LETTER FROM THE WARDEN

Before I come to the changes in the Fellowship during and at the end of the 2014-15 academic year, I want to make a couple of connections with what I said in my letter last year. The first is in relation to the wonderful architecture on our island site. The ongoing programme of refurbishing the original Butterfield buildings has continued and for Old Members who return to the College after a period of time I imagine that one of the most striking revelations is the area around the porter's lodge, with the recently cleaned brickwork on Parks Road, the tunnel restored so that its creator's intentions can be properly understood and the lodge itself made much more attractive to students and visitors alike. Such is the impact of the brickwork that at Encaenia the Orator, referring to a number of building projects across Oxford, mentioned Keble with the observation that, as in a number of other places, the scaffolding had come down, in Keble's case to reveal "Keble - like the old London buses always redder than one had remembered".

The second connection is with the copper beech saplings that I mentioned had been planted around Keble's Seat on Mutter's Moor, near Sidmouth. This year I was involved in a planting much closer to home, in Pusey Quad, a few metres to the north-west of the original tree. This sapling was presented in memory of an Old Member, Mike Zola (1965), and has been positioned against the day, long after my Wardenship I hope, when nature takes its course and we have to mourn the loss of a very dear friend.

Turning to the Fellowship, this year I report the departure of six people. Two Fixed Term Fellows, Dr Anna Caughey (Old and Middle English) and Dr James Palmer (Geography), have left, James going a year earlier than expected to take up a post as Course Director for the Nature, Society and Environmental Governance MSc in the School of Geography and the Environment. Two Career Development Fellows have also departed, Dr Tracey Sowerby (Renaissance History) and Dr Stephen Clark (Quantum Networks), the latter also somewhat earlier than planned in order to enable him to take up a lectureship at the University of Bath. Mr Simon Whalley, our Director of Music has also moved on, in his case to New York to take up the similarly titled post at the Church of St Mary the Virgin, Times Square. Finally, at the end of the year, Professor Paul Jeffreys, a Fellow of Keble since 2001 and latterly the University's Director of IT Risk Management, retired.

At the 2014/15 academic year two new early career academics joined us, Dr Danyu Yang as a Research Fellow and Tutor in Mathematics and Dr Standa Zivny as a Research Fellow and Tutor in Computer Science.

In preparation for the forthcoming academic year we have three new Official Fellows and Tutors, Professor François Caron (Statistics), filling the post left vacant when Professor Gesine Reinert became a Professorial Fellow, Dr Stephen Fletcher (Organic Chemistry), filling a similar gap which was created when Professor Harry Anderson became a Professorial Fellow, and Dr Nathan Eubank filling a new tutorial post in Theology which was made possible by a generous endowment from the Kirby Laing Foundation. Dr Lucy Kaufman becomes the new Career Development Fellow in Renaissance History. We have also welcomed Mr Matthew Martin as Director of Music.

Among our existing Fellows there were, as ever, many achievements that could be recorded, but two stand out. Emeritus Fellow Professor Ralph Hanna was awarded the prestigious British Academy Sir Israel Gollancz prize for his contribution to, and prolific research in, the history of medieval books and palaeography. Professor Gesine Reinert was named Fellow of the Institute of Mathematical Statistics for her fundamental contributions to probability and asymptotic statistics and for deep and important applications in the life sciences.

Also a highlight of the year was the election of Dr Lisa Bendall, Official Fellow and Tutor in Archaeology and Rachel Hood Lecturer in Aegean Pre-History, as Junior Proctor from Trinity Term 2015 until Hilary Term 2016.

Professor Richard Darton was elected to an Emeritus Fellowship in Michaelmas 2014.

Elections to Honorary Fellowships were less numerous than last year. However, I am delighted to report that in Hilary Term Governing Body elected Anne-Sophie Mutter, the world-renowned violinist, to that distinguished group.

THE FELLOWSHIP

Warden

Phillips, Sir Jonathan, KCB (MA, PhD Cambridge)

Fellows

Kearsey, Stephen Eric, MA, DPhil, EPA Fellow and Tutor in Biology, Secretary to the Governing Body

SPORTS AND GAMES

Badminton (Men and Mixed)

Michael Greenhalgh

Keble Badminton has continued to maintain a high standard of play and improved upon last year's fine performance. The men's league results were perhaps a little disappointing: three drawn matches, one win and one loss. Nevertheless we finished third out of six teams in Division 1. However, our mixed team, having been promoted last year to Division 2, won that division with three wins and one loss and will be promoted to Division 1 next year. This was achieved with only two women playing matches, for whose support I am grateful. But, as I have written before, encouragement of Keble women to play competitively needs to be developed for continuing success. In Cuppers the men's team, having reached the semi-finals last year, did not enter the competition until the third round. We beat St Anne's and then Exeter to reach the semi-final again, where we lost a close match to University. However, we were able to win the third place playoff against Teddy Hall, so we finished Cuppers third, one place higher than last year. Our Saturday sessions continue to be regularly attended by Keble members, whether they wish to play competitively or simply for enjoyment. It would be good, however, to see more members, particularly women, moving from recreational to competitive play.

Boat Club (Men)

Samuel Warren

We have had a very successful year both on and off the water under the guidance of new coach John Redos. This started with a large influx of novice rowers, who gelled well under a rigorous training programme throughout Michaelmas, which culminated in winning Nephys Novice Regatta in early December. Meanwhile, the seniors were bolstered by the extremely fortunate addition of Nick Panza, whose background with the Yale Varsity squad and unwavering dedication to every training session lifted the standards of everyone who rowed with him.

We built on this good start with a training camp split between Abingdon and Henley. This included the inaugural Keble Trial Eights, in which 'Smoke' raced 'Mirrors' over the Henley course, with the latter triumphing by about a length. We very much hope that this will become an annual fixture; whilst the rowing wasn't the prettiest, it was the first real sign of the emerging mental toughness that was to be a staple feature of Keble's rowing this season. Back into the swing of term-time training, three men's eights trained six times a week, building a core level of fitness on the erg and up at Godstow, Keble's very own stretch of river at Port Meadow, that far surpassed even last year's erg-intensive spring programme. Blades for M1 and M2 were a good reward for this effort, although the squad as a whole were very disappointed to miss out on the Henley Colleges Boat Race, having been out-qualified by Pembroke by half a second. This nonetheless forms a central target for next year's rowers.

We entered five Men's boats this year into Summer Eights, the only college to do so. Our M4 and M5 surprised pretty much everyone by qualifying in astonishingly quick times, setting themselves up for a week of brutal rowing, encapsulated by a number of course-length pursuits for that sadly elusive bump. There was no such problem for our M3 - particular mention must go to their overbump on Friday, which will go down in the annals as one of the most exciting bumps in Keble history. M2 struggled with misfortune, crashing twice in two days to tumble down their division. It is a testament to John, and Tim Foster whose words were so valuable, that the crew reversed their run of bad luck and came back all guns firing to chase down Brasenose yards before the finish line and reclaim the position they started the week with. Finally, the M1 managed the incredible achievement of attaining Blades in Division 1, moving up to sixth and getting ever closer to the Headship, a reflection of the immense talent that boat has to offer.

A few of the squad now go to Henley under the Keble banner, and with the prospect of rowers returning in droves next year, there is no reason why 2016 can't build on the fantastic foundations laid by John Redos and all his coaching staff, including the indefatigable support of David Rhodes. With the continued generosity of Robin Geffen and Neptune Investment Management, this boat club continues to make progress back to the top of college rowing.

Boat Club (Women)

Leanne Robinson

Keble women started the year with just twelve returning rowers who began training immediately, alongside a huge recruitment drive for incoming freshers. The novices thinned to a dedicated fourteen, and we entered one boat into Christ Church Regatta. They reached the semi-finals, showing huge promise which was realised over the coming year.

After a short Christmas break, the women returned in early January for a pre-season training camp based at Henley. The opportunity to row at such a historically prestigious place was inspiring, and the camp kick-started Hilary term training. Training was bumped up to a minimum of 6x and 4x a week for W1 and W2 respectively, and we entered two strong crews into Torpids, with both doing phenomenally well. W1 secured blades and W2 bumped up their division.

The women returned early from their Easter breaks for the Godstow based training camp, kicking off a very short five weeks until Summer Eights this term. With four Blues rowers returning to Keble to compete, competition for places in the top two boats was tight; the girls worked incredibly hard, showing dedication and drive beyond expectation of sport at the college level. W3 began in a tough spot, being chased by a strong Wolfson crew but managed to climb back from being bumped with row overs and a great bump on the Friday. W2 began the week chasing our boat house neighbours Jesus, bumping them early and refusing to let them catch over the coming days- three bumps and a row over were achieved overall.

W1 began ninth in Division 1 and were timed as one of the fastest three women's boats on the water. However W1's week epitomised bumps racing: the fastest boat does not always get the bumps. Although, the tenacity of Keble Women was proved by continually holding off Wolfson, bumping Balliol and pushing through two technical row overs. W1 finished the week at the highest position of any Keble women's boat in history- eighth in Division 1. This is a fantastic reflection of the growth in squad size, depth and commitment throughout the year, providing a legacy for the future of Keble women's rowing.

These achievements are as much those of our three coaches as of the squad: Hungarian national champion Mariann Novak, was a new addition this year who made a phenomenal impact: she instilled her own incredible drive and determination into the girls, the force behind increased training and harder personal goals. Bodo Schulenburg, lightweight men's coach, returned in Trinity to coach W1 in Summer Eights, adding his flair and humour to an intense schedule. The proof of his hard work is seen in the historic position of W1 in the division tables. Finally, a huge thank you goes to David Rhodes- the most patient, positive and generous coach the women could wish for- Keble are very lucky to have his continued support.

I'd also like to thank this year's committee: Helen, Michael, Kate, Kath, Matt, Lydia and Sarah- you have provided me and Sam with endless support and we are incredibly grateful.

Finally, I'd like to thank the trio of support that is the College, Neptune Investment Management and Keble Rowing Society. They are the base of KCBC's strength, ensuring women can try the sport, develop themselves and their team, and achieve great success. 2014/15 has produced the largest, most committed and most successful Keble women's rowing squad in history, and it has been my absolute privilege to have been their captain.

