

LEADERSHIP & PROFESSIONAL OPPORTUNITIES

Interested in applying your time and talents to benefit AEG's members? We're always looking for committee members!

Operational Committees

- Annual Meeting Planning
- Chapter Support
- Communications
- Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion
- Finance
- Governance
- Licensure
- Meetings Advisory
- Membership
- Publications
- Strategic Initiative
- Student & Young Professional Support

Technical Working Groups

- Coastal Hazards
- Dams & Levees
- Environmental Characterization & Remediation
- Geologic & Seismic Hazards
- Geophysics
- GEO-Unmanned Aerial Systems
- Landslides
- Naturally Occurring Asbestos
- Tunneling

"I joined AEG to meet other geologists and environmental professionals in my area. It's a great learning and networking opportunity. Consulting is a service industry, I see it not only as a job but a chance to give back. Volunteering to AEG is a way to honor that value of service."

- Frances Schultz, GEI Consultants

"I am a member of AEG because it is a professional organization that helps me grow my network and my education in the environmental, engineering and geology world. As a chapter board member, it's great to see people learning and networking with others during events and socials."

- Luke Ducey, WSP USA

ASSOCIATION OF ENVIRONMENTAL & ENGINEERING & GEOLOGISTS

Connecting Professionals, Practice and the Public

BENEFITS
of
MEMBERSHIP

(727) 940-2658 X 2004
CONTACT@AEGWEB.ORG

WWW.AEGWEB.ORG

MEMBERSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Professional ($160.00 annually)
Practicing professionals of geology or related field in engineering and science.

Student/International Student ($0)
Reserved for full time students.

Early Career ($80.00 annually)
Recently graduated student members that would like to continue as a full member. Available to previous student members for their first three consecutive years as a professional.

Affiliate ($110 annually)
Any person who does not meet the educational requirements for Professional Member but who is interested in furthering the business purpose of the Association.

Teacher ($40.00 annually)
Reserved for educators.

International ($25.00 USD)
Non-US citizens or individuals that live or work outside the USA, which meet the full member criteria.

Retired - Contact AEG about Emeritus and Senior Emeritus membership.

www.aegweb.org/membership

Why should you join AEG?

AEG promotes the value that environmental and engineering geologists bring to each project. We advocate on behalf of our members to engineering groups, other geoscience organizations, and local and national legislative leaders.

Membership benefits at AEG include but are not limited to:

Professional Development & Networking

- Access to a robust network of applied geoscience professionals.
- Continuing education credits applicable at state, national, and international levels.
- Informative, educational field trips.
- Participation/leadership opportunities in numerous operational and technical committees.
- For a nominal fee, AEG members can also join IAEG (International Association for Engineering Geology and the Environment).

Discounts & Cost Savings

- Discounts on publications, short courses and field trips.
- Registration discounts for annual meeting as well as additional forums and symposiums.
- No-cost webinars that are crucial to learning about professional research and work done by AEG members.

AEG supports members' efforts to establish, enhance, or defend professional licensure through funding, communication, and collaborative efforts.

Scholarships

- Beardsley-Kuper Geology Field Camp Scholarship
- Carolinas Scholarship
- Christopher C. Mathewson Texas Section Scholarship
- Phyllis Steckel Diversity Field Trip Grant and Academic Scholarship Fund
- Marliave Scholarship
- Martin L. Stout Scholarship
- Robert J. Watters Great Basin Chapter Scholarship
- Shlemon Quaternary Engineering Geology Scholarship
- Susan Steele Weir Scholarship
- Tilford Field Studies Scholarship
- West-Gray Scholarship

AEG Statement on DEI

AEG supports diversity, equity, and inclusion in the geosciences profession and within our Association. AEG leadership supports and promotes these values by challenging ourselves to encourage underrepresented populations to consider education and careers in geoscience. AEG fosters a welcoming and inclusive environment within Association events including our Annual Meeting, Field Courses, Short Courses, Webinars, Chapter meetings, and Committee meetings.

Publications

- AEG NEWS, published quarterly, summarizes events, local news, brief case histories and issues affecting our profession.
- Environmental & Engineering Geoscience is AEG's peer-reviewed technical journal, published quarterly.
- The AEG Insider, AEG's weekly news brief, brings you timely geoscience news stories and updates on events and activities.
- Annual publications include the Annual Report and Directory and the Annual Meeting Program with Abstracts.
- AEG also publishes several Special Publications, and regularly updates technical resources.

Career Resources/Growth

- AEG chapters throughout the United States and internationally offer opportunities to learn and network in a casual, yet professional atmosphere.
- AEG's Job Board is open to the public, and our social media sites are regularly updated with new information and employment opportunities.
- Student members are provided a forum to present their research and network with other students as well as academic, government and private sector employers. Students can take advantage of most AEG-sponsored activities at reduced or no cost.
- Volunteers opportunities allow members to gain valuable business skills such as project management, delegation, marketing, and strategic planning.