

Recording: Well, the virus has now killed more than a hundred people in China, and new cases have been confirmed around the world.

So, you don't want to frighten the American public.

France and South Korea have also got evacuation plans.

But you need to prepare for and assume-

Strongly warning Americans to avoid all non-essential travel to China.

... that this is gonna be a real serious problem.

France, Australia, Canada and the US, Singapore, Cambodia, Vietnam. The list goes on.

Health officials are investigating more than a hundred possible cases in the US.

... Germany, [00:00:30] a man has, uh, contracted the virus.

The epidemic is a demon, and we cannot let this demon hide.

... Japan, where a bus driver, uh, contracted the virus-

Coronavirus has killed more than 100 people there and infected more than 4500.

We have to prepare for the worst always, because if you don't and the worst happens-

Speaker 2: War Room: Pandemic. Here's your host, Steven K. Bannon.

Chris Christie: Well, it's obviously not the way our democracy [00:01:00] works, and I'm quite frankly proud of the Georgia Secretary of State and his team that was on the phone that dealt with that entire call, as it seemed to me unemotionally, directly and under the law. And that's what we all have to do. Uh, listen, you know, Jake, I supported the president both in '16 and in '20, help him prepare for his debates both times, um, and voted for him both times. But the election is over. Um, Joe Biden has been elected President of the United States. He'll be sworn in on January 20th, he will be confirmed this Wednesday.

And- [00:01:30] and what I hope, um, members of the House and the Senate focus on is the future in terms of how we run elections. I don't think anybody, Jake, liked the way election night ran this time, um, you know, waiting so long for results, there being kind of a disorderly type of process because we were doing new things based upon COVID. I think what the Congress should be doing is be forward-looking and say, "Okay, how can we help the states make our election process for 2022 more orderly, more accessible, [00:02:00] um, and fair to everybody?" And that's what we should be focused on. Looking straight ahead and not looking in the rear-view mirror.

Speaker 4: And then you have Bob Gates and then you go to Jim Mattis and Mark Esper and others. But all of us came to the same conclusion: that we are in danger, that we have a- a commander-in-chief who is not above trying to use the military in order to achieve a political objective.

Steven K. Banno...: But we're in a fight right now. We don't have time or energy to get diverted. Combination, [00:02:30] was in the buried lead in the New York Times, combination of the deplorables with real information, the diaspora of China, the law of Beijing, old hundred names of real information. Guess what it's gonna do? It's gonna take down the Chinese Communist Party. It's gonna break the back of the business model of the reset.

Everybody, "Oh, why aren't you talking about Matt Gates? Why aren't you talking about this and that and that?" Grow up. Hold the line. Holding the line is not gossiping. "Did [00:03:00] you hear what happened in- d- i- in third period today? Did you hear what they said? Did you hear what Sally said about you? She passed a note." Grow up. We're in a war right now.

Donald Trump: There's nothing the radical Democrats will not do to get power that they so desperately crave, even the outright stealing of elections like they're trying to do with us. We're not gonna let it happen. Over the past... And I hope Mike [00:03:30] Pence comes through for us, I have to tell you.

Multiple people: Yeah!

Donald Trump: I hope that our great vice-president, our great vice-president comes through for us. He's a great guy.

Multiple people: ... Trump! Fight for Trump!
Fight for Trump! Fight for Trump! Fight for Trump! Fight for Trump! Fight for Trump!
Fight for Trump! Fight for Trump! Fight for Trump! Fight for Trump!

Fight for Trump!

Speaker X: [inaudible 00:03:59]

Multiple people: Fight for Trump! Fight for Trump! Fight for Trump! Fight for Trump! Fight for Trump! Fight for Trump! Fight for Trump! Fight for Trump!

Speaker X: [inaudible 00:04:12]

Steven K. Banno...: [00:04:00] Live from the nation's capital, it's the fifth of January, the Year of our Lord 2021. You're in the War Room. A packed show today on the eve of one of the most important days in American history, and that will be tomorrow. Mitch McConnell calls it the most important vote that senators who sat as jurors and voted in only the [00:04:30] third impeachment trial in the history of this republic, he's told them, "It's the most important vote you will ever have in your entire career."

Okay. Today we're... It's packed, we're gonna try to fit everything in. We've got Richard Baris, the pollster, about Georgia. We've got Louie Gohmert on his, uh, not just his lawsuit, but also his plan. Uh, we've got Rabbi Spero, uh, we've got Peter Navarro, uh, Sean Parnell up in Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania is exploding. The, uh, legislature comes back today. They don't need a special session. No excuses, can't... Cutler can't hide, Corman can't hide. No more hiding. [00:05:00] No more hiding. Maggie, uh, VandenBerghe will be on later to talk to us about what's happening today at 1:00 in the city, which is gonna be pretty explosive.

Um, we've got Jack Posobiec, OANN American News. He's in with, uh, s- Raheem Kassam, uh, Jack Maxey, um, and, uh, we've got the, uh, president's, uh, lawyer. We're gonna start off with America's mayor, uh, and his generation's Elliott Ness, a man who has prosecuted some of the toughest cases in the history of this country. He's been a mayor through one of the most trying days of America's history back in 9/11, uh, [00:05:30] and he's told us that he thinks this is, uh, actually a tougher period in American history.

I want to cut to the chase today, Mayor. Mayor, your theory of the case.

Rudy Giuliani: [inaudible 00:05:38].

Steven K. Banno...: And this is in the next 42, 72 hour... 48 hours, 72 hours, is all gonna get laid out, uh, and obviously be debated, right, besides the evidence. Um, is... And Chris Christie right there saying you've got no evidence, this is all a sham. And people have got to remember... Let's talk about Chris Christie for a second. I don't think we got the picture up there of the... on the beach. Chris Christie was not with us in '16. Everybody has to [00:06:00] focus on one thing: Billy Bush weekend, okay? Billy Bush weekend is when the establishment bail-bolted on us, all bolted... Christie bolted on us. All the s- summer soldiers and sunshine patriots, okay?

Uh, and Rudy Giuliani didn't. Rudy Giuliani went out on that Sunday and did a full Ginsberg. Full Ginsberg is about going... Uh, there's- there's Christie. That's Christie in all his glory. It's all his glory. By the way, your poll, uh, Raheem, had 35,000 respondents?

Raheem Kassam:

Yeah.

Steven K. Banno...:

Thi- 35,000 respondents, and... about running for president. 35,000 [00:06:30] respondents, and what percentage wanted, uh, Chris Christie to run for president?

Raheem Kassam:

up on 1.2% (laughs).

