RISK

This is a marketing communication. Please refer to the prospectuses, KIDs and KIIDs for the Funds, which contain detailed information on their characteristics and objectives, before making any final investment decisions.

The value of an investment and the income from it can fall as well as rise as a result of market and currency movement, and you may not get back the amount originally invested.

Equity Funds: Investors should be willing and able to assume the risks of equity investing. The Funds invest in certain sectors and regions and are therefore susceptible to the performance of these sectors and regions and can be volatile.

The Guinness Multi-Asset Growth Fund and Guinness Multi-Asset Balanced Fund are multi-asset funds investing primarily in other funds which themselves may invest in equities, government bonds, fixed interest securities (which may include sub-investment grade securities), property and other investments.

The Guinness China RMB Income Fund is a bond fund. Investors should be willing and able to assume the risks of bond and fixed income investing.

Further details on the risk factors are included in the Funds' documentation, available on our website (guinnessgi.com/literature).

The equity funds are all actively managed with the Benchmark Index used as a comparator benchmark only. The Guinness Multi-Asset Balanced Fund, Guinness Multi-Asset Growth Fund and Guinness China RMB Income Fund are actively managed without reference to a benchmark.

Performance: Past performance does not predict future returns.

A WORD FROM THE CHAIRMAN

My colleagues and I founded Guinness Global Investors in 2003.

With extensive experience of building and managing successful asset management businesses at both Guinness Mahon and Guinness Flight, I wanted to create a firm providing strategies which every long-term investor could use as their core equity exposure.

The real value of equity investing comes from companies which can grow their inflation-adjusted value over the long term. This requires an attempt to analyse intelligently the drivers of future growth and a robust investment approach.

Guinness Global Investors initially managed funds with a specialist focus on such drivers: energy, including renewable energy; the re-emergence in the late 20th century of China after two lost centuries; and innovation, with which the best companies use technology and ideas to stay ahead. As our team of talented equity managers grew, we became able to offer core strategies for every investor: the saver aiming to enjoy comfort and independence in old age; the endowment, charity or pension fund providing for beneficiaries over decades. We also used our entrepreneurial experience to launch Guinness Ventures, investing in early-stage businesses and helping them to grow.

The principles underlying all our investment management embody much old-fashioned common sense. These are:

1. Put your canoe in the fastest flowing part of the stream: analyse intelligently the drivers of future growth.
2. Quality, defined objectively: for us, in terms of persistently high cash flow returns.
3. Value: identifying value lies at the heart of disciplined fund management.
4. Buy and hold: short-term trading always adds cost, but rarely returns.
5. Equally weighted portfolios: invest with conviction at the sweet spot between 30 and 40 holdings.
6. Sell discipline: review holdings regularly and confront the biases that make buying easier than selling.

In brief, we have sought to create over the last 20 years a robust, sustainable, owner-managed business, based on sound investment principles. I want to make sure that our funds remain relevant to investors in the next 20 years and beyond.

Tim Guinness, Chairman and Founder, Guinness Global Investors

A WORD FROM THE CEO

Guinness Global Investors celebrates its 20th anniversary year with positive momentum on our journey to becoming the natural choice of specialist long-only fund manager. The investment team's total assets under management have continued to grow in each year of the pandemic and post-pandemic period in a sign of investor confidence in our strategies amid market turbulence. Our team has also grown as we broaden our offering and investor base for both our long-only funds and our Ventures business. We have taken on more tools to support the development of our responsible investment approach. We have launched additional vehicles to make our strategies even more accessible to UK investors. To reflect our global outlook and client base, we have taken the name Guinness Global Investors while our structure, ownership and drive to become the next British challenger asset manager remain the same.

This ambition and our corporate culture are shaped by our ownership. Our majority shareholding by the Guinness family provides long-term stability, direction and perspective, aligned with our long-term investment horizon. Material equity ownership by senior managers creates an alignment of interests in the success of the company and engenders an atmosphere of shared intellectual enquiry and loyalty, reflected in the low turnover of staff.