Cricket (Men 1st team)

Khalil Osman

Having previously won the league for two consecutive seasons, the Keble College Cricket Club finished the 2015 season with a strong mid-league position in the premier college league. It is a testament to the strength of the club that this was a somewhat surprising result. Indeed, it is a performance that many college sides would be immensely proud of. Throughout the term, the team has fought hard, often bouncing back from difficult defeats, and each player has stood up at one point or another.

The season began with two comprehensive victories over Worcester and Queen's. Last year's captain Miles Dilworth started with an innings of 71 in the former, delivering a significant 61-run win. Queen's were beaten by five wickets, in a thrilling game that went to the wire.

Unfortunately, a tough period was to follow, with fast approaching finals and clashes with university cricket rendering us unable to field our strongest side. Indeed it was often a struggle to field a full XI at all. Keble were forced into an early second-round exit from Cuppers at the hands of Univ. Two days later, we collapsed on a deteriorating Keble wicket chasing Balliol's total, handing them a 40-run victory. A painful 9-wicket defeat to Brasenose followed a week later.

Perhaps the most difficult defeat of the season occurred in fifth week, as Keble travelled to St.Catz. On a flat wicket, Keble posted 190-odd in 30 overs, in large part due to vice-captain Tommy Siman's explosive 73. After an exquisite tea, the side was confident in its seemingly dominant match position. The start of the second innings saw St.Catz score freely, before being abruptly halted almost single-handedly by Oscar Newlove, who registered the remarkable figures of 6-19. Although they consistently lost wickets, the home side kept up with the required run rate throughout the chase, and in the end, pulled off an impressive victory in the fading light.

The character of the Keble players shone through the following week, as they bounced back to crush Pembroke at Fortress Keble. Having posted 151-8 in 30 overs, the Keble bowlers got to work immediately, reducing the visitors to 78 all out. That same character was on display the following week against Somerville. Batting first, Keble posted 162-3 in 35 overs, thanks to another half-century from Tommy Siman (72), who put on an exceptional partnership with Harry Kent (65). Unfortunately, that total was to prove inadequate in the face of some strong Somerville batting and umpiring. Nevertheless, Keble battled until the end, with defeat coming in the final over.

As the college season approached its end, Keble travelled to Christ Church's impressive cricket ground. Batting first, the visitors posted close to 200 in 35 overs. This was built around a sublime and truly memorable century from Miles Dilworth, who dispatched the Christ Church bowlers to all parts of the ground. The Christ Church batsmen crumbled under the pressure of the Keble bowling attack. Unable to score freely, they repeatedly resorted to unpleasantness. In the end though, the visitors' cricket had the final say; with only eight Keble cricketers in the field, the bowlers delivered a resounding victory.

Although finals had finished, University cricket and second-year exams meant that Keble struggled to field a full side in their final game of the season. As had unfortunately been the case on a number of occasions, this was to prove pivotal in Keble's loss to St John's. This came in the face of gutsy innings from Tom Hamilton and Tommy Siman.

Despite a number of losses this season, in large part due to availability issues, Keble's cricketers have fought valiantly throughout. Without doubt, our strongest XI can take on any college side in Oxford. Led by Tommy Siman, our batsmen have posted formidable totals on many an occasion. Opening batsmen Martin Cox and Joe Foster have often set the platform for the likes of Tom Hamilton, Miles Dilworth, Harry Kent, Alex Henry and Paul Mabey to bat on. It should be noted that wicketkeeper Tom Hamilton consistently scored incredibly useful runs across the season, often registering scores of 40 or more.

Keble surely boasts one of the finest college pace attacks in Oxford. Epitomised by the glorious outswingers of its leader and opening bowler, Ali Garner, the pace attack has pinned down many a batting line-up. Without fail, Ali has taken crucial wickets and bowled tightly, piling the pressure on any opposition innings. This has been backed up by the lethal bowling combination of all rounder George Saunders, Sebastian Carter and Oscar Newlove, all three seeming to take wickets at important times. The same can be said of Sam Warren, who returned to the club towards the end of the season after a term of paddling on the Isis. Henry Farr showed great promise, bowling with pace and aggression, before unfortunately injuring himself early in the season. The pace attack has been robustly supported by the flight and guile of spinners Joe Foster and Harry Kent, both of whom have bowled intelligently, and with control.

Thanks must go to Adrian Roche and his team for regularly preparing the famous home wicket at Fortress Keble, for which we are truly grateful. I must also thank those who have played on an irregular basis: Kit Goodfellow, Jonathan Mitchell, Ellie Hinde, Felix Hamer, Sam Steinert, James Marchant, Annie Koehli and Eshan Shah. Their contributions are greatly appreciated.

It is with great sadness that the club must say goodbye to three true legends of Keble cricket. Alastair Garner has been the leader of the Keble bowling attack over his three tremendous years of service to the club. It is often said that Ali's bowling is wasted on college cricket; indeed he would have flourished at the university level. Bowling at a good pace, Ali swings the ball late and consistently puts it in the right areas. He doesn't indulge in on-field verbal antics, instead letting the ball do the talking. George Saunders, last year's vice-captain, has been a crucial foundation of the side during his time at Keble. With his hooping inswingers, reliable runs and cracking banter, George has been fittingly described as the finest cricketer to hail from Yorkshire since Geoffrey Boycott. Elegant with the bat, terrifying with the ball, last year's captain is a titan of Keble cricket. He has scored a tremendous amount of graceful runs, and captained the side to victory in the league last year. Never afraid to get stuck into the opposition, this lively being is at the core of the club. I have learnt a great deal about the game from him, and owe him a great debt of gratitude. These three will be sorely missed, and the club will certainly be poorer without them. They are always welcome.

It has been an immense privilege to captain such a fine group of cricketers this season. Whilst it has been a challenging role, it has been a truly rewarding one. I am profoundly grateful to the entire squad for their tireless efforts. Above all, I must take this opportunity to express my gratitude for the robust support of my dependable vice-captain Tommy Siman, who himself captained the side on many an occasion. I wish my able successor, Henry Farr, the very best of luck. He can rely on the support of his vice-captain Oscar Newlove, as he can on mine. The club is in very good hands.

Cricket (Men 2nd team)

Leo Beacroft

Tuesday marked the end to a successful season for the MCR cricket team. With two wins from their first three games, it seemed like the only thing capable of stopping Keble MCR was the weather (and Wolfson-St Cross.) With the final game of the season against Keble's own JCR, it appeared to be a tough ask to finish the season with a win, not to mention the coveted Paul Hayes trophy, which has been held by the JCR for many a season.

True to form, Beacroft lost the toss and was asked to bat first. Things couldn't have started much worse for the MCR when McGann decided to leave a straight one and was bowled. Rumour has it that he wanted a head start on the beers that had been bought. Perhaps a blessing in disguise though as that wicket brought Bowkett to the crease and together with Beacroft and they started hitting it to all parts (mainly third man, though wagon wheel unavailable) à la Roy and Hales.

As is so often the case, however, one wicket brought two and then three with Mabey and Moore getting out in less than dignified fashion. The MCR kept up the attack but wickets fell at regular intervals. In the end, they were bowled out for 104 in 17.4 overs, Bowkett, the glue that held the innings together, carrying his bat for 27 off of 42 balls. Top scorer was extras.

The JCR innings got off to a bizarre start as Joe "where's my off-stump" McGann mistook the new ball for an apple. The tactic clearly worked however as the JCR batsmen clearly forgot how to run between the wickets. A run-out followed and it should have been more. The MCR pushed home their advantage with Mbewu, and Winfield in particular in the wickets.

Lord and Gardner led the fightback for the JCR, however, with Lord in particular flaying plenty of shots through the off side. And once Gardner fell, Tambe stepped up the rate with some large sixes over midwicket/long on to bring the JCR within touching distance. After 19 overs the JCR found themselves on 95/8 with Tambe on strike. 10 to win. 6 balls.

No runs from the first two deliveries with two very well directed yorkers from McGann. The third however, slightly shorter was promptly dispatched over Bowkett's head at midwicket. 4 to win from 3 balls. Fourth delivery, another heave onto the leg side, this time not hit quite as well and straight into the safest of safe hands Dave Bowkett at midwicket. McGann finished the job the next ball bowling the number 11 and giving the MCR a 3 run win.

When asked to name his man of the match, Atherton said: "Well it's got to be Dave Bowkett for me. He batted superbly, bowled two tidy overs and in the most crucial moment he put his hand up and said I'm the best fielder - I need to be at midwicket. And he took the catch. In these big games you want your big players to step up, and that's exactly what he did. Great stuff."

Three wins out of four made it a great season for the MCR, with most pundits expecting them to carry this form into the next year under the distinguished captaincy of Paul Mabey.

Football (Men)

Scott Rata

The season began with a thumping 9 - 1 win over Teddy Hall in Cuppers, but three straight defeats that followed left Keble joint bottom of the third division and out of the cup. With silverware unlikely it was heartening to regularly have at least four substitutes, and a sense of team spirit remained strong. Keble will sorely miss Abraham Jacob, Jonathan Quinson, and Matthew Foley; the new captain, Seamus O'Hagan, will have his work cut out replacing such legends.

Thank you to Adrian, the groundsman, for an excellent pitch. Players' player was awarded to David Bowkett, in recognition of his consistently strong performances all year.

Lacrosse

Catherine Haigh

Keble Lacrosse team had a very successful year. After recruiting a substantial number of new players and holding a few training sessions, the standard of play was very high. This was evident during the Cuppers league matches that were held once a week throughout Michaelmas in which we remained undefeated and as a result came out decisively on top!

Having established ourselves as a team to watch, the other colleges were especially keen to beat us going into the Cuppers tournament that was held over one day in Trinity. Although we played some very exciting lacrosse, we were narrowly beaten by one goal in the semi-finals by Teddy Hall, which we were all hugely disappointed about! Next year we are determined to come back even stronger and win both the league and the tournament. Thanks to everyone who played!

Netball

Alice Duffy

Keble Netball has gone from strength to strength in the course of the past academic year. Throughout the league season and into Cuppers, Keble played with the same consistently committed team, allowing the girls to get used to playing with one another, quickly transforming into a slick and very successful squad.

