6.1 Telling Public Radio's Story

Jump to question: 6.1

The purpose of this section is to give you an opportunity to tell us and your community about the activities you have engaged in to address community needs by outlining key services provided, and the local value and impact of those services. Please report on activities that occurred in Fiscal Year 2023. Responses may be shared with Congress or the public. Grantees are required to post a copy of this report (Section 6 only) to their website no later than ten (10) days after the submission of the report to CPB. CPB recommends placing the report in an "About" or similar section on your website. This section had previously been optional. Response to this section of the SAS is now mandatory.

Joint licensee Grantees that have filed a 2023 Local Content and Services Report as part of meeting the requirement for TV CSG funding may state they have done so in the corresponding questions below, so long as all of the questions below were addressed as they relate to radio operations in such report. You must include the date the report was submitted to CPB along with the TV Grantee ID under which it was submitted.

Jump to question: 6.1

1. Describe your overall goals and approach to address identified community issues, needs, and interests through your station's vital local services, such as multiplatform long and short-form content, digital and in-person engagement, education services, community information, partnership support, and other activities, and audiences you reached or new audiences you engaged.

Little Rock Public Radio strives to inform and enrich the lives of the citizens of the Little Rock area with the highest quality radio and online news and cultural content on KUAR-FM 89.1 and classical music on KLRE-FM 90.5. Programming aired on KUAR-FM and KLRE-FM is simulcast on KUAR-HD1 and KLRE-HD1 radio channels, KLRE's classical music programming is simulcast on KUAR's HD-2 channel to provide classical music to a larger geographical area (KLRE-FM is a 40,000-watt station and KUAR is effectively a 100,000-watt station). Both KUAR-FM and KLRE-FM are simulcast on web streams via KUAR.org and KLRE.org. Listeners can find original local news, along with news from community media partners and National Public Radio at ualpublicradio.org, which is also the primary place for listeners to find information about the programming of KLRE-FM and KUAR-FM. Little Rock Public Radio seeks community input on issues at events and via email and social media. KUAR focuses on these primary initiatives to serve its community: • Producing 10 local newscasts each weekday, which cover daily news and issues of importance to the community • Producing at least one long form report each week (on average) that treats a subject with more depth • Posting locally generated news reports and information updates to the station website and social media channels daily • Partnering with educational organizations to produce informational features about anthropology, art, communication, history of racial and ethnic issues in Arkansas, general Arkansas history, literature, the work of community development groups, and nature • Partnering with other news organizations to bring listeners news about business and politics • Managing a regional story sharing partnership and listserve with other public radio stations in and around Arkansas • Producing a weekly arts and culture radio show focused on events in Arkansas • Partnering with the local library system and the local League of Women Voters chapter to produce a quarterly virtual live panel discussion on issues of importance to the community that is recorded and aired on KUAR-FM and posted at littlerockpublicradio.org Nielsen Audio and Radio Research Consortium report that KUAR reached on average 56,000 people each week (Little Rock, Persons 12+ Total Market, M-Su 6A-12M, average of Spring 2023 and Fall 2023 surveys) during 2022 through its broadcast service. An additional 15,600 listeners tuned to KLRE each week (Little Rock, Persons 12+ Total Market, M-Su 6A-12M, average of Spring 2022 and Fall 2022 surveys) in 2023. Approx. 5% of metro listeners identify themselves as Hispanic, according to Nielsen Audio. Approximately 25% identify as black. 42% of the total listeners of KLRE are 65 or older. 30% of KUAR listeners are 65 or older. In addition, ualpublicradio.org received an average of 35,000 unique page views each month of 2023. LRPR's Facebook Page has roughly 5,500 followers, its Instagram page has roughly 1,900 and @kuarpublicradio has roughly 3,500 Twitter followers.

2. Describe key initiatives and the variety of partners with whom you collaborated, including other public media outlets, community nonprofits, government agencies, educational institutions, the business community, teachers and parents, etc. This will illustrate the many ways you're connected across the community and engaged with other important organizations in the area.

