

Staining Tips for Daly's Wood Stain

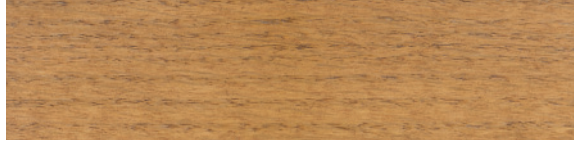

Because color may vary depending on wood type, we recommend testing your stain selection on a sample of your wood. To assure even color penetration on soft woods such as fir, hemlock and pine we advise conditioning the wood with Daly's Benite™.

Daly's Wood Stain

Continuing our reputation of quality stains and finishes, Daly's deep-penetrating, fade-resisting, oil-pigmented stains combine the beauty of a hand-rubbed finish with the protection of tung oil and synthetic resins.

Uses

Daly's stains are ideal for all interior surfaces such as furniture, cabinets, paneling, doors and floors. With the exception of siding, they are excellent for most exterior uses — such as doors, patio furniture and boats.

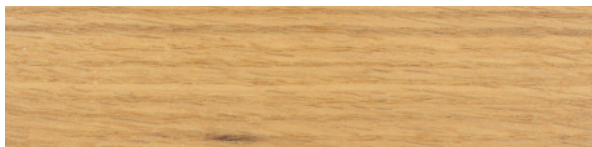

Application is simple

Daly's wood stains satisfy the needs of the professional and the expectations of the do-it-yourselfer, with easy application by brush, rag or spray. All directions and cautions on the label should be read before applying stain.