We began the year in Division 2 and with some strong Fresher additions to the team, took the Michaelmas league by storm. Keble won all eight weekly games, placing first in the division and securing a promotion to Division 1 for the start of Hilary term. Expecting to be out of our depth against the strongest college teams in the league, Keble only continued to improve extending the winning streak into sixth week of Hilary, meaning the team remained undefeated for an impressive fourteen weeks. We suffered a serious blow with the injury of star player, Sarah Levisur and ended the streak in a close contest with arch rivals, Oriol A, meaning Keble placed second in the top division.

Cuppers took place in first week of Trinity and with a practice match against New to fire us up, we entered the tournament determined to win. Our first opponent in the round robin had to be Oriol A, the only team to defeat us all year. With only ten minutes to reap revenge, Keble entered the game all guns blazing and came out with a secure win of 8-3, a very satisfying start to the day. We proceeded to win every game in the round robin, taking us through to the afternoon knock outs. We breezed through the quarters and came up against Teddy Hall in the semis, the team we narrowly lost the title to last year – it was a tough match but Keble scraped victory by one goal, the Hall were successfully shoed and we were up against Somerville in the final. The girls put in an incredible effort but unfortunately Somerville had a fantastic pair of shooters and were able to convert every chance at goal they got. It was a frustrating end to the day, but a well-deserved win by Somerville and an overall fantastic performance by the Keble girls.

It is certainly consolation to know that in combining the results of the inter-college league and Cuppers, Keble have been the most successful college netball team in Oxford, beating the winners of the league in Cuppers and ranking above the winner of Cuppers in the league. A promotion, fourteen consecutive victories and runners up in Cuppers are achievements the entire team should be very proud of, particularly considering we are almost the only team that does not have any blues netball players. Congratulations and thanks in particular to our most consistent players: Louisa Butcher, Sarah Levisieur, Ellie Hinde, Heli Copley, Sarah Timmis, Leanne Robinson, Olivia Hadjinicolaou, Hannah Westbrook and Clara Austeria.

I have thoroughly enjoyed captaining such a committed and frankly impressive team. I wish the best of luck to incoming captain, Louisa Butcher, who I'm sure will lead the team to Cuppers victory and further successes in 2015/16.

Pool

Sebastian Carter

This year Keble entered the pool league for the first time. We lost our first game against Corpus Christi but from then on we won every game we played, topping Division 3, and achieving promotion for next year. We entered the team Cuppers and faced some tough opposition winning only one of our games and not progressing to the knockout. We had four players reach the last 32 of the singles Cuppers and 3 pairs reach the last 16 of the doubles tournament. Thanks to those who played frequently, James Holl, Rishi Chotai, Sean Ford, Henry Farr, Kyrone Grosset, Matthew Jamshed and many others.

Rugby (Men)

Matt Gompels

The year has been a very successful one for Keble R F C, with notable success coming in league and Cuppers campaigns, as well as in the rebirth of a flourishing 2nd XV.

After a comprehensive defeat at the hands of a rejuvenated Ghosts side in the traditional Oth week opener the season started proper with a tight triumph over The Hall. More victories duly followed, with hard fought yet comprehensive wins over Jesus and New propelling the team to the top of Division 1. The kernel of success was more often than not an imperviously dominant tight five, built around a core of senior players, but also bolstered with a number of welcome additions. Paul Childs, this year's only Fresher, was a revelation at tight head prop, and Luke Martin, the 'good cop' of decanal duty, joined the engine room, reprising the enforcer role with aplomb. Further stern tests came, against St Catherine's and last years Cupper's champions St Anne's/St Johns (a Blues heavy hybrid side) yet as fifth week approached, the men in hoops were sitting pretty at the top of college rugby's top table. As the league season wore on, the effects of injuries and academic commitments inevitably told, but the squad had an air of irrepressible optimism about it, and an ability to respond to setbacks with resilience. In one game, away at Jesus, there was such a paucity of backs on offer that captain Jonathan Mitchell dislodged himself from the flanker berth to play scrum half, drafting in a reluctant second row to clean up outside him. It was a halfback pairing that combined the distribution of Mauro Bergamasco with the paunch of Andy Goode, yet the squad pulled through thanks to another stellar display from the tight five and the hard lines of Tom Garvey in midfield. A last gasp defeat to New the following week, followed by disappointing forfeit from Exeter meant the league was lost on points difference, but the gauntlet had been thrown down for Cuppers, as the team continued to begin to develop a free flowing brand of rugby built around the offload game.

As is often the case, the early rounds of Cuppers were complicated with byes and cancellations, and it wasn't until the semi-final that the squad was truly tested. Hertford, the surprise package of this year's tournament, was one of the most complete sides Keble had faced all season, with a wealth of 'set-up' quality spread evenly across the pack and back line. The variation in their game persistently threatened to be a useful foil to an indomitable Keble pack, and the team was reliant more than once on the impregnable defence of fullback Jacob Taylor, who has an uncanny ability to violently dispatch men into touch without ever ruffling a perfect hair game. Ultimately however, Keble ran out comfortable winners, to set up a felicitous shot at final revenge against the 'odious' St Edmund Hall!

The final was billed by many as a clash of style and substance. The Hall, typically, had bolstered a dangerous pack with several monoliths from the Blues squad, and seemed hell-bent on battering Keble off the park, in a rerun of 2013's final. Keble, by contrast, had added flair and adventure, placing faith in the pack that had served them so well throughout the season, but bolstering the backline with a number of university players. Thankfully for the romantics among us, style comprehensively won out. A carefully honed driving lineout saw Keble take the lead through captain Jonny M, before Sam Steinert cantered over in the corner after a well-worked move from the backline. The Hall hit back through a fortuitous intercept score, but Keble kept their composure. The second half saw Keble take a stranglehold on the game as David Peberdy bundled over in the corner for a first minute try. A gargantuan effort from Tom Hamilton in defence then kept the Hall at bay, and Sam Egerton also had a blinder, kicking the team out of trouble on numerous occasions, and grabbing a spectacular solo score in the process. Further tries followed, as Keble's backline really found its feet, but the 37-11 perhaps flattered in what was a hard fought, attritional contest.

It is fair to say that this has been a great year for Keble RFC, the product of a lot of hard work and planning. It is important to note that aside from Cuppers success the College, for the first time in several years, again fielded a 2nd XV, led with go forward gusto by Jack Field. Keeping people engaged in and passionate about the sport is the real purpose of College rugby. Indeed, one of the delights of those who ply trade at the college level, is watching players develop 'the old fashioned way' - slugging it out in University Park and trekking to Marston for a few precious hits on a 'borrowed' scrum machine. There are few better success stories in this vein than James Marchant, who arrived a fresh-faced schoolboy from Edinburgh and departs a resilient scrummager and confident carrier, having honed his game at the coalface, despite a brief (unsuccessful) affair with rowing. Will Mason by contrast, is as abrasive and reckless today as he was the day he arrived, and remains untroubled by the task of felling opponents three times his size. Last year's captain JJ Arden was revitalized by a move to hooker, and accessorized his reliable tractor engine with a surprising turn of pace, the just reward coming finally with his first try for the club in the semi final this year. We also bid farewell to several other club stalwarts, in Anthony Collias, Sam Steinert, and Mike Fedousik. Next year, Keble rugby will again be challenged to rebuild, to find players from across the College community who can dust off their boots (or buy a pair) and get involved. It promises to be an exciting year indeed.

Tennis (Women) Olivia Hadjinicolaou

It has been a great year for women's tennis. Numbers have massively increased from last year when it would be a struggle to get four girls together for a team, to a point where we had seventeen girls taking part in weekly coaching sessions, thanks to funding support from the JCR.

We started our Cuppers journey in the group stages with some tough competition, Queens and Worcester College, both of which were in last year's final. An impressive display of talent in the Worcester match saw us beat last year's champions 4-2, ending their attempts to defend the title. One of the Worcester girls told us we were the strongest team she had ever seen before the final, an impressive achievement considering we only had one University player on the team! Unfortunately (or rather fortunately!) Queens could not get a team together, and so we came top of the group stages and progressed to the semi-final. Here again Magdalen, obviously scared by the prospects of facing us, conceded the match and so we sailed through to the final versus St Catz, in what promises to be a tough match which I hope we can win!

Big thanks go to Annie Koehli, Kathleen Elysee, Catherine Haigh, Eleanor Edge, Clara Austera and Jennifer Strawbridge for their commitment to the Cuppers team, and all of the other girls who took part in training this term.

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES

The Hursley Society The Chaplain

The Hursley Society had another successful year with three excellent workshops offered in the College. These workshops were led by a range of prominent theologians and attracted a number of students, fellows, and members of the wider Oxford community to engage in some fascinating discussions. Organised primarily by Keble Theology Fellow, Professor Markus Bockmuehl, these events are planned in coordination with the Chapel. In Michaelmas Term, we welcomed Dr Edward Kessler, MBE, the Director of the Woolf Institute for Jewish, Christian, and Muslim Relations and Fellow of St Edmund's College, Cambridge. Dr Kessler addressed the question, 'Is Interfaith Dead? Life in the Age of Global Religions' in which he discussed the post-secularist rise and the rise of religion and challenged ideas of an interfaith lowest common denominator. In Hilary Term, we welcomed Professor Alister McGrath, Andreas Idreos Professor of Science and Religion at Oxford and Director of the Ian Ramsey Centre for Science and Religion. To a sizeable gathering, Professor McGrath offered a paper which engaged the question 'God, Faith and Science: Why the Big Questions still Matter.' In Trinity Term, Keble hosted Professor Sacha Stern, one of today's leading scholars of Rabbinic Judaism. Professor Stern is Head of the Department of Hebrew and Jewish Studies at University College London where he is also Professor of Rabbinic Judaism. He led a workshop on the question, 'Why is Easter a Moveable Feast?' which discussed the Jewish origins of this annual feast and how Easter gradually assumed its own identity and own, distinctively Christian date. We are, once again, grateful to Professor Bockmuehl for organising these fabulous workshops. We are also thankful for the scholars who offered a glimpse of their work this academic year, and we look forward to the 2015-2016 workshops at Keble.

