Who we might share your information with

- Our service providers

We work with partners, suppliers, insurers, and agencies so they can process your personal information on our behalf...but only where they meet our standards on the processing of data and security!

We only share information that allows them to provide their services to us or to facilitate them providing their services to you. For example, some of our service providers place advertising for us online, about our products and services and those of our retail partners, suppliers and third parties. As a result, where you have indicated you are happy to receive marketing from us, you might see online advertising that we have placed on the web sites you visit, or the interactive services you use.

We may transfer your personal information to other organisations in certain scenarios. For example:

- We may use a credit scoring agency as part of our due diligence to help us set an appropriate credit limit for your business when you apply for an account.
- If we are discussing selling or transferring part or all of a business, we may share information about you to prospective purchasers - but only so they can evaluate that business.
- If we are reorganised or sold to another organisation, we may transfer information we hold about you to them so they can continue to provide the Services to you.
- If required to by law, under any code of practice by which we are bound or we are asked to do so by a public or regulatory authority such as the Police.
- If we need to do so in order to exercise or protect our legal rights, users, systems and Services; or
- In response to requests from individuals (or their representatives) seeking to protect their legal rights or the rights of others.

Keeping you informed about our products and services

We may keep you informed of our Products and Services through the post, by email, text message, online, using social media or by any other electronic means. We will not send you marketing messages if you tell us not to, but we will still need to send you occasional service-related messages. If you no longer wish to receive marketing messages, you can do so by an email unsubscribe or by contacting us at the address below.