I am pleased to present this overview of our strategies and the approach taken by our investment team. Together, our specialist disciplines of Equity Income, Energy, Innovation and Asia offer exposure to some key themes to help you achieve your long-term investment goals. I hope you find the following pages useful in informing your research and conversations with our sales managers and distribution partners.

Edward Guinness, CEO, Guinness Global Investors

OUR INVESTMENT APPROACH

ACTIVE MANAGEMENT

We believe in active management. We run concentrated, equally weighted portfolios, with low turnover and a value discipline.

At heart Guinness is a value (or growth at reasonable value) investor.

We seek to identify good businesses whose long-term profitability, sustained by competitive advantage and capital discipline, is undervalued by the market.

RESPONSIBLE INVESTMENT

Fundamental data and rigorous in-house research are the cornerstones of our investment process. This includes considering the impact of environmental, social and governance factors, which has evolved over time as more relevant data has become available. As proud signatories of the United Nations Principles for Responsible Investments (PRI), we are committed to adopting and implementing responsible investment principles in a manner that is consistent with our fiduciary responsibilities to clients.

As we manage our clients' assets to deliver on their mandate we assume a stewardship role. We maintain a programme of engagement with investee and potential investee companies. Our portfolio managers are empowered to make voting decisions in clients' best interests and exercise voting rights when practical to do so and we are signatories to the UK Stewardship Code.

PORTFOLIO CONSTRUCTION

Our funds are not constrained by index weightings or benchmarks. We believe investment managers should have a high conviction about all the stocks in their portfolio.

All our active equity portfolios are concentrated and equally weighted with between 30 - 40 holdings. We do this for several reasons:

It balances concentration with risk. Each position can make a meaningful contribution to performance, but stock-specific risk is capped.

It imposes a structural sell discipline. The investment team must sell an existing position to buy a new position. Therefore, they must constantly consider which of the positions no longer merits a place in the portfolio.

It imposes a discipline to add to underperformers and trim outperformers. This counters some of the key biases portfolio managers must confront, and adds a structural 'buy low and sell high' approach.

It adds to the efficiency of the process. With less need to consider position sizing and no 'tail' of distracting small positions, portfolio managers can devote more of their effort to stock selection.

OUR STRATEGIES

EQUITY INCOME

Our equity income strategies are designed to provide a growing income stream. But we begin by screening for high-quality companies. We screen for companies with the persistent cash returns to facilitate sustainable, growing dividends. Our research suggests that the market underestimates this persistence, creating a value opportunity. Each company must meet a minimum yield threshold at purchase, but we are also looking for the potential for dividend growth. Conviction and investment discipline are maintained by our concentrated, equally weighted portfolio structure.

GUINNESS GLOBAL EQUITY INCOME

The Guinness Global Equity Income strategy provides global exposure to dividend paying companies. We believe that dividend payers outperform in the long term and dividend growers do even more so. The strategy invests in an equally weighted portfolio of 35 stocks that have a minimum market capitalisation of $1bn and have achieved a 10% cash flow return on investment for at least 10 consecutive years.

GUINNESS EUROPEAN EQUITY INCOME

The Guinness European Equity Income strategy provides exposure to dividend paying companies in continental Europe. The strategy invests in an equally weighted portfolio of 30 stocks that have a minimum market capitalisation of $500m and have achieved an 8% cash flow return on investment for at least 8 consecutive years.

GROWTH

We believe good companies exposed to growth themes and with quality characteristics can deliver superior long-term shareholder returns. This combination of factors, manifest in higher-than-average returns on investment and persistent growth through the business cycle, is what we seek for our growth strategies.

We also apply the accumulated fund management expertise of the investment team in a sector-specific approach. The team applies the same investment principles, assembling sector-specific investment universes and placing greater emphasis on macro analysis.