Martin Esslin Society Heloise Lowenthal

During term time, the Martin Esslin Society programmes the O'Reilly Theatre, choosing the productions which go on in the theatre. It also financially supports student drama both within the theatre itself and for Keble students for all their theatrical endeavours. 2014/15 has been an incredibly exciting year for both the MES and the O'Reilly - which has been transformed each week by amazing sets and brilliant performances. Theatrical highlights have included a Keble strong production of Jerusalem with a completely Keble based production team, who transformed the theatre into the grassy clearing which hosts Jonny 'Rooster' Byron's misbehaving; an adaptation of Virginia Woolf's Orlando, in which Orlando was played by both a male and a female actor, alternating the lead role each night; and King Lear which used live filming projected onto the theatre's famous concrete wall. This year also carried on last year's trend of hosting musicals, with two lesser-known Sondheim Musicals: Assassins and Passion, both of which were well received by the audiences, despite their difficult subject matter. Next term looks to continue the exciting and creative work that has been going on in the theatre, with one play removing the seating altogether to create a promenade performance, and a diverse programme including an opera, Shakespeare, a rock musical, and a farce. The society has also awarded grants to two shows travelling up to Edinburgh this summer, to which we wish the best of luck!

THE CHAPEL

The Chaplain, Revd Dr Jenn Strawbridge (2001), writes:

After a full summer with two Gaudy Evensongs, services for the Summer Dinner, seven weddings of Keble Old Members, and choir engagements at All Saints' Margaret Street in London (for Butterfield's 200th birthday) and the Isle of Wight (900th anniversary of St Andrew's, Chale), the Chapel community welcomed students to a new academic year with tours of the Chapel and lots of tea. Moreover, a number of student leaders were available in the Chapel throughout Induction Week to answer questions and extend a warm welcome to freshers and their families. The year began with a Sung Eucharist on the first Sunday of Term and continued with at least thirteen services each week including the Daily Offices, sung and said Eucharists, Evensong, and sung Compline. In its fifth year, Compline's popularity continued and this candlelit service was preceded in even weeks of the term by a thirty-minute organ recital given by organ scholars from across the University. Student preachers once again offered short (and excellent) homilies at Choral Evensong on Wednesdays. Other highlights of Michaelmas Term included a Teaching Eucharist, Morning Prayer led by members of the Christian Union each Tuesday, a Roman Catholic Mass offered by the Catholic Chaplaincy, an exchange with Oriel College Chapel Community who joined us for Choral Evensong, a Choral Requiem Mass for All Souls' Day, a Remembrance Day Service, and the ever popular and standing-room only Advent Lessons and Carols Service wonderfully led by Keble College Chapel Choir. In its fourth year of offering, the tradition of a Christmas Lessons and Carols Service on the final evening of term also continued with another full congregation.

Hilary Term began with a Sung Eucharist and a Chapel Party, followed in the second week of term by the eighth annual Holocaust Memorial Service with a powerful address given by Bishop Nigel McCulloch, formerly Bishop of Manchester and Chair of the Council of Christians and Jews. The service was once again enhanced by the presence and voices of the OxfordShir choir from the Oxford Jewish Community and numerous members of the wider Oxford community joined us for the service. The Mitre Club Dinner, the Chapel's annual Black Tie dinner, brought out the creative side of the Chapel community in the third week of Hilary Term and the events of the evening kicked off with a Solemn Evensong. James Hardie, a Music Finalist and the Gibbs Organ Scholar, did a fabulous job of organising the event and handed the mitre to Hannah Schofield, a second year English student and soprano choral scholar.

As a part of Arts Week in the College, the Chapel hosted an incredible exhibition by Old Member Alice Floyd. Her photography exhibition, entitled Cruciform, coincided with Lent and the Early Music Festival and drew a large number of visitors to the Chapel. Keble's Organ Scholars – all of whom have received their ARCO – organised a four-day Early Music Festival for the second year in a row which was well attended from across the Oxford community. The Festival included world-class performances, master classes, and services. This term also saw a new event in the Chapel: an all-night prayer vigil for peace and reconciliation. This vigil was planned jointly by the Chapel leaders and the College's Christian Union and Catholic Chaplaincy leaders and events were offered throughout the night beginning with Compline at 9pm and concluding with Morning Prayer at 8.15am. More than sixty students and other members of the Keble community participated in the vigil at some point during the night. Other highlights included Corporate Communion with members from eight Keble parishes attending and The Very Revd Professor Martyn Percy, Dean of Christ Church, preaching as well as a sung Spanish Mass with the Catholic Chaplaincy, organised by a Keble choral scholar. For the fourth year, the Chapel offered a retreat to members of the College community in the 9th week of the term. This year, twelve members of the Chapel community travelled to the Society of St John the Evangelist Monastery in Cambridge, Massachusetts. The retreat was a silent retreat with multiple opportunities for daily worship, daily group gatherings facilitated by one of the Brothers, as well as space for study and the use of academic facilities in Cambridge and at Harvard. The timing of the retreat coincided with the 100th anniversary of the death of the order's founder in Oxford (SSJE was founded in the same year as Keble College).

Trinity Term began with the first annual offering of drinks and Evensong for the Friends of Keble Chapel on the eve of St Mark's Day with almost two dozen Friends in attendance. The following day saw the festive celebration of St Mark's Day with our annual service commemorating the founders and benefactors of the College. Former Keble Chaplain and current Bishop Suffragan of New York, The Right Revd Allen Shin, returned to the College to preach for the occasion. While four more Keble students graced the pulpit for Evensong, the Chapel also welcomed Dr Sarah Apetrei, who is a Keble Old Member and the College's Fellow in Ecclesiastical History, as preacher. The choir travelled to Bouthrop to offer the service of Evensong as a part of a long-standing invitation from the parishes where John Keble served as curate and were welcomed with generous hospitality. The Keble College Chapel community also travelled to Oriel College to offer a joint Sung Eucharist for the Feast of Corpus Christi. This term, the choir continued a much-loved tradition of singing Matins off the Chapel roof on Ascension Day and the Term ended with an Open Air Evensong on Liddon Quad and a Leavers' Service on the final Sunday. Intentional ministry to Finalists was offered throughout Trinity Term, with carnations and prayer cards for exams available in the Chapel.

The formation of members of the Keble community for ministry, both ordained and lay, continued with great strength this year. The Chapel was privileged to have a first-year ordinand from St Stephen's House with us for all three terms. An ordinand from Wycliffe Hall also serves faithfully as a Chapel leader each week of the term. Four Keble members continue to discern the possibility of ordained ministry with their dioceses and by attending a vocations lunch at a local parish church. James Holden, a former choral scholar and Chapel leader will return to Oxford to begin training for ordination at Ripon College, Cuddesdon and Tom Carpenter, a former Chapel Clerk, will begin his second year of training at Mirfield. Timothy Howles, a current DPhil student at Keble, has completed his training at Wycliffe Hall and will remain at Keble as a Chapel leader until his ordination in 2017. Former SCR Butler Joseph Fernandes completed his training at Ripon College, Cuddesdon and was ordained to the diaconate in Oxford in June with many members of the Keble community present at the service. Moreover, this Petertide Jonathan Jong and Nicholas Moore, both formerly Chapel leaders at Keble, were ordained to the sacred order of priests in Oxford and Durham, respectively.

The Chapel Choir continued to thrive under the excellent Director of Music, Simon Whalley and recorded a new CD of Advent Music to be released this autumn. This year, however, was Simon's final year at Keble as he takes up a new position as Director of Music and Organist at St Mary the Virgin, Times Square (USA) this summer. The final service of the academic year was followed by a gathering to celebrate and give thanks for Simon's incredible contribution to the music and life of the Chapel community. We look forward to welcoming our new Director of Music, Mr Matthew Martin, to the College in October. Gibbs Organ Scholar, James Hardie, Henshall Organ Scholar, Jacob Ewens, and Junior Organ Scholar, Rory Moules provided strong and effective leadership throughout the year. The choir was anchored by an amazing group of Choral Scholars and consistently offered a high calibre of music at every occasion.

The Chapel community continues to thrive through worship, fellowship, and prayer. After its foundation in 2014, the Chapel is grateful to the numerous Friends of Keble College Chapel, whose support enhances the life and witness of the Chapel community. The Revd Darren McFarland (Vicar of St Andrew's, Headington) continues to be an excellent colleague within the Chapel community as Assistant Chaplain. Personally, I am most grateful for the opportunity to serve in this incredible place with such a vibrant and welcoming community both within the Chapel and without. Huge thanks are due to the Chapel leaders—Sebastian Bates, Elliott Cramer, Orlanda Edmonds, Jacob Ewens, Mary Fisher, James Hardie, Luke Hoare, Timothy Howles, Megan Kearney, Michael Kent, Sarah Leeser, Luke Martin, Rory Moules, Georgina Ndukwe, Hannah Schofield, Matthew Schrecker, Niklas Stadelmann, James White—as well as much gratitude for the Warden, Lady Phillips, and all fellows and staff members who support the life of the Chapel. All blessings and Godspeed to this year's leavers, who will be greatly missed.

PARISHES UPDATE

The Chaplain, Revd Dr Jenn Strawbridge (2001), writes:

The following priests have been licensed or appointed to Keble College parishes since July 2014: The Revd Rhona Float to the Benefice of Wool and East Stoke; The Revd David Pennells to St Peter and St Paul, Mitcham; The Revd Dr Nigel Porter to the Benefice of Niton, Whitwell, and Chale; The Revd David Ridgeway to the Benefice of Castor with Upton and Stibbington and Water Newton, Marholm and Sutton; The Revd Christopher Shipley to the Benefice of Eastchurch with Leysdown and Harty; The Reverend Philip Tarris to the Sampfords and Radwinter; The Revd Noelle Taylor to the Benefice of St Peter Shelley with St Martin Chipping Ongar; The Revd Andrew Thomas to the Dulverton Benefice; The Revd Dr John Walker to the Dover Team Ministry; The Revd David Way to St Peter and the Holy Apostles, Plymouth; The Revd Ian Whitham to the Benefice of Ellingham and Harbridge with Hyde and Ibsley; and The Reverend Kathryn Windslow to Storrington.

The College's right of presentation has been suspended for the following benefices: St Alban and St Patrick, Highgate; St Peter Shelley with St Martin Chipping Ongar; and the Benefice of Niton, Whitwell, and Chale. The suspension of presentation was lifted for the Benefice of Wool and East Stoke. Furthermore, the suspension of presentation to St Barnabas, Oxford is expected to be lifted following a recent reorganisation, as well as that of St Peter and the Holy Apostles, Plymouth.