Uh, I believe it was w-... ended

Steven K. Banno...:

1.2% Chris Christie. Okay. Uh, the, um... And by the way, that's before we do an overall beatdown, which we're gonna start doing. Um, just a term of art, that's just a term of art. Okay. Um, and he bailed on us on Billy Bush weekend, first guy out the door. Right? Uh, but Rudy Giuliani didn't, right? Uh, Boris Epshteyn didn't, right? Mark Meadows didn't, and Mark Meadows' wife down in North Carolina, Mark Meadows didn't. Mark Meadows stood tall. Pat Cipollone stood tall. [00:07:00] Names of guys I'm throwing around all through this, hey, they were there in '16 at the inflection point. It could have been all over. And Rudy Giuliani was our leader right? The same posse you see today is the same posse then. We were 14 point... 12 or 14 points down by Sunday afternoon. Didn't matter. That's not what the election is about.

And that's the... Right now this is about closing on the biggest landslide in American political history, and we have the receipts. Mayor, your theory of the case [00:07:30] that will be presented over the next couple of days is what? Lay it out to people.

Rudy Giuliani:

I think it's best described as two cases that come together. Uh, case number one, the illegal activities in each of the six to eight states that are gonna be challenged, meaning they conducted an illegal election. The laws of a p- presidential election are set by the state legislature. Clearest thing in the world; it's in the Constitution. The Constitution says state legislature regulates the manner in which [00:08:00] the electors are selected. The states, Pennsylvania, Georgia, being two of the most egregious, Wisconsin, violated those laws in significant ways. For example, they decided in Pennsylvania you didn't have to check signatures for Pennsylvania's, uh, Democratic areas, (laughs) although they checked signatures in the Republican areas. In, uh, in Georgia, they decided to do the same thing. They went up... They trained their workers not to check signatures. [00:08:30] Violates the law. If you aren't gonna change signatures, you've got to get the state legislature to change the law. They can't change it.

Uh, they decided to let in people's pure mail-in ballots that were defective. So, if I had a mail-in ballot, I'm a Democratic worker, I can go and have you fix the ballot against the law. Uh, they allowed young- younger people, underage people, to vote. They allowed you to vote without checking your registration. All of these things. These are all illegalities [00:09:00] understate law. So, you argue both to the Congress and to the court it's an illegal election. The- the- the- the thrust of argument to the Congress, to the electoral college, is those votes should be disqualified. Before you get to did Biden get them or the... Trump get them, those electors are disqualified, on the basis that they participated in an illegal election. And the words they use in the Constitution and the law is they were not regularly [00:09:30] selected. They were irregularly selected, meaning they were selected illegally.

So, that's one v- very big part of the case that Professor Eastman is probably America's biggest expert on. He's been preparing this for four months. So, we're ready for that argument, which I predict will take place before the Supreme Court sometime in the next t- probably seven days. There's more... That's one of the things that has to be confirmed.

Second one is, in addition to that, [00:10:00] they carried out horrendous, massive acts of fraud, voter fraud, theft, uh, substitute ballots, made-up ballots. Best example, Pennsylvania. They had to make up a 800,000 lead, which is statistically impossible. They did it by pushing all the Republicans out, nobody watching, and they counted 680- s- si- 684,777 ballots, no [00:10:30] one ob-... They cou- counted them in secret, no one observing. Every one of those ballots illegal as a result of, as a result of their illegal activity.

Uh, they allowed dead people to vote, they allowed inmates to vote, they allowed, um, underage people to vote. Now, the underage... When you say "underage people," you should understand it sounds a little strange, like, 16... I'm sorry, 65,000 underage people voted in Georgia, enough to reverse the election [00:11:00] and put it to Trump, by the way. Those people didn't vote. Those kids didn't go vote.

Uh, Steve, those are the hallmarks of a phony vote. They want to vote a phony person, a nonexistent person. When a person votes, they create a registration. They're doing it so fast they sometimes pick somebody who's 16. That's what happened. Of those 65,000 votes, 45,000, if you go investigate it'll be totally fictitious people.

Steven K. Banno...: Okay.

Rudy Giuliani: In- in Pennsylvania, [inaudible 00:11:31] ballots-

Steven K. Banno...: Ha- [00:11:30] hang on, I want to stop... hang- hang on, ha- hang- hang- hang on, I want to stop right there. The t- the 200,000 thing we've got in Pennsylvania we're gonna get to in a second, but I want to stay right here.

Rudy Giuliani: Mm-hmm.

Steven K. Banno...: I've got Chris Christie in the cold open saying there was no fraud-

Rudy Giuliani: No.

Steven K. Banno...: ... right?

Rudy Giuliani: I don't know where he has been.

Steven K. Banno...: A- and- and I want... He's- he's singing the t-

Rudy Giuliani: I don't know where he has been.

Steven K. Banno...: He's singing this, he's... Uh, that's what I'm gonna get to, hang on. He's singing this... It's "Raffensberger," is it? I'm finally gonna pronounce this right.

Rudy Giuliani: Raffensperger.

Steven K. Banno...: Raffensperger, thank you guys, I want to pronounce... okay. In the New York Times... I've got to go back to this, 'cause this is a serious tell. [00:12:00] They had the whole conversation with the president. They have the- the front-page article, it looks like the end of the Vietnam War, banner headline.

Rudy Giuliani: (laughs)

Steven K. Banno...: But not one quote from Trump talks about when Trump was talking about the numbers. That's when we did it yesterday. We di- we cut it two ways yesterday. We cut it first in the morning-

Rudy Giuliani: I remember.

Steven K. Banno...: ... with Mi-, you know, Trump saying a number, Mika melting down. Then afterwards with, uh, Sperling. So, uh, m- uh, Rudy, uh, Mayor, I want to stick on the 65,000. How can, how can Raffensperger and Christie, and- and quite frankly, our old colleagues over at Breitbart, [00:12:30] Alex Marlow, I think, was arguing this morning there's no vo- voter fraud, how can people a- ... And McCarthy and some of these guys haven't stepped up, uh, Mike Lee, you know, 1- Lindsey Graham is not there... how... Uh, Tom Cotton's bailed on us. How can they sit there, right? You say there's 65,000 underage people. Well, clearly the names were taken just to use the vote.

Ho- ho- w- what evidence do you put for them on the dead people, which they say is two, you say it's 800, but you've got 10,000 that you're proving, but you've got a hard 800? They have no [00:13:00] underage people, you have 65,000. This is the heart of the m- massive voter fraud. What do you have, a- and you can show, that actually backs that up, that refutes they're sitting there going, "There's been no fraud at all"? What do you have on both dead people and- and un- the 65,000 underage?

