

Our Commitment to Supplier Diversity

Diversity in all parts of our business helps enhance our competitive position, attract, and retain top talent and provide access to opportunity. As a global leader in logistics real estate, Prologis has a significant economic impact on the communities where we do business and the businesses with which we choose to partner.

To help increase economic opportunity within the global supply chain, we actively work with the best qualified businesses. Minority-owned, woman-owned, veteran-owned, disability-owned, and LGBTQ+-owned enterprises are an important element to ensuring we work with the most qualified businesses. This ensures we have the broadest portfolio of suppliers across our global supply chain.

Across our portfolio, we consider diverse suppliers when sourcing goods and services. Additionally, we are encouraging our partners to do their part to increase opportunity by tapping into diverse contractors and vendors for Prologis-related work. As part of that program, they will share information back with us, which will allow our company to have greater visibility into the real impact of our overall spending across our entire supply chain.

Diverse suppliers with U.S. service territories are encouraged to register in the supplier portal at <https://prologis.suppliergateway.com/Registration/Registration.aspx>