New pastoral schemes and reorganisations have also taken place this year: a new pastoral scheme was instituted for the Benefice of Charlton Dover; a new Benefice of Niton, Whitwell, and Chale was formed; the united parish of Oxford St Barnabas and St Paul and Oxford St Thomas was created; and a new team ministry has been formed with the Benefice of Hitchin and St Paul's Walden Team Ministry. Moreover, nine benefices/Keble parishes are actively seeking new clergy at the time of writing.

This year the Chaplain and members of the Advowsons' Committee of the College visited seven parishes and were actively engaged in nine appointment processes. Keble College Chapel Choir travelled to Chale on the Isle of Wight to offer Evensong as part of the parish's 900th anniversary celebration in September 2014. Finally, the College welcomed almost thirty clergy from Keble parishes to the Clergy Conference in January 2015 where the Venerable Julian Hubbard, Director of Ministry for the Archbishops' Council, served as our keynote speaker.

OM OBITUARIES

We record with regret the deaths of the following Old Members. We are most grateful to relatives and friends who have supplied an appreciation or biographical details to supplement our own records.

John Gerald Barton Andrew

died on 17 October 2014 aged 83. Educated at Beverley Grammar School he came up to Keble to read Theology after two years National Service in the Royal Air Force. He went to Cuddesdon (1954) and was ordained Deacon (1956) and Priest (1957) being Curate in the Parish of Redcar (1956-59). He then spent eighteen months assisting in a parish in New Jersey before returning to the Diocese of York as Archbishop Michael Ramsay's domestic chaplain (1960-61). After a year Ramsay was translated to Canterbury and instead of having a senior priest as his chaplain he brought with him John Andrew. Over the next eight years his over protectiveness of the Archbishop did not endear him to senior clergy and bishops. His liking for silver buckled shoes and the company of high society also provoked comment. He was appointed Team Rector of Preston and Vicar of St John (1969-72), a post that did not suit him. Through the recommendation of several wealthy American ladies that he had met in London he was appointed Rector of New York's most fashionable church, St Thomas's, Fifth Avenue. The administrative skills he had learnt at Lambeth proved useful for a wealthy church with a staff of thirty-two plus four other priests which served over 1,700 members and had the only choir school in North America. His generous hospitality was appreciated and invitations to dinner, particularly in his large Park Avenue apartment, were greatly coveted. He presided over the American branches of the Order of St John of Jerusalem and the Royal School of Music. He was violently mugged (1988) in a Manhattan street but returned to preaching in less than a month. He was appointed OBE and made an Honorary Canon of the Cathedral of St John the Divine in New York (1995). After retiring (1996) he spent three years in England but returned to New York (1999) where his successor at St Thomas invited him to be the 'Junior Curate' as Rector Emeritus. On his way home from dinner with Bishop John O'Hara of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of New York he suffered a massive cardiac episode and died two days later without regaining consciousness.

Sonal Barot (2001)

died in April 2015 aged 32. Educated at Redland High School, Bristol she received awards for academic achievement and services to the school as Deputy Head Girl. She came up to Keble to read Modern History and was made a Scholar for excellence in research and written work. She then trained as a performer and instructor of the classical Indian dance style Bharata Natyam under Kiran Ratna's India Dance Wales. She trained in Bristol and in Chennai and performed not only in the UK but in South India and in Tokyo and Kyoto in Japan (2004-6). She once wrote: 'I often adapted performances at short notice to suit performance spaces and audience needs. It was imperative to remain calm and focused in such situations.' In the latter half of 2006 she was a Research Assistant at the Carr Center for Human Rights Policy at Harvard University. She assisted Pulitzer Prize-winner Professor Samantha Power with the research and editing of her book Chasing the Flame: Sergio Vieira de Mello and the Flight to Save the World. The following year (2007) she worked as a Foreign Policy Research Analyst in the Foreign and Commonwealth Office in London. She worked on a range of briefs including counter terrorism and 'hard' and 'soft' modes of diplomacy. In 2008 she worked as a Research Assistant for six months for the Safer Bristol Crime, Drugs and Alcohol Partnership and was then the recipient of the Sir Peter Holmes Memorial Award from the Royal Society for Asian Affairs. The grant was to examine cross-cultural dialogue between India and Japan through the practice of Indian classical dance. She also started the Postgraduate Diploma in Law at the Bristol Institute of Legal Practice gaining a Distinction in 2009 and two scholarships for Lincoln's Inn and then after winning several prizes in the Bar Vocational Course was called to the Bar in July 2010. For two months in 2009 she was a Visiting Fellow in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Taiwan studying their foreign policy and cross-strait relations with China. Back in Bristol (2010) she became a Welfare and Housing Adviser with the City Council and a co-opted Trustee of Bristol Refugee Rights. In 2011 she did a Mini Pupillage with Landmark Chambers in Bristol and became a Tenant of the Chambers in 2013. Her brother Teja phoned Ian Archer her Keble Tutor with news of her death and her father Dr Rohit Barot wrote: 'Needless to add that her sudden and unexpected death has been shocking and distressing for the family and friends.' The family are still in disbelief that she should have taken her own life.

Frank Meyrick Beddow (1945)

died on 25 April 2013 aged 85. He was educated at St Edmund's School, Canterbury and came up to Keble to read Chemistry graduating in 1949. He also gained a BSc in 1953. His last known address was in Carlisle and he died in the Cumberland Infirmary. He is survived by his brother George.

Donald Burn Bell (1951)

died on 21 January 2015 aged 83. Educated at Carlisle Grammar School he came up to Keble and took Natural Science Moderations (1953) and then read Forestry (1955). He was a member of the College Athletics Team and gained a University Half Blue in Athletics (1952/53 and 1953/54). He was also a member of the University 2nd Rugby Fives Team – The Beavers. After Keble he was called up for National Service (1956-57) and commissioned into the Royal Engineers. He played rugby for the Corps of Royal Engineers (1956-57). He joined the Forestry Commission in Cumberland (now part of Cumbria) and later became a sheep farmer near Keswick in the Lake District. He was a member of the Territorial Army and retired with the rank of Major. He and his wife Dorothy had two daughters Lesley (born 1961) and Shenagh (born 1962) who survive him.

Keith Borer (1952)

died on 19 June 2015 aged 81. Educated at Uppingham he came up to Keble to read Chemistry and rowed in the College 1st VIII. He stayed on for a BSc (1957) and a DPhil (1960). He was appointed a Technical Officer in the Research Department of ICI Agricultural Division at Billingham and later was a Project Leader on new building materials (1959-74). He moved to Carnrex (Holdings) Ltd. (1974-78) and then became self-employed (1978-2007). He became a Fellow of the Royal Society of Chemistry (1979) and a Member of the Institution of Fire Engineers (1993). In 1979 he founded Keith Borer Consultants and for over twenty-three years he provided forensic expertise in numerous criminal and civil cases including many terrorist cases in the UK and overseas. He also built up his team of independent scientists. In 2001 Keith retired from case work but continued to provide valuable advice to the company and make available his expertise to the current consultants. He was a Member of his Parish Council, a Member of the Tees Heritage Park Committee, Chairman of the Friends of Local Nature Reserves and Chairman of the Alembic Club (2007). He leaves a wife Alison, whom he married in 1961, daughters Beatrice and Rosamond and sons Aidan and Magnus.

Albert Brian Bosworth (1961)

died on 22 December 2014 aged 72. He was educated at Nottingham High School and came up to Keble as a Scholar to read Classics. He was awarded the Owen Travelling Scholarship (1963) and stayed at Keble for a BPhil (1967). He was appointed a Lecturer in Ancient History at the University of Western Australia, becoming Senior Lecturer (1972), Assistant Professor (1975) and was given a personal Chair (1980). He was a Visiting Professor at Harvard (1980-81) and was made a Fellow of the Australian Academy of the Humanities (1981). Appointed a Member of the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton (1975-91) he was also a Visiting Scholar at Wolfson College, Oxford (1991) and Canterbury Fellow at Christchurch, New Zealand (1993). He retired (2008) and was Emeritus Professor of Classics and Ancient History at University of Western Australia, also holding a half Professorial Research Appointment at Macquarie University, New South Wales (2008-13) after which he was an Honorary Associate. He was also Conjoint Professor of the School of Humanities and Social Sciences at the University of Newcastle, New South Wales from 2007 until his death. He published seven books on Alexander the Great. His partner Elizabeth Baynham wrote: 'Brian very proudly showed me Keble on my first trip to Oxford and we came annually for over a decade and I have many happy memories. Brian presented with Parkinson's disease (2009) but last February he was also diagnosed with advanced oesophageal cancer. He was always very brave, sweet natured and patient throughout both illnesses – a lovely person to be around. He loved classical music and he was still playing the piano pretty much until the end. Brian was married and divorced twice (Ann Hobley and Jo Goedheer) and he had six children three of whom predeceased him.' He is survived by his partner Elizabeth, his children Timothy, Isabella and William and grandchildren Lila Anne and Maeve Elizabeth.