Rudy Giuliani: The easiest thing to do is to go to the list of dead people (laughs) in Atlanta, in that area, in 2020. The first person to die in 2020 in Atlanta [00:13:30] was a woman named Betty Cook. She died on January 1st, 2020. She voted on October 27th, 2020. Betty Cook. We've checked. Betty Cook is in a grave, and somehow came out of the grave and voted, along with 814 other people in the year 2020. We have gone, we have all their names. All their names a- are listed. We've checked. If not all of them [inaudible 00:13:59]-

Steven K. Banno...: Mayor, we've got... [00:14:00] Mayor, we're go- Mayor, we're gonna j- we're gonna jump to commercial break. Just please hang on. But this is for everybody to understand. What Mayor Giuliani, he's got two parts. One, these- these were illegal elections, and they're gonna prove these were illegal elections, like in Pennsylvania and these other places. That's number one. The second part of the case is there are massive voter fraud, and he's got the receipts. He's gonna show the m- numbers, and they're gonna see the math tomorrow. This is either one thing or the other, there's no gray area here. It's either one or the other. And this [00:14:30] is why the people that support the president support the president, because it's not about Trump. It's about this republic, it's about the Constitution, it's about the country. You're either in or you're out.

We're gonna return with Mayor Rudy Giuliani in a moment.

Speaker 2: War Room: Pandemic, with Steven K. Bannon.

Recording: The epidemic is a demon, and we cannot let this demon hide.

Speaker 2: War Room: Pandemic. Here's your host, Steven K. Bannon.

Steven K. Banno...: [00:15:00] Hi, welcome back to the War Room. This is the paper of record for our republic. It is the New York Times. They make such a big deal about taking the conversation with Raffensperger, right, and making a big deal about it. Not one number is on this page. Why is that? They don't do anything that they don't think through. Look, you may not like them, but they're very smart and they're very cunning. Why is this all, there's not one number? And here's why. They can't refute the receipts.

This theory of the case from the president's lawyer... And we're gonna have Louie Gohmert o- on later, [00:15:30] we're gonna have Peter Navarro on later, we're gonna have Sean Parnell on later, we're gonna get into the details of this. Baris about polling. Two parts of the case. One, because the state legislatures by the Constitution are the guys that make the rules. You can't change the rules. These are illegal elections, right? That's the big issue we've got up in Pennsylvania. That's where Parnell is coming on.

The second part of the case is that there's massive, underlying massive voter, ballot and election fraud. Massive voter, ballot [00:16:00] and election fraud. Ladies and gentlemen, we don't need to go find a gun battle in Frankfurt. We don't need to find a server [inaudible 00:16:06], and I know that upsets some of you. Live with it, okay? We're about winning. We need focus, not fantasy. Focus, not fantasy, okay? I want to return now to Rudy Giuliani. I want... Uh, by the way, the War Room team is gonna get the list of 800. Rudy, we don't need... We're gonna put it up, and you're gonna see it, okay?

Number two, 65,000 people under the age of I think 17 and a half is the cutoff, [00:16:30] and obviously that was... They just needed names. But how di- how did you go back and prove that? How do you have the receipts of that, and Raffensperger and Sperling don't have the receipts for that? And Chris Christie says, "Hey, they're the guys. They say it's non- it's, uh, nonsense." How- how... And by the way, anytime in the call that Raffensperger brought up a number, he was wrong. He was wrong. He didn't know the numbers. Listen to the audio, listen to... Go to the National Pulse, listen to the audio. Trump's like a chairman CEO closing a complicated [00:17:00] deal where he knows every set of math, bang, bang, bang, bang, bang, bang, and Raffensperger is some bozo commercial banker, has no idea what he, "I- I, you know, I don't know. You know, it's two dead." "No, it's 800... It's actually 10,000. I've got 800 names right here. So, suck on that."

Mayor Giuliani: 65,000 underage. How do you prove that?

Rudy Giuliani: You prove that... uh, r- uh, uh, pretty darn simple. You look at the record. The record was clear as to their, as to their date- date of birth. They got those, [00:17:30] they got those from drivers' records. They're mostly young people who have, uh, like, those junior licenses and licenses or permits to drive. Some states, you go down as low as 15 years old for that. So, they use those lists, put them into the voter registration list, and attach the vote to them. So, some crooked guy made out the ballot, but they have to attach a name to it. Otherwise you have what happened in Pennsylvania, you have 205,000 [00:18:00] votes more than voters.

And they figured these young people would never show up to vote. They didn't think anybody would ever check. I don't think they've ever checked an Atlanta election before. They've cheated for 50 years. So, they end up with 65,000 underage people voting, of which, right, we haven't finished the whole list, but I- I wouldn't be surprised if 40,000 of them are totally made up and the rest are young people who actually did vote, and possibly made a mistake.

These are the... what we call the indicia of fraud. People [00:18:30] that live with no address. Even a homeless person can give you, like, a street, or put a street down. "I live on this street," or, "I live on that street." But homeless people have... They- they actually want to give you a place they feel some connection to. I know this from New York. A totally phony address is, "Where do you live?" (laughs) "No address." No address, none. They can't even make one up, 'cause they're doing ballots [inaudible 00:18:58]-

Steven K. Banno...: Okay, we're- we're... Hang- hang... We're- w-... Ha- [00:19:00] hang on, hang on, Mayor. So, we're gonna go back and [inaudible 00:19:02]-

Rudy Giuliani: These guys are liars. I mean, they're complete-

Steven K. Banno...: Okay, fine.

Rudy Giuliani: Raffensperger and [inaudible 00:19:05] are liars.

Steven K. Banno...: [inaudible 00:19:06]

Rudy Giuliani: The two fat guys are liars.

Steven K. Banno...: Okay. Mayor, you- you've been... You're one of the greatest prosecutors in the history of this country. For the younger audience that doesn't know, he put away... Did you see The Sopranos? Rudy Giuliani put all the f- ... The five families they're all worried about that, you know, because of the l- guys in New Jersey, the five families, Rudy broke them all. First time the mafia was broken. He broke the same cartel on Wall Street shortly thereafter. The greatest prosecutor maybe [00:19:30] in the history of the country. Rudy, so you're... This is about prosecuting the case. I want to go back to the impeachment. You notice on the November 3rd election, virtually none of the $6 billion spent in- in- in, uh, advertising really brought up the impeachment. It was just not an issue. Why? Rudy Giuliani was his lawyer. He took all the grief and all the flak, but at the end of the day it was Rudy was ca-... Rudy was the quarterback. And he took all this grief.