Little Rock Public Radio partners with the following organizations on these key initiatives: • Central Arkansas Library Service (CALs), the League of Women Voters of Pulaski County to produce and broadcast a quarterly series of virtual and in person live public forums on issues of importance to the community called Issues That Matter • CALs Butler Center's Encyclopedia of Arkansas program to produce and broadcast a series of one-minute features highlighting historical facts and stories of Arkansas called Encyclopedia of Arkansas Minute • KUAF-FM, Fayetteville, Ark.; KASU-FM, Jonesboro, Ark.; and, KTXK-FM, Texarkana, Tex. to share news content • UA Little Rock History Department to produce Arkansas Moments, a one-minute feature broadcast each day that presents historical information about civil rights Arkansas • UA Little Rock Department of English Professor J. Bradley Minnick to produce Facts about Fiction, a one-minute feature broadcast each day that presents information about writers and writing and to produce Arts and Letters, a half-hour program that highlights the arts and humanities • UA Little Rock Department of Sociology and Anthropology to produce Being Human, a one-minute feature broadcast each day that presents anthropological research • University District Development Corporation to produce and broadcast the Community Development Minute, which provides information about the work of neighborhood development corporations • University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences to broadcast Here's to Your Health, a two-minute feature broadcast each weekday about health information and medical advice • University of Arkansas Cooperative Extension Service to produce and broadcast Strengthening Our Communities, a one-minute educational program about economic and community development • Clinton School of Public Service to broadcast Clinton School Presents, a weekly interview show featuring graduates that are working to make a lasting impact in Arkansas • Talk Business and Politics to broadcast a weekly business and politics show. Talk Business also provides reporting support to the KUAR newsroom • The Yarn Storytelling to air episodes of true stories told live by Arkansans • The Central Arkansas Master Naturalists to produce and broadcast Nature in the Natural State, a one-minute educational spot about native plants, animals and ecology in Arkansas • Financial advisor Chris Harkins to broadcast the Arkansas Business Report every Monday morning • Just Communities of Arkansas to provide diversity, equity, and inclusion training for Little Rock Public Radio staff • Arkansas Supreme Court to produce and broadcast Courts and Community, a one-minute educational program that covers the work and history of the Arkansas court system.

3. What impact did your key initiatives and partnerships have in your community? Describe any known measurable impact, such as increased awareness, learning or understanding about particular issues. Describe indicators of success, such as connecting people to needed resources or strengthening conversational ties across diverse neighborhoods. Did a partner see an increase in requests for related resources? Please include direct feedback from a partner(s) or from a person(s) served.

Little Rock Public Radio can measure its impact through its audience estimates from Nielsen Audio: • KUAR's newscasts reach an estimated average of 34,000 listeners weekly • An average of 1100 people listen to Clinton School Presents each week • An average of 2,600 people listen to Arts Scene each week on both KLRE and KUAR • An average of 4,400 people listen to Talk Business and Politics' Monday report • An average of 15,400 people listen to Here's to Your Health each week • An average of 50,900 people listen to one of our one-minute features produced by one of our content partners each time it airs between 6 a.m. and 7 p.m. We also held a free to the public event celebrating our 50th anniversary. We had over 350 people attend this event where we hosted Code Switch who led a discussion on education and how segregation still effects the public school system today.

4. Please describe any efforts (e.g. programming, production, engagement activities) you have made to investigate and/or meet the needs of minority and other diverse audiences (including, but not limited to, new immigrants, people for whom English is a second language and illiterate adults) during Fiscal Year 2023, and any plans you have made to meet the needs of these audiences during Fiscal Year 2024. If you regularly broadcast in a language other than English, please note the language broadcast.

KUAR broadcasts Latino USA twice each week, a newsmagazine covering issues for and about North America's growing Hispanic and Latino populations and the issues of an increasingly diverse population • KUAR broadcasts Arkansas Moments, historical features about the civil rights struggle in Arkansas • KUAR broadcasts Arts and Letters, which regularly highlights achievements of authors and artists from diverse and minority communities and ethnicities • UA Little Rock Public Radio collaborated with Just Communities of Arkansas to provide diversity, equity, and inclusion training for its staff • KUAR produces and broadcasts the University District Development Corporation Community Development Minute, which shares educational information about the work of a community development organization in a majority minority and low-income community that surrounds the UA Little Rock campus.

Jump to question: 6.1 ▼

5. Please assess the impact that your CPB funding had on your ability to serve your community. What were you able to do with your grant that you wouldn't be able to do if you didn't receive it?

Little Rock Public Radio uses CPB funding to pay for national programming. This allows the stations to focus locally generated revenue on local programming. As described earlier, KUAR produces 10 local newscasts each weekday and in-depth reports on issues of interest to Arkansans. The station also uses locally generated funds to support the production of programs that highlight local arts and culture as described above. Because national programs are so important to building and maintaining a radio audience, KUAR broadcasts shows like Morning Edition, All Things Considered, 1A, Fresh Air, and Here and Now, which all provide high quality sources of news for a significant number of the US population. The CPB funding that helps pay for these programs allows Little Rock Public Radio to focus more resources on local programming and news. Losing this funding would detrimentally affect the locally focused service Little Rock Public Radio provides.
