Our capacity in various transactions

The Bank will act as your agent in contracts or transactions relating to securities which are traded on an exchange, units in unit trusts and interests in mutual funds, private equity funds or hedge funds. For these contracts or transactions, the Bank may charge a transaction fee, a commission, or a charge for executing the contracts or transactions on your behalf.

For all other contracts or transactions which you have instructed the Bank to effect, the Bank will assume the position of counterparty to you, and deal with you as principal, unless otherwise notified to you. For these contracts or transactions, the Bank may earn a mark-up (also referred to as "spread") over the price at which we execute with our counterparties. In transactions where the Bank deals with you as principal, the Bank may provide an all-in price which includes the spread.

For foreign exchange transactions, precious metals (non-physical) transactions, Over-The-Counter ("OTC") options/derivatives, structured notes, dual currency investments, swaps, and swaptions, in instances where the Bank has executed the transaction at a better price with our counterparties, the Bank will retain the benefit of any price improvement provided that the spread does not exceed the maximum amount or percentage range of fees or charges as detailed in this schedule. For transactions related to non-exchange traded bonds and other fixed income instruments (excluding structured notes), the Bank will not retain the benefit from any price improvement unless otherwise communicated to and agreed with you for a specific transaction.

Our affiliation with product issuers and fund houses

The Bank is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Oversea-China Banking Corporation Limited ("OCBC"). The Bank may distribute products issued by OCBC and other affiliates of the Bank (e.g., Lion Global Investors Limited) (collectively the "Group") which in turn may be entitled to separate commissions. The Bank may recommend and/or effect transactions in which the Group has, directly or indirectly, an interest. For example, companies in the Group may have banking, advisory or other relationships and arrangements with companies whose securities are purchased and sold for your account.

Disclosure of monetary and non-monetary benefits in relation to product distribution

The Bank may receive commissions, fees, rebates or non-monetary benefits (such as free security price quotations, research publications and invitations to seminars) from any counterparty, broker, agent or another company within the Group in respect of any trades, transactions or services effected for you. You agree that the Bank is entitled to retain such commissions, fees, rebates and non-monetary benefits.

Our role during the sale of investment products (other than securities traded on an exchange)