There were no damage to the president, no damage to the president, because Rudy [00:20:00] Giuliani had a steady hand on it, said, "Hey, stay steady, stay steady. We're over the target. Don't panic. Don't panic, don't panic," like on Billy Bush weekend and during the impeachment. This is the third time. Rudy's got it. He's mocked and ridiculed, he's on Saturday Night Live, all the... Hey, you know what? We won through Billy Bush weekend, and we won on the impeachment, and you've got the sa-... You've got Rudy. He's got his hand on the thing.

Rudy, here's the question: There you had time to brief Jim Jordan, right, the managers? You had the time to brief the Ted Cruzes and these brilliant guys we've had [00:20:30] in the Senate, these prosecutors. Have you had the time... You and Boris and Jenna and the rest of the team have lived and breathed this, even before the election, right, on the 1- the elections part. But the massive fraud, you've had teams, you've had analysis, you've got numbers. I've got another great report your team did last night in the middle of the night, critical issues with, uh, t- uh, battleground states s- filled with data. Peter Navarro on [Leia's 00:20:54] show filled with data. Have you had the time to p- to pa- pass this over to Mo Brooks, Jim [00:21:00] Jordan and those guys in the House and the Senate that are gonna have to prosecute the case starting tomorrow?

Rudy Giuliani: Well, I should first e- emphasize the fact you never have enough time. I mean, I've tried a hundred cases and I helped people with almost as many, and I never was prepared (laughs), even though I was. There's always one more thing you want to do. I would say the House is very well-prepared. They've been living this case in a way from the time it started, and it may be the connection the House has to the president, having defended him during the [00:21:30] impeachment. They've almost not stopped, and, uh, e- and- and Jim is now the leader. Mark Meadows and Jim were the leaders before, but Mark is in the White House now. But I find their organizational system, uh, I really admired it during the impeachment, and I think it'll be the same here.

These facts are a little newer. They're getting them, they're learning them. Obviously they don't know them like our legal team who have been living with them for, you know, for three months. But they're g- they're g- they're gonna, they're gonna be there, and they're gonna do a good job. And we're almost in a situation [00:22:00] where we have more facts than we need, so if they leave a few out I'm not gonna (laughs) go crazy.

The Senate came to it a little later. Uh, we're in the process now of preparing them. I would like to have had more time, but you've got some tremendous talent in the, in the Senate. I mean, Ted Cruz is one of the best appellate lawyers in the world, um, and Mr. Hawley, who's very, very young, uh, was considered to be a really, really fine prosecutor. I'd like to get Lindsey in the battle, [00:22:30] because, um, whatever else we think about Lindsey, and he's a friend of mine, he's one hell of a lawyer. And not all of them are. Yeah, not all of them are. The, uh, uh, you- you... We know, um, the people who make the long speeches and they don't really ask the question, and... Yeah, the... We don't have time for that. Louie Gohmert in his own way, which is colorful, and- and he's, like, the country lawyer that'll make you laugh, and then you vote convict because he wants you to.

So, I- I like the talent we have. I'd like to have more time to prepare. [00:23:00] Uh, you almost never have it. But- but, uh, Steve, we have so many facts I guess is what I'm saying, is we can blow a few and, I mean, if- if you ask me, "Was there voter fraud in Philadelphia, in Pennsylvania?" Philadelphia, just even Philadelphia, we'd be on for the rest of the show, if I told you all of it.

Steven K. Banno...:

Yeah.

Rudy Giuliani:

I mean, this is massive.

Steven K. Banno...:

Okay. I- I know you've got to,

you- you... um, and-

Rudy Giuliani: That's the, tha... uh, you know, maybe more the... more important than anything else, we've got to get them to see it's massive. This is not a little movie.

Steven K. Banno...: This, okay. I- I- I- I-

Rudy Giuliani: This is a gigantic movie.

Steven K. Banno...: I- [00:23:30] I want to go back. This is the point I want to make. In the theory of the case â€" It's in two parts, ladies and gentlemen, we've asked this â€" the theory of the case, it's illegal elections across the board, and he's gonna walk through state by state. Eastman's gonna walk through the constitutionality of it. The second part, it is massive. Take you number two pencil out and underline that: massive voter fraud, massive ballot fraud, massive election fraud. And they've got the receipts, and they're gonna show that, for two hours per state or however this works out.

We've got about [00:24:00] two minutes, Mayor. Your closing argument of what our audience... We always want to be ahead of the curve, what should people be looking for over the next couple of days? What are the tells? We already see a tell. They don't want to talk about any math. They never want to talk about any math. But what are other tells? What- what are other things our audience should be looking for?

Rudy Giuliani: Well, I mean, they don't, because actually there's a debate among us as to what the strongest part of the case is. I think you and I, uh, have agreed in a way the numbers are, 'cause [00:24:30] the numbers don't lie when you can prove the-

Steven K. Banno...: Yeah.

Rudy Giuliani: ... 817, the 817 people who are dead, and we have their date of death and the date they voted six months later, that's not a lie. We... You- you can go to the cemetery and see the body, uh, see- see the, see the grave. You can go talk to the family. We've talked to some of the families. The- the 2,500 felons, half of whom are in prison when the ballots were brought to them. That's not a lie. That's [00:25:00] the truth. The... And how about the film of the theft in Fulton County where if you spent a little time, you could count the number of ballots that were stolen. There were no observers. Automatically under the law of Georgia, those are 30,000 illegal votes that must be taken out of that county that Biden won 8 to 2, and it's not just 30,000. Somehow, like the loaves and the fishes, they multiplied into 130,000.

Steven K. Banno...: ([00:25:30] laughs) getting ma-
[inaudible 00:25:31]

Rudy Giuliani: And we have the computer printout showing that. The... We have it showing that.

Steven K. Banno...: Ma- Mayor, yeah, Mayor, hang on, hang on. Okay.

Rudy Giuliani: They cheated him out of 110 votes in that one, in that one [inaudible 00:25:40]-

Steven K. Banno...: Okay.

Rudy Giuliani: ... uh, nine-hour film.

Steven K. Banno...: All day long we're gonna do this with National Pulse. W- last thing. Uh, tonight you're gonna break another, uh, Common Sense with Rudy that everybody's got to see. What time can people get your podcast?

Rudy Giuliani: They can get it at 6:00, and we're gonna talk about the options that they may see on- on Wednesday. In other words, there [00:26:00] are about four scenarios of what can happen on Wednesday-

Steven K. Banno...: Yeah, you've got to watch this. Yeah.

Rudy Giuliani: ... and I kind of get them ready for it. Like, it's almost like-

Steven K. Banno...: Yeah.

