Organizational Overview

FABCO Plastics operates in Canada, serving many customers both nationally and internationally. Our diverse operations include the wholesale and distribution of commercial and industrial plastic components.

Supply Chain Overview

Our supply chains span 5 countries and encompass a variety of products/services. We recognize the complexity of these chains and the potential risks associated with modern slavery.

Policies and Due Diligence

Modern Slavery Policies

FABCO Plastics has established comprehensive policies to combat modern slavery. These policies cover areas such as fair labor practices, ethical sourcing, and human rights.

Risk Assessment

We have conducted a thorough risk assessment across our operations and supply chains. This process involved identifying high-risk areas, including geographic regions and specific suppliers or contractors.

Due Diligence Processes

To mitigate the risk of modern slavery, we have implemented due diligence processes that include supplier assessments, audits, and ongoing monitoring. Our procurement practices prioritize ethical sourcing, and we work collaboratively with suppliers to address any identified issues.

Training and Capacity Building

To raise awareness among our employees and stakeholders, FABCO Plastics has implemented training programs that highlight the signs of modern slavery and reinforce our commitment to ethical practices. We believe that education is essential in preventing and identifying instances of modern slavery.

Monitoring and Compliance

Monitoring Processes

We consistently monitor to assess compliance with our modern slavery policies. This includes supplier audits, third-party assessments, and internal reporting mechanisms.

Compliance with Legislation

FABCO Plastics is committed to complying with all relevant modern slavery legislation. During the reporting period, we have maintained compliance and promptly addressed any instances of non-compliance.

Reporting and Communication

Internal Communication

Internally, we communicate our commitment to combatting modern slavery through regular updates, training sessions, and channels for reporting concerns. Employees are encouraged to raise any issues they may encounter.

External Communication

Externally, we communicate our efforts through our website, and engagement with stakeholders. We believe in transparency and are committed to sharing our progress in addressing modern slavery.

Conclusion and Future Actions

In conclusion, FABCO Plastics remains dedicated to eliminating modern slavery in all its forms.
