and practiced communicators. We avoid the swinging pendulum that influences the trends in mainstream education. We commit to research-backed methods and apply neuroscientific understanding of the developing brain to our approach.

The development of character is as important as academic excellence. We foster a culture of compassion and leadership skill building through mission projects and community service opportunities.

Goals for each student include educational advancement, application of problem-solving, critical thinking, oral and written language competence, mission-minded focus and demonstrated use of individual creativity. We desire our students to be confident, competent, self-determined and practice inspiring work ethic.

For more than a decade, we have offered a high-quality education to hundreds of students encouraging curiosity, critical thinking and servant leadership. You belong at MHA!

Northern Hills Christian Academy

Parents desire for their children to be well-educated and prepared for life. Northern Hills Christian Academy partners with parents and the church to achieve this desire through a Kingdom Education. Our school believes that educating and preparing a child for life must include teaching them that God is central to life.

NHCA was founded in 2004 in Holt, Missouri. Our school offers Pre-K through grade 12. We currently serve students from Holt, Kearney, Liberty, Excelsior Springs, Plattsburg, Lawson, and Smithville.

NHCA strives to prepare students academically for admission to college or the workforce. Our core classes use a curriculum centered around a Biblical Worldview.

For high school students, we provide a variety of choices including traditional classes, the Christian Accelerated Education program, and college courses. Depending on grade level, enrichment classes include art, music, physical education, computers, home economics, and journalism.

NHCA offers extracurricular activities such as various clubs and a spring musical. Our expanding athletic program includes cheerleading and elementary, middle school, and JV teams for volleyball and basketball.

A large part of our school's foundation is discipleship. We want to develop students with integrity and respect for God's Word. Students grow spiritually in daily morning worship, weekly chapel service, and by participating in service opportunities. We want students to have a strong sense of who they are in Christ and how they should relate to God and those they encounter.

ESTABLISHED: 1970

MISSION: At the Institute for Creation Research, we want you to know God's Word can be trusted with everything it speaks about - from how and why we were made, to how the universe was formed, to how we can know God and His plan for us.

ICR scientists have spent over 50 years researching scientific evidence that refutes evolutionary philosophy and confirms the Biblical account of recent and special creation. We offer faith-building science articles in Acts & Facts, our bimonthly magazine. Our podcasts inform you on the latest creation news, and our creation science books and videos go more in-depth about our Creator and His creation.

Discover how science confirms the Bible at www.icr.org.