Rudy Giuliani: ... I almost feel like, uh, Madden, uh, describing a football game coming up. (laughs)

Steven K. Banno...: Yeah. Yeah. Yeah. No, that's good. You've called the play, you're gonna run the play. Mayor Giuliani, uh, we're gonna put your Twitter account up, we're gonna put it... God bless you, you've got prayers. Uh, the- the nation, the Trump movement, and people who want to defend this republic, have your back. Go with God. You've done it before on Billy Bush weekend in '16, and then on the impeachment. [00:26:30] Third time's a charm, sir.

Speaker 2: War Room: Pandemic with Steven K. Bannon.

Recording: The epidemic is a demon, and we cannot let this demon hide.

Speaker 2: War Room: Pandemic. Here's your host, Steven K. Bannon.

Steven K. Banno...: Okay, we've got breaking news, Jack Maxey.

Jack Maxey: Some conflicting breaking news. Roll Call reporting just a few-

Steven K. Banno...: Well, hold... Stop, stop. That's not what I said.

Jack Maxey: Breaking news. Iowa Senator Charles Grassley-

Steven K. Banno...: Stop, stop. When we [00:27:00] call the play, we run the play. Okay? When we call the play, we run the play. Jack Maxey's got breaking news here in the War Room. What would that breaking news be, Jack?

Jack Maxey: Iowa Senator Charles E. Grassley, the Senate president pro tempore, says he and not and Vice-President Mike Pence will preside over certification of electoral college votes, since we, quote, "Don't expect him to be there." Grassley said he will listen to the debate, and that, quote, "It would be really wrong for me to say I have my mind made up." This is 25 [00:27:30] minutes ago.

Steven K. Banno...: Okay, okay. Stop. That is 20... Let's mark the time. That is at what time? That is at, uh, 10... around 10:00? Ro- sh- 10:00 and a-

Jack Maxey: 10:08, say.

Steven K. Banno...: 10:08. That's reported by Reuters. I want to ta-

Jack Maxey: Roll Call.

Steven K. Banno...: Roll Call, which is one of the best sources in town up there, the hill, and Roll Call magazine. I want to take a deep breath. At 10:08 I want to reread that, Jack Maxey. What did they say?

Jack Maxey: Iowa Senator Charles E. Grassley, the Senate president pro tempore, says he and not Vice-President Mike Pence will preside over the certification of electoral college [00:28:00] votes, since we, quote, "Don't expect him to be there." Grassley said he will listen to the debate, and that it, quote, "Would be really wrong for me to say I have made my mind up."

Steven K. Banno...: Okay. Here's the buried lead. The buried lead is at 10:08. The buried lead is, "We don't expect him to be there." We don't expect him to be there. And Charles Grassley, and- and, you know, they... that office, as- as- as dignified as- as Senator Grassley [00:28:30] is, is not telling Roll Call like that unless they talked about it beforehand. Now, that's not the complete story, right? Although Jack Maxey wanted to give the punchline-

Jack Maxey: (laughs)

Steven K. Banno...: ... we held him back (laughs), okay? This is... But this is the theater of drama, right? Okay. Now, Raheem Kassam, that's not actually the entire story, is it, sir?

Raheem Kassam: That's correct. At 10:19 a.m., Nicholas-

Steven K. Banno...: That would be, that would be 11 minutes later.

Raheem Kassam: That's correct. Nicholas Fandos, who is the congressional correspondent for the New York Times, tweets, "A Grassley spokesman clarifies that the [00:29:00] senator does not, quote, 'Have any indication Pence won't be present,'" end quote. Grassley, he said, was trying to explain that as president pro tempore of the Senate, he would fill the chair if Pence does not show or steps out for a break.

Steven K. Banno...: Buried lead. If Pence does not show or steps off the floor. Now, hmm. Hmm. How did that get circulated? Okay? Just- just listen. [00:29:30] All hell is going to break loose tomorrow. Just understand this. All hell is going to break loose tomorrow. It's gonna be moving, it's gonna be quick, you've got to get into Raheem's Twitter feed, you've got to get into Posobiec's Twitter feed. There's gonna be many moving pieces. Remember, just... It's the fog of war. Just keep- keep- keep- keep focused on what's important.

Here's what's important: Rudy Giuliani, the President's lawyer, just laid out the theory of the case. There's two parts. One, illegal elections. You heard Sean- Sean Parnell last night. Remember, Jack, about Pennsylvania? [00:30:00] Sean Parnell is coming back to talk about Pennsylvania again. Illegal elections and how are they certified, the process. The con-... That's the constitutional part.

The other is the receipts, the massive voter, ballot and election fraud. And you've already seen, right, this whole... And- and trust me, when they're, when they're at the hill at n- 10:08 with something that well-formed, and then 1- 11 minutes later they're walking it back to the New York Times, right, that shows you the kind of conflict behind the scenes. [00:30:30] So, there's a lot of moving pieces. Okay, one of the-

Raheem Kassam: A- a-

Steven K. Banno...: Yeah, go ahead.

Raheem Kassam: Can I get-

Steven K. Banno...: Yeah, yeah, I want you to jump in.

Raheem Kassam: There's sev- there's several buried leads in here that should set massive alarm bells ringing. And by the way, I just want to bring back attention-

Steven K. Banno...: By the way, my alarm bell, when Jack t- read me the first one-

Raheem Kassam: [inaudible 00:30:42] yeah.

Steven K. Banno...: ... my alarm bell was already off. It was [inaudible 00:30:43] (laughs).

Raheem Kassam: But I just want to remind people who's been sitting here saying, "Light Pence up," for the last couple of weeks, right? That would be Raheem Kassam. And here's the biggest buried lead.

Steven K. Banno...: I think the President of the United States, I think the President of the United States took your advice last night, wrote a line in there.

Raheem Kassam: Yeah, that's right. And- and yours, "Hold the line, hold the line."

Steven K. Banno...: Hold the-Raheem Kassam: Here's [00:31:00] the biggest buried lead. Here's how you know what that Roll Call thing-

Steven K. Banno...: Mm-hmm.

Raheem Kassam: ... what they said-

Steven K. Banno...: Mm-hmm.

Raheem Kassam: ... was actually from the mouth of Chuck Grassley. And now his spokesmen are trying to clean it up, because they gave away what they plan to do. Here's how you know. Only an 87-year-old senator still goes and briefs Roll Call.

Steven K. Banno...: Yeah, exact... They're relev... Is, uh... thinks they're relevant, is what you're saying.

Raheem Kassam: Yes.

