

LU6052 1930's House in Birmingham given a face lift. Mandy and Harry dressed their first home together with a mixture of rich furnishings and delightful personal mementos. Both had owned their own houses before getting married so they had a large amount of furniture to be sorted through and selected or discarded before the house was finished.