Dennis Godfrey Brooke (1951)

died on 12 January 2015 aged 84. The following obituary was found by his daughter Helen Hobden amongst Dennis Brooke's papers for The Record. Dennis Godfrey Brooke (1951) was educated at King Edward V11 School Sheffield and came up to Keble to read Chemistry after National Service in the RAF. He studied for two years at the University of Cape Town Medical School (1945-47), then came up to Keble to study Physiology and played Rugby for the College. He went on to St Mary's Hospital in London for his clinical training (1950-52) gaining his BM BCh from Oxford (December 1952). His House Physician attachments were at St Mary's, Hillingdon Hospital, the Radcliffe Infirmary and Maida Vale Hospital (1953-55) gaining his Membership of the Royal College of Physicians and a DCh (1955). He was called up for National Service where he was a Medical Specialist Squadron Leader at RAF Hospital Cosford (1955-57). After a year as House Physician at the Hammersmith Hospital he was appointed Medical Registrar then Senior Medical Registrar at the London Hospital (1958-62) gaining a DM (Oxford 1962). A Fulbright Travel award took him to the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital in Boston as Fellow in Medicine (Gastroenterology) (1962-63). He returned to the UK as Senior Medical Registrar at King George Hospital, Ilford and then Honorary Clinical Assistant at St Mark's Hospital, London before being appointed a Consultant Physician at Good Hope District General Hospital, Sutton Coldfield and the North Birmingham Group of Hospitals (1965-74). In 1973 he had been elected a Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians. His last appointment as a Consultant Physician was at the Royal London Hospital (1974-89) and he then served for 10 years as Medical Member on the Medical Appeals Tribunals. He was also Chief Medical Officer for Provident Life Association and Winterthur Life (1977-99) and Medical Referee for the Civil Service Commission (1980-88). He was very involved with Societies concerned with the History of Medicine and contributed many papers on that subject. He wrote and contributed to many medical books and a prolific number of papers to medical journals. To quote just one paragraph from the tribute given at his funeral service in Dorchester Abbey by his son Nicholas 'He was the eldest son of a Church of England priest (Michael Gibbs, Keble 1919) with a large family, who was in turn the eldest son of a Church of England priest (Reginald Gibbs, Keble 1886) with a large family, who was in turn the third son of a Church of England priest with a large family which takes us back to the days of the Gibbs family of merchants who acquired enormous wealth and influence in Victorian England, who had churches built and restored and endowed them with their sons as vicars and who provided Keble College, Oxford with its chapel.' Other members of his family who attended Keble were: two great uncles, John A Gibbs (1879) and Frances L Gibbs (1888), two brothers, John M F Gibbs (1947) and Peter Gibbs (1953), a cousin Christopher Purvis (1970) and a nephew Michael Gibbs (1974). His wife Rachel arranged a Gibbs family picnic at Keble on 31 August 2008 in support of the organ fund which was attended by approximately 450 Gibbs family members. He leaves a wife Rachel, son Nicholas, daughter Sarah and four grandchildren.

Kate Elizabeth Gross OBE

died on 25 December 2014 aged 36. Educated at St Laurence School, Bradford-on-Avon she came up to Keble to read English and was a member of the Keble Women's Rugby Team. She studied for an MPhil in International Relations at St John's College, Cambridge. She joined the Civil Service and worked in Downing Street for four years as a Private Secretary for Tony Blair and Gordon Brown. Kate became a Consultant and was the founder and first Chief Executive of the charity Africa Governance Initiative (AGI). She was awarded an OBE for services to public and charitable sectors. Former Prime Minister Tony Blair, who is a patron of her charity, in his tribute to her said: 'She created and built AGI as an organisation that took a new and innovative approach to development and today is making change happen in many different African countries.' 'She gave it an ethos and spirit that is a unique combination of public service and enterprise. She took a small band of staff at the beginning and helped put together the flourishing and strong team of professionals which represent AGI today.' When she was diagnosed with colon cancer two years ago she documented her battle on her blog. Her mother Jean announced that she had died at 6.29am with enough time to say goodbye to husband Billy but it was just ten minutes before her five-year-old twins Oscar and Isaac woke up and asked 'is it morning?' ready to open their Christmas stockings.

Alistair William Hankey (1960)

died on 13 March 2015 aged 75. The following was kindly provided by his wife Märta : 'Educated at Pangbourne and Eton he studied Modern Languages, History and English at Keble. After graduating worked in a Kibbutz in Israel before joining the then British Travel Association in 1965 as a graduate trainee. Posted as Manager Stockholm office in 1969 and there met and married his wife Märta. Almost immediately after the birth of their daughter Louise in 1970, he took up his second posting as Manager Mexico and Latin America, where their son, Christopher, was born in 1973. After a return to London for three years as Head of Joint Schemes, a new marketing initiative of the now British Tourist Authority, the family was on the move again as Alistair was posted as Manager Paris office. Then after five years he returned once more to the head office in London, this time as Director Production Services, a position he held for twelve years until 1993 when he left prematurely due to reconstruction within the British Tourist Authority. He then worked for a variety of charities for a few years until a former colleague asked him to cooperate on his 'Signpost' premier hotel guide of Great Britain as an inspector. A job he and his wife much appreciated as it involved stays at lovely country inns and hotels. In later years his health suffered, although he would try not to let it affect his family or friends. He was a devoted husband, father and grandfather - adored by his grandchildren - and also kept in regular contact with former colleagues and friends. Except for family life, his passion was cricket and sport in general, gardening and fly-fishing when he got the chance. A colleague from when they were graduate trainees together at BTA nearly fifty years ago sums up the qualities for which he will be remembered: 'the ability to be noble yet self-effacing, to be authoritative yet compassionate, to be serious and resolute in intent yet gifted with a gentle and winning sense of humour. He was a good friend, a wise counsellor and an inspiration to his colleagues'. For his family he leaves a big, big hole, but a lifetime of wonderful, loving memories.'

Thomas David Mure Hart

died on 13 December 2014 aged 75. He was educated at Trinity College, Glenalmond (1952-57) and joined the Royal Navy Volunteer Reserve (1954-58) in anticipation of doing National Service in the Royal Navy. Instead he came up to Keble to read Law, played rugby for the College (1958-61) being Captain (1960-61) and for the University Greyhounds RFC (1959-61). He was also a member of the University Sailing Crew and a member of Vincents. He joined Robertson and Maxtone CA in Edinburgh (1961-66) and was admitted to the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Scotland (1965). He was a member of the Royal Navy Reserve list 3 (1961-72) resigning in the rank of Lieutenant. He moved to Scottish and Newcastle Breweries where he held various staff support roles (1966-68) becoming Assistant Regional Manager, Northwest England and Wales (1968-69), Regional Manager, West of Scotland Managed houses (400) and hotels (30) (1969-73), Regional Manager, Ireland (a free trade operation) (1973-77) and Group Planning Manager (1977-79). He moved to Lorimer's Brewers Limited as Managing Director of the autonomous Scottish subsidiary of Vaux Plc, the Sunderland-based brewer and hotelier (240) (1979-80). This post carried a main board seat on the Vaux board. His next move was to Allied Breweries first as Managing Director of the Northwest England operations Tutley Walker Ltd, a quasi-regional brewer with 850 pubs (1980-82) and then as Finance Director of Allied Breweries (4,000 plus pubs and 7 breweries) and Chairman of the United Breweries of Breda and Rotterdam (1982-85). His last move was to Hall and Woodhouse Ltd an independent family owned brewer and soft drinks company as Managing Director (1985–1998) becoming Chairman until retirement (1998–2000). He was a member of the Worshipful Company of Brewers being the Master (2002–03). He was keen on yachting, golf, skiing and shooting. He raced a classic yacht under IRC rules, was a member of the British Classic Yacht Club being Rear Commodore (2004) and a member of several yacht clubs. He was a member of the Honourable Company of Edinburgh Golfers. He leaves a wife Viveca whom he married in 1971 and two daughters Eileen and Aeneas.

George Alexander Hendry

died on 15 October 2014 aged 77. Educated at Eastbourne College he came up to Keble to read Law after two years National Service in the Royal Sussex Regiment (1955–57). He played cricket for the University Vagabonds Club and rugby for the University Greyhounds. He chose a career in Property Management and joined the City of London Real Property Company (1960–69). He moved to Jones Lang Wootton (1969–72) and then was appointed a Director of Central and City Properties (1972–77). He became a Director and Estates Manager for the Reed Properties Division of Reed International (1977–80), a Partner with Richard Main and Company (1980–92) and a Consultant with Michael J Peachey and Company (1994–96). His last appointment was as a Partner in Graham Neal and Partners. His wife Susan wrote that Peter Bruford (Keble 1956) and many of his Keble friends attended George's funeral and had wonderful memories of their time at Keble. He also leaves a daughter Charlotte and son Alexander.

Christian Iltid Henty (1960)

died on 21 July 2015 aged 73. Educated at Eton he came up to Keble to read History. David Smyly, who was also at Eton and came up to Keble to read Law the same year, had kept in contact with Christian and sent us the following: 'Christian at once became an enthusiastic Kebleite and remained one all his life. He regarded his time at Keble as the Golden Years. He read History and that too became a lifelong interest. He rowed at school but at a time when Keble was Head of the River and fielded a high proportion of the University Eight, he could not command a place in the College boat. Nevertheless he was an avid supporter and manned the Isis coaching boat. He also became a Vagabond, a College cricket team that played neighbouring villages with more enthusiasm than skill. After Oxford he farmed, first in Dumfriesshire and later in Normandy. He raised fine sheep and cattle and latterly racehorses. His stock won many races as did his whippets. At both establishments he was a generous and thoughtful host. He was briefly married but sadly it did not work out and there were no children. He adored his brothers' children and to them he was a generous and supportive uncle. His later years were regrettably lonely. Although he spoke fluent French and was much involved with local activities – he was on the War Graves Commission and did a great deal for the French equivalent of Alcoholics Anonymous – he was painfully shy and found it hard to make new friends. His old friends who made the effort found a domestically chaotic house, full of books and whippets, the warmest of welcomes and a wonderful meal. As we did when we visited ten days before his death.'

Edgar Hugh Hillyard (1934)

died in early 2015 aged 99. Educated at Herne Bay College he came up to read Physiology at Keble where his father Canon Geoffrey Hillyard had read History (1907). He went to St Thomas's Hospital in London (1939) and qualified as a doctor BM BCh (1943) being a House Surgeon at the Kent and Canterbury Hospital (1943). He returned to Oxford for a year in the Midwifery Department of the Radcliffe Infirmary before being called up and commissioned into the Royal Army Medical Corps (1944). He was released from the army (1946) worked in Oxford as a GP and as a Gynaecological (Supernumerary) Registrar in the Radcliffe Infirmary becoming a D(OBST) of the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists (1947). For three years he was in General Practice in Bromley, Kent (1948–51) and then re-joined the Royal Army Medical Corps. He served a year in the Louise Margret Midwifery Hospital in Aldershot before being posted to the Military Hospital in Tripoli (1952) as a Junior Specialist in Midwifery. As a Major he was made Officer-in-Command of the Families Military Hospital at Moasca in the Canal Zone, Egypt (1953) and then returned to England as Physician and Surgeon to the Royal Hospital, Chelsea (1957–59). He was seconded to the Trucial Oman Scouts in Sharjah as Officer Commanding Medical Services and Senior Medical Officer (1959–61). Returning to London he was Deputy Assistant Director-General 2(a) at the War Office (1961–63) and then posted as a Lieutenant Colonel as Officer Commanding 29 Field Ambulance RAMC with the British Army of the Rhine (1963–67). He retired from the Army (1967) and was appointed Civilian Medical Officer to 17 Port Regiment of the Royal Corps of Transport at Marchwood, Hampshire (1967–80). His last appointment was with the Southampton Blood Transfusion Centre (1980–83). He married Barbara C Moor in 1939.