Steven K. Banno...: Yes, exactly. A guy that's... 'Cause they're not exactly-

Raheem Kassam: You don't pick up the phone-

Steven K. Banno...: Politico, it's not- They ki- they... It's not

Raheem Kassam: It's Axios-

Steven K. Banno...: Axios, right. You're right, right. It's not Raheem Kassam: ... [00:31:30] or the s- the Steven K. Banno...: Jonathan Swan is, right? He doesn't, he doesn't know who Raheem Kassam: Right.

Jack Maxey: quotations. They have not removed it. And Roll pa- Call put it in Steven K. Banno...: a quote. So, stay tuned, ladies and gentlemen. Yes, yes. That- that- that means

Raheem Kassam: Grassley was big. But Roll Call was big when Chuck

Steven K. Banno...: (laughs) Exactly.

Raheem Kassam: Right?

Steven K. Banno...: may be big tomorrow- Well, Chuck Grassley thinks he

Cameron: They've-

Steven K. Banno...: their... Yeah. ... with- with- with- with

Cameron: They've... Roll Call has now

Steven K. Banno...: Mm-hmm. Mm-hmm.

Cameron: Call as fast as possible. ... they must have called Roll

Steven K. Banno...: want to- Yeah, abs-... Okay, I want to, Cameron: 10:34.

Steven K. Banno...: way, Roll Call is not taking... Uh, something that explosive that's gonna change [00:32:00] markets, you want to see what the market... It's gonna change markets, I don't think is, uh, is- is, uh... They're not taking that quote from a Grundoon. ... I want to make sure. By the

Chris Christie: Right.

Steven K. Banno...: Okay? That's a senior person.

Okay, I want to go to... Listen, on this show today we're gonna be jamming a lot in. We're gonna call a lot of audibles, right? So, just- just hang with us. But it's all gonna be signal, none of it's gonna be noise. I want to go now to Richard Baris, uh, the young man who's I think one of the smartest Pulsers out there, was on with our election night coverage. Richard, uh, let's go to Georgia. W- uh, what do you think [00:32:30] right now? What are you hearing? What's the turnout like? You know, uh, we've been quoting you for the last couple days, said you think it's got to be... Uh, 1.1 million people have to show up on- on game day today, and it's got to be a 60-40 split-

Richard Baris: Yeah.

Steven K. Banno...: ... for Trump vo- uh, for basically for Trump supporters to- to back the two Republicans, uh, uh, or we're gonna lose this. I think you're projecting we start on game day at 160 to 175,000 votes down. Now, did you p- add in Stacey Abrams, that, you know, she s- always comes in with another two or two- two percent up [00:33:00] through her efforts? So is the... your 175 a hard number that we've got to top?

Richard Baris: Yeah, because there are about 500,000 that are out, Steve, right? So, they're not, uh... The- they haven't been returned yet. Or about 400,000, actually now. So, uh, this, uh, this, I would caution everybody, you're probably not gonna get a race call tonight unless one side blows it wide open, which I... you know, looking at the numbers, I just don't see happening. Uh, there's- the-... W- we're- we're at the point now where we're looking at almost presidential election turnout. There were five million votes, just under, [00:33:30] in November. There are three million... over three million in-person, uh, votes that were already cast, or close to, and then, uh, uh, if you count, uh... or early vote. And over two if you count in-person, and about another million for absentee. So, we're already almost there. If Republicans can put another 1.1, another Trump-sized election day, uh, then they can, they can make it close. They can w- even win it. But, uh, they- they- they need a big turnout today.

Steven K. Banno...: Well, hold on. You... Do you, do- do- do you need, uh, d- uh, do you need [00:34:00] 1.1 million total, or 1.1 million Republicans today?

Richard Baris: Oh, no, total. Total. That would be a lot.

Steven K. Banno...: Total. And- and- and then split, and- and-

Richard Baris: That would be a real heavy lift, yeah. Total.

Steven K. Banno...: I know it. And the splits, and the split, and the split 60/40, is it you need a 60/40 split on 1.1 million turnout, right?

Richard Baris: Right. Or they can... I mean, if they get a million they can, they can still do it, if they get a little bit, uh, higher margin on election day. Uh, or it could be that they even do better in the e- uh, the early. But we're going off of what we saw in November, and from what our polling shows, which is pretty [00:34:30] cl- pretty consistent.

Steven K. Banno...: Um, okay. I want to go to... Uh, w- what are, what are your sources telling you now w- uh, for the early morning go and... 'Cause Atla- uh, the Georgia vote, particularly the rural vote, is a get-out-in-the-morning vote, go to work.

Richard Baris: Yeah.

Steven K. Banno...: The urban vote is... A lot of it's... It comes in the afternoon. What are you hearing about turnout this morning?

Richard Baris: These things are always, uh, inc- you know, inconsistent, but... or unreliable is a better word. But I am hearing that in the end it does look like people are getting out, [00:35:00] holding their noses and getting out. So, in our polling that's w-... The problem area was the central and southern part of the state, the rural especially, and- and then into the coastal regions that are Republican, and they were telling us they weren't sure if they were going to vote. Already from what we can see and what we're hearing, it does look like at least many of them, Steve, are getting out and voting anyway, they are. And that's probably n- in no small part the Donald Trump visiting yesterday. If he didn't show up, I think it'd have been over.

Steven K. Banno...: This is what I want to [00:35:30] say. You say "hold their nose." Uh, last night-

Richard Baris: Yeah.

Steven K. Banno...: ... correct me if I'm wrong, was per- was Perdue... I didn't see, I didn't see Perdue there. I saw a video. And Kelly Loeffler came up and- and gave her, "Oh, I'm gonna contest Georgia." Uh, well, Georgia ain't good enough 'cause it doesn't get you below 270, but thanks- thanks for the effort, Kelly. Somebody's got to wake her up, right? Why do you say "hold your nose," uh, Richard Baris?

Richard Baris: Yeah, people are mad, Steve. Republicans are mad, and independents who voted for Donald Trump are mad. Uh, they wanted a- a [00:36:00] fight. They wanted a bigger fight. We've polled this now three times. People can not understand why mail-in balloting was treated differently than in-person vote. It's common sense, even to large percentages of Democrats. They just, they... They're not buying it, and the ame- the number of people who believe that Georgia was stolen from Donald Trump is a majority. And it's not just driven by large numbers of Republican voters. It's driven by Republicans and independents, and about even a quarter of Democrats who said, "Yeah, probably."

[00:36:30] So, I mean, people wanted a bigger fight-

Steven K. Banno...: [inaudible 00:36:32]

Richard Baris: ... than this. This was a no-brainer, Steve. I don't know what they were doing for weeks and weeks.

Steven K. Banno...: Y- you talk about a fight. Has any... In your professional opinion, have any of the aspects that caused the fiasco we're still fighting about on November 3rd, have any of the aspects of that changed at all on this election that's taking place today?

