

Munich Personal RePEc Archive

European doctrine of mutual respect and cooperation

Corbu, Ion

Universitatea Andrei Şaguna, Setko Impex srl

9 May 2023

Online at <https://mpa.ub.uni-muenchen.de/117251/>
MPRA Paper No. 117251, posted 15 May 2023 14:21 UTC

European doctrine of mutual respect and cooperation EDMRC

The original paper ↗ contains 8 sections, with 8 passages identified by our machine learning algorithms as central to this paper.

---

Paper Summary

SUMMARY PASSAGE 1

Section 1

Any hegemonic tendency on the part of some states will have a negative influence on the EU. Because the Treaties are based on the principle of equal rights between the nation states that have joined the EU. Unfortunately, in recent years, there are increasing trends to replace these values and principles with the undemocratic will of some states that will become flagships.

SUMMARY PASSAGE 2

5)

The Romanian nation has developed, in a European context, its own, specific civilization, rich in traditions. The Romanian, who is a cultural spirit of great inner richness, lived and lives together with others and for others giving birth to a nation with its own genius, its own destiny, in a European and universal context, with a culture and a history of which she is proud. These traits must be developed, continuously improved, promoted and defended.

SUMMARY PASSAGE 3

7)

The EDMRC unreservedly adheres to the values and principles of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and undertakes to respect them. It also undertakes to respect the fundamental natural rights which are: freedom, equality before the law, property and security of the citizen.

SUMMARY PASSAGE 4

9)

12) EDMRC strongly opposes dictatorships of any kind and strongly rejects attempts to reduce every individual, every citizen to the rank of consumer in an ultraliberal, savage world, by the holders of power, who will be elites, the only thinking elites and who militate for the uniformity of peoples, the destruction of national identities, and the putting of all countries in the service of a reductionist globalization for the nations of the world. 13) Our activity and work are put at the service of democracy, of our nation, of freedom and prosperity.

SUMMARY PASSAGE 5

14)

We consider that now and for an extremely long period of time, if not forever, nation states will have and will have to play a key role both in Europe and in the world. Of course, the states of Europe will cooperate, take joint action in compliance with the EU Treaties, give up certain components of sovereignty, especially in the field of defense, but their role must be maintained and, in some areas, even strengthened.

SUMMARY PASSAGE 6

16)

We understand the participation of European states in the EU as equal partners and we reject, outright, any attempt by other states to subordinate in any way other states.

SUMMARY PASSAGE 7

19)

Peoples and citizens must not be the kind of lambs that can be slaughtered at the will of someone outside. That is why the EU Treaties will have to be revised and based on democratic principles of management and decision-making with an emphasis on participatory democracy. This is as soon as possible, based on the experience gained and until centripetal movements to abandon European construction begin to develop.

21)

Any abuse in this regard must be sanctioned. 28) Our nation, the Romanian nation, in accordance with the provisions of the Treaties to which it is a party, must build its own future on its own, based on its aspirations, in full respect of the historical and religious traditions and cultural heritage it has and of which she is proud. The fundamental directions and options for building this future represent the exclusive prerogative of the Romanian nation and are manifested in referendums that can be initiated, in accordance with the law by citizens or by state institutions.