

The Castle

Across

2. a drawbridge that pivoted in the middle
 5. a secondary gate or door, often located at the rear of the castle
 7. protective wall at the top of a fortification, around the outer side of the wall-walk
 8. a deep trench, usually filled with water that surrounded a castle
 10. a round tower, built into a wall
 11. courtyard within the walls of a castle
 16. vertical sliding wooden grille shod with iron, suspended in front of a gateway, designed to protect the gate
 17. inner stronghold of a castle
 18. war engine of the catapult type, employing tension

19. stone throwing machine worked by torsion, used as a siege weapon against castles
 20. a notched battlement made up of alternate crenels and merlons
 22. principle living quarters of a medieval castle
 23. engine resembling a crossbow, used in hurling large arrows
 25. tall, movable wooden tower on wheels, used in sieges

Down

1. a small tower, rising above, and resting on one of the main towers
 3. an earthen mound on which a castle was built
 4. a narrow, vertical slit cut into the wall through which arrows could be fired

6. a wooden bridge, leading to a gateway, capable of being raised or lowered
 9. latrine
 12. a jail, usually found in one of the towers
 13. a dungeon reached by a trap door
 14. a small tower at the end of a curtain wall, or in the middle of the outside wall
 15. part of a battlement, the square "sawtooth" between the crenels
 21. scaling of a castle wall
 24. passage between the parapet of a castle wall