Richard Baris: No. No. Despite the headlines, there's- there's n- uh, there's n- no dual oversight, and by... Uh, Fulton [00:37:00] County had a court-appointed supervisor. The guy was sleeping in the corner and p- and- and futzing with his phone. So, this- this idea that there's oversight there, and it's not just Fulton, it's everywhere, but, yeah, the idea that there's two-party oversight is total nonsense. That's... It- it- it- it's propaganda. It's garbage. They wouldn't know-

Steven K. Banno...: I want you-

Richard Baris: ... uh, you know, s- seven feet, eight feet-

Steven K. Banno...: Yeah.

Richard Baris: ... 20 feet away, they wouldn't know if the signature matched or not, Steve. They wouldn't have a clue.

Steven K. Banno...: Ok- okay, hang on. I want you... If we get breaking news, you guys jump in, okay? 'Cause the Grassley thing has gotten people's... [00:37:30] literally meltdown. I've got, like, 9,000 things here. Okay, uh, I want to go back to Richard Baris. Richard, uh, your job, I've got to tell you. People all over the world I know and respect were saying, hey, you and Bill McGinley on election night were unbelievable. The best coverage of anywhere, 'cause there was no... It was eight hours of, 10 hours of no happy talk, just legal and- and numbers, and everything has played out as you guys said.

I want to go back. I remember at 3:00 in the morning, at 2:00 we'd wrapped up coverage, you- you ended with Georgia, and you said... And your one thing you said, "I think we've got Georgia. He's up by X [00:38:00] amount. There's only X amount of the percentage of vote left." Just explain to people, because later you said, "Hey, don't go to bed. Wisconsin, Michigan, watch this," and you were dead spot-on. What in your mind happened in Georgia that night that's still out there? When you- you said, "Hey, I think we've got Georgia, Georgia you can lock," right? A- and yet the- the vote kept coming in. Explain to people from that night what actually happened, and why it translates to what's happening today.

Richard Baris: Yeah. People should read the Navarro report, specifically the numbers and the date and time stamps [00:38:30] that we gave them, uh, to put in that report to see what happened in the state of Georgia. So, they es- they essentially erased-

Steven K. Banno...: Uh-huh.

Richard Baris: ... a nine-point lead with n- no more than 14% of the vote out in the state of Georgia overnight. And just, you know, like we saw in the Midwest, states that were allowed to continue to dump these absentee ballots without reporting firm totals of what they had. Uh, they told everybody they were leaving, "Go- go home, uh, we're not counting anymore." They circled the block a couple times and, [00:39:00] uh, came back and began to count, and these overwhelming margins that didn't match early vote numbers we had seen prior. Steve, the only difference in the margins was time. Demographics, uh, they- th- they didn't change. So, when we get certain areas, regional areas, demographics, geography, and we can get the split in the vote, we know what margin they're breaking at, time should not be a factor in how those votes break down. And that is the only difference in what we saw in Georgia [00:39:30] and elsewhere. Really, people should go look at that-

Steven K. Banno...: Okay. Yeah.

Richard Baris: ... and they'll see what happened from midnight on in Georgia.

Steven K. Banno...: We're go- we- we- we're gonna have Navarro on at the top of the hour. We're go- we're c-... Yes or no question. Was it mathematically possible, mathe-... You're a statistician. Was it mathematically possible with 14% of the vote out to, uh, recover from a nine-point lead? Yes or no, was it mathematically possible?

Richard Baris: Yeah, le- legitimately, legitimately, highly unlikely. Highly, highly. I would say no. Like, i- in- in the state of Georgia, we have ne-... we just... There are too many firsts for me to swallow. Way too many.

Steven K. Banno...: [00:40:00] R- r- r- Richard, just hang... Uh, well, I just want to bring you back over the commercial break for one question. We're gonna ask Richard Baris when we return from a short commercial break what's his call for tonight in Georgia. Richard Baris, what's his call. We'll be back in a minute.

Speaker 2: War Room: Pandemic with Steven
K. Bannon.

Recording: The epidemic is a demon, and we cannot let this demon hide.

Speaker 2: War Room: Pandemic. Here's your host, Steven K. Bannon.

Steven K. Banno...: Okay. Breaking news [00:40:30] means you have permission to break in. What have we got?

Raheem Kassam: So, Elizabeth-

Steven K. Banno...: Don't be shy.

Raheem Kassam: I'm very shy. You know me.

Steven K. Banno...: I know (laughs).

Raheem Kassam: Elizabeth Landers over at Vice News says that, uh, Mike Pence's office says the vice-president will still be presiding tomorrow.

Steven K. Banno...: Okay, uh, Jack, what have you got?

Jack Maxey: Well, I- I tell you what. The live streams expects him to be there. Somebody said, "You watch. Pence will betray Donald Trump on Zoom." This is the kind of feelings that are there.

Steven K. Banno...: Call the play. Call the play, run the play. What have you got?

Cameron: Look, Grassley's office is out there [00:41:00] saying... In all caps they're tweeting this. "Key words, Senate debate. W- they're o- only talking about the debate, not total presiding."

Steven K. Banno...: He's there for the day, okay. I want to get-

Cameron: [inaudible 00:41:11]

Steven K. Banno...: ... Grassley's office number. I want to get it up on the... Get the guys in Denver, ca-, uh, Cameron. I want to get it up on the screen. I want the Donald.win, I want, uh, the hashtag #warandpandemic, and I want the, uh, live stream. You've got the... Uh, we're gonna give you information all day, in case you're so moved to maybe drop an email or call on Senator Grassley's office and tell him... [00:41:30] uh, give your unexpurgated opinion. Okay. I want to go back to Richard Baris. Richard, you're the best around. You've looked at this. Uh, you're from d- you're from down there. What do you think is going to happen tonight?
What should our audience look for as far as this race, particularly early in the evening? Do you think it's gonna get called? What should they look for, and what is your ultimate call here?

Richard Baris: Y- I think one if not both probably will not get called tonight, because if the election day turnout is- i- is what it needs to be, then we're gonna see the drips and the drips over 24, 48, [00:42:00] 72 hours, like we saw in November. Because like I said before, nothing really changed, Steve. Nothing changed. So, if you give them an inch, they'll take a foot, and this was the point I was trying to make f- you know, since the beginning of November. It really was Trump today and the rest of them tomorrow, and they did nothing about it. So, here we are.