Bruce Richard Howells (1951)

died on 25 September 2013 aged 82. Educated at St Paul's School he came up to Keble to read Law after two years National Service. He played rugby for the College and for the University Greyhounds RFC. He was also a member of the University Panthers Boxing Club. He joined Yardley and Company Ltd as a Junior Manager (1954–57) but decided to study Medicine at Westminster Hospital (1957–62) gaining his MB BS and becoming a Member of the Royal College of Surgeons and Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians (1962). He was House Surgeon and Junior Casualty Officer at Westminster Hospital and House Surgeon (Obstetrics) at the Whittington Hospital, London gaining the Diploma in Obstetrics and becoming a Member of the Royal College of Gynaecology (1964). He went into General Practice at Friern Barnet, North London. His wife Daphne wrote: 'An enthusiastic rugby player well into middle age, he always took pride in wearing his Greyhound tie. He leaves a wife Daphne and sons John (Keble 1984), Julian and Edwin and their families.'

John Harry Hubble (TT 1941)

died on 10 August 2014 aged 91. His son Robert sent the following obituary: 'He came up to Keble on a classical scholarship from Queen Mary's Grammar School, Walsall. Like most of his generation his studies were interrupted by the war and he joined the Westminster Dragoons as a Tank Commander on a flail tank and served in France, Holland and Germany from just after D Day until the end of the war. He returned to Oxford and completed his degree and during that time rowed for the College second boat. He then joined British Rail and held various management positions around Birmingham and the Black Country retiring in 1983. He was a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Transport and a Visiting Lecturer in Transport Law and Transport Legislation at Birmingham University. He enjoyed a long and happy marriage to Joyce (whose brother also went to Keble, TT 1941). Fiercely proud of his Black Country roots he served on his school old boys committee, including a year as Chairman. He played club cricket in Walsall and followed the fortunes or otherwise of Walsall Football Club. He also became a Magistrate on the Walsall bench and in later life joined one of the local Probus groups. Until he was housebound for the last year or so he had enjoyed a very full and active life.' He leaves a wife Joyce, son Robert and daughter Rosemary.

John Michael Illingworth (1955)

died on 29 June 2015 aged 81. Educated at Denstone College he was called up for National Service and commissioned as a 2nd Lieutenant in the Royal Artillery. He came up to Keble to read Mathematics but after taking Mathematics Moderations (1956) he changed to Physics. He was President of the Junior Common Room (1957-58) and a member of both the Wills and the 13 Clubs. He played and was Honorary Secretary for the College Cricket Club, he played and was Honorary Secretary and Captain (1958) for the College Squash Club and he was a member of the College Rugby Fives Team. He also played for the University Authentics Cricket Club. His brother Hugh who followed him to Keble in 1960 was killed with his wife in a car accident in Nairobi, Kenya in 1968. John's whole career after Keble was spent with Rolls Royce plc based in Derby. He was involved in a number of widely disparate activities ranging from Nuclear Engineering through Personnel and Training to management of After Sales Support for aero-engines. In 1972 he became a Fellow of the Institute of Personnel Management. He retired in 1993. His interests apart from the six grandchildren were cricket, squash, golf and gardening. He leaves a wife Ann and sons Stephen born in 1962 and David born in 1966, their daughter Jane Ann born in 1964 died at 8 weeks.

Michael Cecil Johnson (1942)

died on 20 May aged 90. The following obituary was prepared from the draft sent by his son Nicholas. Born in Newcastle-under-Lyme he went to the local Wolstanton Grammar School and was awarded a classics scholarship at Keble. Wartime regulations allowed a year at university prior to military service. Michael entered the Royal Artillery but was (unknown to him at the time) identified as a suitable candidate to learn Japanese for the intelligence services. It had been found that students of Latin and Greek learned Japanese much faster than students of other subjects. He spent the rest of his service as a Sergeant in the Intelligence Corps with a spell at Bletchley Park. After demobilisation he returned to Keble, graduating in 1948 and then spent five years with a small trading house which imported goods from India and marketed them in Europe. On the strength of his knowledge of foreign exchange regulations he joined Shell International Petroleum and served in various finance departments. Following the listing of Royal Dutch and Shell Transport on the New York Stock Exchange, he set up and managed the Investor Relations Department. He was also responsible for making financial forecasts and monitoring the capital budget. In 1969 he was appointed Director of Planning for Shell in Tokyo for four years. On returning to London and until his retirement in 1983 Michael was Area Coordinator for the Far East. His main achievement was to re-establish relations between Shell and the Peoples Republic of China in the post Mao era. After retirement from Shell he was a part time adviser to the London manager of Dai-Ichi Kangyo Bank the then largest retail bank in Japan. He arranged for the bank to sponsor one of the Royal Academy Summer Exhibitions. Michael married (1951) Margaret Anthony whom he had known since childhood. At the time she had been working at the Foreign Office and dreaded being on-call overnight and having a call from Winston Churchill. Michael enjoyed walking in the Chiltern Hills, reading about Byzantine history and the emergence of Islam and gardening. He helped with the company which ran their communal garden in Earls Court. In retirement Michael and Margaret enjoyed the theatre, eating out and were very fond of visiting Venice in Biennale years. Margaret died in 2009 and sadly their daughter Katie died in 2011 but they are survived by their son Nick.

Frank Anthony (Tony) Little (1951)

died on 9 June 2015 aged 84. The following was sent by his daughter Judith. 'My father was born in Gloucester on 13 June 1930, he attended The Crypt School, Gloucester and after National Service in the RAF came up to Keble to read English. Friends he made at Keble remained so throughout his life and he maintained links with Keble, often sporting his old College tie and in recent times he and my mother stayed for bed and breakfast. After graduating he returned to Gloucester where he was employed by the General Accident Insurance Company (1954-59). My parents married in 1957 and had two children (my brother Christopher born 1958 and myself, Judith, born 1962). Sadly my brother suffered from severe epilepsy and he died in 1988. My father entered the teaching profession in 1960 obtaining a post at the Central School, Gloucester. In 1962 the family moved to Stafford as my father accepted a post at Stafford College of Further Education. In 1964 the family relocated to Sutton Coldfield when my father took the post of Liberal Studies Lecturer at Sutton Coldfield College of Further Education. In 1978 the family moved to Lichfield where my mother and I ran a newsagents and general store (my father would return home from his day job and then help us in the shop, selling papers). He remained at the college until his retirement from the post as Assistant Principal in 1994. He loved education for the opportunities that it afforded people from all sorts of different backgrounds. He had a dry and sharp sense of humour, he wore his knowledge and intellect lightly. His interests included English literature, cars (a 3-litre Alvis graced the drive when I was growing up), wine and family history. He was very much a family man. He is survived by his wife, Margaret, myself (his daughter, Judith) and his grandchildren, Portia (currently a Leeds University undergraduate reading Biochemistry) and Nathan (awaiting GCSE results).'

Brian Mace (1948)

died on 12 November 2014 aged 86. Educated at Cockburn High School, Leeds he came up to Keble to read History after two years National Service. He played badminton for both the College and the University and was Captain of the College 2nd Tennis VI. He was a member of both the College and the University Liberal Clubs and a member of the College Essay Club. He was appointed an Assistant Master at Eshton School, Gargrave, Yorkshire (1951-52) and then took the Postgraduate Certificate of Education in the Education Department of Leeds University (1952-53). He was an Assistant Master at Leeds Grammar School and then became a Senior Tutor at Buckinghamshire Further Education College until 1984. His wife Margaret died on 31 December 2006 but he is survived by their two sons Peter and Stephen and grandchildren Philippa, Jonathan, Sarah and Oliver.

Anthony (Tony) Lovell Moore (1950)

died on 19 December 2014 aged 85. Educated at Henley-on-Thames Grammar School he came up to Keble after two years National Service and read Geography. He represented the College at rugby (1950-53), cricket (1951-53), rugby fives (1950-54) and was a member of the University Authentics Cricket Club and the University Bach Choir. He stayed in Oxford for the Diploma in Education (1954) and was appointed an Assistant Master at Wellingborough Junior School (1954-56). He married Barbara Webb and moved to be second-in-charge of the Geography Department at Northampton Grammar School (1956-60). He became Head of Geography at Farnham Grammar School (1960-67) and then Headmaster of Copford Glebe School in Colchester (1967-71). He was appointed Principal of Colchester Boys High School where he remained until he retired in 1994. He was succeeded by his son Andrew (Keble 1982 Modern Languages) who had been the Vice-Principal of the School for the previous two years. Tony had been a School Inspector for Independent Schools (1980-92) and Chairman of East Anglian Independent School Association (1989-91). He was a member of the Colchester Choral Society (1975-84), Copford Church Choir, Copford Cricket Club, Rivenhall Golf Club, Colchester Rugby Club and Clacton Arts and Literature Society. He had also joined both the National Trust and English Heritage. His wife Barbara wrote: 'He kept his interests up right to the end even enjoying visiting the Copford Cricket Club ground in the last few weeks for a walk around. He joined the club in its first year of action and played regularly for many years, remaining as a Vice-President after his playing days were over. He was a 'Year rep' for several years and much enjoyed re-visiting Keble on many occasions and was proud that our son Andrew followed him in graduating at the College and that our grandson Nicholas is now doing a PGCE with you.' He leaves a wife Barbara and their children Valerie, Richard, Sarah, Andrew and Roger.

