Name: _____ Date: _____

CRNA Life

Across

2. A state which there is malleable rigidity of limbs, generally unresponsive to aural, visual, or minor painful stimuli.

4. Loss of motor response (movement) due to paralysis of motor nerves

6. Stage of anesthesia; erratic breathing, irregular heart rate, nausea, dilated pupils
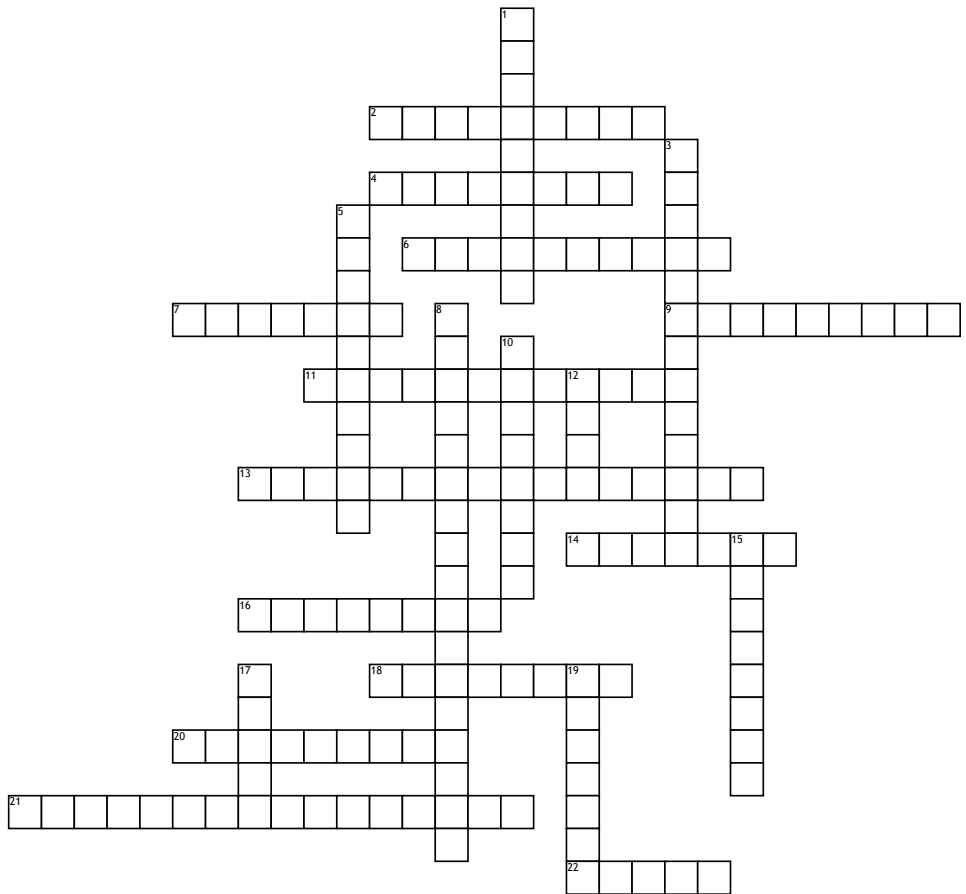

7. Deprived of adequate oxygen supply

9. Endotracheal tube has been removed from airway

11. Instrument used to open throat and larynx, so that intubation is possible

13. "Breathing tube"; Placed in trachea to ensure the airway remains open and protected so air reaches the lungs

14. Branch of medicine dealing with operative procedures to correct deformities and defects

16. flexible tube tha tis inserted into a vein or artery to deliver medication, fluids or remove fluids from body

18. The insertion of tube into the airway to protect it from collapsing; opening up the airway to give oxygen, anesthetic or medication

20. A powerful inhaled drug used for induction and general maintenance of anesthesia; Non-flammable

21. A physician who specializes in the practice of anesthesia

22. Form of anesthesia, loss of sensation in one localized part of the body

Down

1. Medication to relieve pain

3. Lying face up and on an incline with head lower than legs

5. Inhalation of oro-pharyngeal or gastric content into larynx and respiratory tract

8. combination of drugs used to medically-induce a state of reversible consciousness

10. Opioid analgesic used to supplement general anesthesia during and after surgery to control pain

12. registered nurse who has additional education & training in the administration of anesthetic medications

15. Form of anesthesia, interrupts pain sensation along a nerve in certain part of body, injected into or around the nerve

17. Implies that a specified quantity of drug was rapidly administered IV.

19. Form of anesthesia that uses paste or gel on a specific area