A- I think it's gonna be close, uh, regardless. Georgia still is, uh, that kind of a state. Democrats can't run away with something. So, I think from the polling that we've done, it looked like for weeks [00:42:30] that Perdue was stronger, uh, than Kelly. I don't think that's the case now. I think Perdue hid. He- he really... Uh, the- the strategy was this... was a l-... It was almost like he g- paying somebody to tell him how to lose. I- I... This was-

Steven K. Banno...: Is it... Is there-

Richard Baris: ... very easy.

Steven K. Banno...: ... is there any doubt i-... Uh, I just want to make sure. Is there any doubt in your mind? We've begged, and John Fredericks is gonna be on next. We've begged those guys for weeks and weeks and weeks just to commit. Commit to Trump, commit to-

Richard Baris: Yeah.

Steven K. Banno...: ... a special session, commit to a special prosecutor, commit to say, "On the 6th I'm gonna no- I'm gonna stand up [00:43:00] across the board." If you commit, you're gonna win. If you don't commit and you're waffling, it's not gonna happen. Did they commit enough to win here, Mr. Baris?

Richard Baris: No, no. And I- I think Kelly probably will be closer, which is, uh, reverse, but we did see Warnock kind of collapse a little bit over a couple of week period. I think part of that is, uh, Loeffler being stronger than Perdue was, and being out, uh, acc- more accessible than Perdue was. But also Warnock has had the bad coverage that he's had, uh, y- [00:43:30] at least in alternative media, which still gets around. And people see that, and there are some voters that we- we- we know these people by now, Steve. They'll tell you, "I'm undecided," and they're really not. They just don't want to tell you they're gonna vote against Warnock. Uh, we saw it in Florida, and we've seen it before. It's pretty, you know, pretty much, uh-

Steven K. Banno...: Yeah.

Richard Baris: ... the, uh, yeah, a social bias.

Steven K. Banno...: Rich- Rich- Rich, how do people get to you? How do people get to you? How do they follow you during the day?

Richard Baris: They can follow me on Twitter while I'm still there at Peoples_Pundit (laughs), and then, uh, [00:44:00] the election results will be on People's Pundit Daily, uh, dot com, and tha- that page will be up on, uh... uh, in about an hour, actually. You can see the live results there.

Steven K. Banno...: You're amazing. Thank- thank, uh, thank you, and thank the brains, uh. your wife, the brains of the operation. So, thank you, guys, very much, the Baris, the f- Baris family.

Richard Baris: Will do.

Steven K. Banno...: Thank you. Thanks.

Richard Baris: Will do, Steve. She always sends her best to you.

Steven K. Banno...: Thanks, brother. I know who the decision-making units are. Um, that's one of the things they teach you at Harvard Business School: find out who makes the decisions. [00:44:30] Second lady (laughs). Deb... Buried lead from the worm.

Okay, I want to go now to, uh, John Fredericks. John, give us an update. What- what is the turnout like? A lot of those polls are fine, but it's the turnout model that really, that really makes it during... that really makes it during the day. So, tell us, uh, tell us what- what's the reality there.

John Fredericks: Steve, we're dancing, we're dancing on the edge of a knife. Turnout in the Republican areas that have to be there are close to [00:45:00] 2016, but not there yet. So, this thing is, uh, is razor-thin. So, it's high as a, uh-

Steven K. Banno...: 2016, uh, 2016. Hold on, 2016, the Senate?

John Fredericks: [inaudible 00:45:09] uh, I'm sorry.

Steven K. Banno...: Or is it anything close to-

John Fredericks: November 3rd.

Steven K. Banno...: ... 20- 2020. Let's get f-

John Fredericks: November 3rd, I'm sorry.

Steven K. Banno...: That would be 2020.

John Fredericks: November 3rd. Right.

Steven K. Banno...: Okay, I'm gonna hit the rewind here for a second.

John Fredericks: Sorry- sorry about that.

Steven K. Banno...: I've got John Fredericks down in Georgia. I've got John Fredericks down in Georgia, and everything's about turnout. We'll turn it over to our man in Georgia, John Fredericks. Hey, John-

John Fredericks: (laughs)

Steven K. Banno...: ... what is that turnout, what is that turnout (laughs)... What is this turnout like?

John Fredericks: We're dancing on the edge of a knife, Steve. The-

Steven K. Banno...: (laughs)

John Fredericks: ... turnout right now at 11: [00:45:30] 00 a.m. I go for a full retake.

Steven K. Banno...: Touche. You're good, you're good, you're good.

John Fredericks: [inaudible 00:45:37] Thank you. It, uh... I've got... I've been trained well. It's high, but not where it needs to be, so that means we have to hope that, uh, we're gonna get a better turnout than we are this, uh, this morning this afternoon and tonight. So, good news is we're in striking distance. Bad news is, uh, we [00:46:00] didn't get a first and 10. So, it's about a second down and seven right now. We've got a couple downs to make this. It's gonna be very, very close.

But what we're finding is, uh, two things. Number one, we've got another problem with Dominion machines. I know this is gonna shock, uh, your viewers today, but Dominion machines in several... Get this: not one or two, I heard three of the largest Republican precincts at 10:00 a.m. are down. I got this from mul- multiple people breaking [00:46:30] live into my show, and people have been told that they cannot scan their ballots. So, they come into vote, they fill it out. They're told they can't scan their ballot 'cause the machines don't work, and they're trying to get technicians in there. In the meantime, they have to make their ballot out and put it in an envelope, and the poll workers are saying, "When it's fixed, we'll scan it for you." So, there's all kinds of red flags right there. Course, uh, these are happening in Republican areas. You can extrapolate that. It could be happenstance, but that's one of [00:47:00] the things.

One of the things that, uh, Richard Baris just said that I agree a hundred percent is this myth about 8,000 poll watchers and- and all the sheriffs around, it's a, it's a complete myth. This is complete propaganda. It's the same thing as November 3rd. There's very little difference, got the same people there doing the same thing.

Steven K. Banno...: Okay.

John Fredericks: Now-

Steven K. Banno...: Okay, ha- hang o- hang on for a second, hang on for a second. I want to hold that-

John Fredericks: Sure.

Steven K. Banno...: ... in a dramatic pause. We're gonna bring you back. We're gonna cram a lot into the second hour. We've got, uh, tons of s-... We've got Peter Navarro, we've got [00:47:30] Fog City Midge, Jack Posobiec's gonna be back with breaking news. We've got Rabbi Spero. Uh, we've got Sean Parnell in Pennsylvania. It's jammed. We're gonna take a short commercial break. We're gonna return back to Georgia, and the question we're gonna start is, is this thing a sham about all these poll watchers and that? And most importantly, he said the turnout... Is the turnout a November 3rd presidential election turnout, or is it typical Senate turnout? Three million votes have already been cast. We're gonna return to Georgia in a moment.
