CAREERS.

NAIT's technical training and applied education is designed to meet industry demand — graduates have the knowledge and skills employers want.

Work Integrated Learning (WIL) plays a large part in providing students with hands-on training to give them career-ready and professional skills to enter the workforce.

POLYTECHNIC POWER

BENEFITS OF HIRING A NAIT STUDENT:

- > Gain access to a pre-screened talent pool.
- > Learn an effective and efficient way to evaluate prospective employees.
- > See results through reduced training time and increased productivity of entry-level hires.
- > Provide your employees with an opportunity to gain leadership experience.
- > Have your WIL position posted on our student and alumni job board, where you can post any other vacancies you may have.
- > Project a positive image of your organization; student ambassadors on campus become your goodwill ambassadors.

“I gained exceptional communication skills and the confidence to share my knowledge and training effectively.”

SANJA STOJANOVIC,
NAIT RESPIRATORY THERAPY GRADUATE

“Employers noticed the adaptability and motivation of the students. They are ready for new technology challenges, and equipped with professionalism on the job. Many students continue on with the employers from their internship and we now see our grads as supervisors of the new internship students.”

WARREN BURKHOLDER,
INTERNSHIP COORDINATOR,
NAIT BACHELOR OF APPLIED
INFORMATION SYSTEMS TECHNOLOGY