Thomas Philip Moore (1960)

died on 1 November 2014 aged 73. Educated at Wolverhampton Grammar School he came up to Keble to read Mathematics, was a member and Secretary of the College Cross-Country Team, played for the 2nd Soccer Team and rowed in the Soccer Eight. He took part in the cycling 25-mile time trial and was a member of the University Tiddlywink Society. He was 'Master of the Winks' (1962-63) and toured the USA with the Oxford Team (1962). He was also an English International Tiddlywinker. Philip joined Tube Investments Ltd as a Graduate Trainee and then moved to Raleigh Industries as Operational Research Manager. He gained a Diploma in Management Studies from Aston University (1969) and was appointed a Senior Lecturer in Business Information Services at the Wolverhampton Polytechnic which became a university. In 1972 he gained an MSc in Mathematics from Aston University. He became acting Dean of the Business School before partial retirement in 1996 and final retirement in 1998. For ten years he was then involved in the planning, launch and governing (five years as Chair of the Governors) of a new Church of England faith school designated as a Fresh Start School to replace a failing Secondary School. He spent two years as Chair of Shifnal Town Plan Steering Committee culminating in the launch of the plan in March 2009. His wife Patricia died in 2009. Their daughter Helena (Keble 1987) now Helena Ingram had been married until 2005 to Robert Pullan (Keble 1986). Helena wrote that her father derived much pleasure and comfort from music and it was very hard for him when in his last few months of life he became unable to play the flute any more. She said he was an excellent grandad to her two children Tommy and Amy with much patience, kindness and humour.

John Nicholas Boyd Mourant (1957)

died on 16 March 2015 aged 78. Educated at Rugby he was called-up for National Service in the Royal Navy. He was a Midshipman on board the coastal minesweeper HMS Essington at the beginning of the Suez Crisis. Apart from spending much time sailing the ship's dinghy he practised firing the ship's gun at oil barrels but never in anger (1956-57). Following his father (John Philip Boyd Mourant, Keble 1924 Engineering Science) he came up to Keble but read Agriculture and Forestry. He played rugby for the College and was a member of the University Ploughing Team. After graduation he went to work on the farm of his mother's cousin, Jack Simmons. The farming year seemed to fit in with his hobbies of sailing, the Oxford Farming Conference, the theatre, sport and parish life. He married Jennifer de Boyn Knight (1960) and after the birth of their two boys Michael and Paul they moved to Home Farm, Swinford, Leicestershire. In his sailing he progressed from a GP14 to a 16ft Wayfarer then an 18ft Nimrod to his pride and joy a 22ft Red Fox which he named Hilda May after his mother. He sailed single-handed in an open boat to Alderney and back and in his Wayfarer to Jersey to visit his sister Philippa. After he gave up rugby for the Rugby Lions he changed to hockey. He was an active member of the Swinford Operatic and Drama Society (SODS) until 2008 and had been Chairman for many years. He was a Parish Councillor and Chairman of Swinford Parish Council for some thirty years, Chairman of Swinford School Governors for many years and Church Warden for thirty plus years. His wife died in 1997 and John developed Alzheimer's about five or six years ago. He was looked after by his family and an army of carers and for the last twenty months by the staff at Barons Park Nursing Home. He leaves a sister Philippa and her husband George, two sons Michael and Paul, their wives Felicity and Sarah and grandchildren.

Christopher Jeremy Osborn-Jones (1962)

died on 17 April 2015 aged 71. He was educated at Dauntsey's School, came up to Keble to read Zoology and rowed and played rugby. He attended the University of London's Institute of Education and took the Postgraduate Certificate of Education (1965-66). He was appointed an Assistant Teacher at Eltham Green School and gained an MSc from Birkbeck College, London (1969). He moved to be an Assistant Teacher at Enfield Boys School and then was made Head of Biology at Ealing Boys School. He was appointed Head of Science at Hemel Hempstead Comprehensive where he remained until he retired but continued to teach there part-time. In 1995 he had been elected to the Worshipful Company of Cutlers in London and he served as Master of the Company (1997-98). His wife Carolyn wrote that she 'had fond memories of coming with Chris to the 1962 entry's 50 year celebration in September 2012. Keble was very dear to his heart. In retirement he enjoyed racing his Mirror Dinghy and touring in his vintage Morgan three-wheeler. Just before he died he had finished a book on 'The Heraldic Elephant' which will be published this year. He was a Master at DIY and gardening especially his vegetable plot.'

Allan Burn Pearson (1939)

died on 27 August 2014 aged 93. He was educated at Hymers College, Hull and came up to Keble as a History Scholar. After one year he was called-up and commissioned into the Royal Artillery (1940-46). He returned to Keble to read Theology, was Stage Manager of the College Drama Society, Treasurer of the JCR and Secretary of the Music Society. During the interval at a Music Society recital on 20 February 1947 he met Ann Vernon (St Anne's) his wife to be. He went to Cuddesdon Theological College (1948-49) but did not proceed to ordination. He gained a Diploma in Education (1950) and a BLitt in Musicology (1950) which was converted to a MLitt (1956). He was appointed an Assistant Master at Southfield School in Oxford (1950-53) and then at Wolstanton County Grammar School (1953-56). He was a member of the Territorial Army and was awarded the ERD (Emergency Reserve Decoration). He moved into educational administration at first in Cheshire (1958-61) and then in the Divisional Education Office in Leigh, Lancashire (1961-68). He was appointed Assistant Director of Education for the City of Liverpool (1968-81). Upon retirement he became involved with the farm which his wife had taken over after the death of her father. His wife Ann wrote: 'Allan remained very active during his thirty years of retirement which he said he enjoyed immensely. Apart from being involved with the family farm he was a founder member of the Kelsall and District Rural Amenity Society, the President of the local British Legion and he worked tirelessly as Treasurer to raise sufficient funds to build a large and much needed Community Centre in the village. In 2002 he was awarded the Golden Jubilee Award for service to the community. Despite all these achievements he continued to make time for numerous musical activities and to win prizes for his home made wine.' He leaves a wife Ann, children Carola, Gilly and Richard and grandchildren Russell, Rachel, Philip, Michael, Callum and Sabrina.

Alan Roy Perry (1966)

died on 5 November 2014 aged 75. He was a postgraduate student at Keble gaining a MSc in Botany (1970) while working as an Assistant Curator of Herbarea in the Department of Botany in Oxford (1960-71). He moved to Cardiff as the Assistant Keeper of Botany and Head of Cryptograms at the National Museum and Galleries of Wales until he retired (1971-98). He was

Secretary of the British Bryological Society (1974–81), Editor of its Bulletin (1974–98), Curator (1984–99), Vice-President (1994–95) and President (1996–97). He became an Honorary Member of the Society in 2002. Roy was also President of the Cardiff Naturalists Society and Editor of 'Nature in Wales'. He published Welsh Wild Flowers (1973, 1979), Blodau gwyllt cymru (1979), Mosses and Liverworts of woodland: a guide to some of the commonest species (1992), Flora of Oxfordshire (1998 with J Killick and S Woodell) and edited with R E Longton the Proceedings of the Diamond Jubilee Meeting (1983) of the British Bryological Society (1985). He is survived by his wife Hilary, daughters Laura and Fiona and son Hugh.

died on 25 September 2014 aged 95. He was educated at Ripon Grammar School, North Yorkshire and came up to Keble for one year reading Music before being called-up into the Royal Air Force (1940–46). He returned to Keble (1946–49), played hockey for the College, was a member of the Bach Choir and became an Associate of the Royal College of Organists. He was appointed Assistant Master teaching Music and English at Wellingborough Grammar School (1949–54) and then moved to Blandford Forum Grammar School to teach the same two subjects. He became an Adult Education Principal in West Sussex being the Principal of the Shoreham and Southwick Evening Institute and Warden of the Southwick and Fishgate Community Centre (1960–64). He moved to be the Area Principal of the North-East Somerset Evening Institutes and retired (1980). His daughter Barbara wrote that sadly her mother Phyllis whom her father married in 1947 had died of Alzheimer's in 2003. Her father is survived by the three daughters Barbara, Helen and Miranda.

Alan George Quinn (1962)

died on 14 February 2015 aged 74. He was educated at the Licensed Victuallers' School in Slough and graduated in Natural Science from Trinity College Dublin. He came up to Keble for the Diploma in Education, played football for the College (1962–63), was a member of the College Athletics Team (1963) and also a member of the University Freshmen's Athletics Team (1962). His wife Angela wrote: 'Alan retired in August 2005 following a career of forty two years in education. Starting as a Junior Research Fellow in the Royal Free Hospital of Medicine and finishing as a Consultant and an Inspector of Schools with OFSTED. In between times he taught in a wide variety of schools to pupils from age 5 to 20, including serving a total of twelve years overseas with the Ministry of Defence in Malta, Cyprus and the Netherlands and as a volunteer for a semester in a Polish state school. During his career he also gained an MSc in Biochemistry (London University) and an MA in Educational Research (University of East Anglia) and produced a number of publications. He enjoyed his retirement, particularly travelling with Angela, spending time with his four grandchildren and being an active member of his church and local community. His completely unexpected sudden death was a dreadful shock to all, but his family are grateful that he was able to live his life to the full up to his last moments.'

Frederick (Frikkie) Anton Raal (1947)

died peacefully on 20 August 2014 aged 91. He was educated at Philippolis High School in what was then the Orange Free State gaining a BSc at the University of South Africa (1943) and an MSc at Stellenbosch University (1945). He came up to Keble as a Rhodes Scholar for a DPhil in Chemistry, was a member of the College Athletics and Lawn Tennis teams (1949). He was a Postdoctoral Fellow at the National Research Council of Canada in Ottawa (1950–51) and then returned to South Africa as a Research Officer in their Council for Scientific and Industrial Research (1951–54). He moved to become Research Officer to the Director of Research in the Diamond Research Laboratory, Johannesburg (1955–86) and retired in 1987. His son Trevor wrote that he was 'a truly loving, caring and supportive father. It broke our hearts to lose you but we take comfort knowing you are at peace in the arms of the Lord.' Frederick leaves a wife Mary, daughter Antoinette, sons Derrick, Peter and Trevor, daughters-in-law Anne, Lorna and Gill, grandchildren Taryn, Lauren, Dylan, Nicholas, Philippa, Byron and Cara and step-grandchildren Mark and Bryan.

James Lancelot (Lance) Railton (1971)

died on 3 August 2012 aged 60. Educated at Oundle he came up to Keble to read History. His wife Liz (Somerville 1971) wrote: 'We met at Oxford and married very soon after we came down, celebrating thirty eight very happy years together just before he died over two years ago. He spent his career after Keble with Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs formerly HM Customs and Excise. For most of his civil service career he held various policy roles relating to tariffs, border controls and VAT with the exception of nearly five years as Director of Operations for the Parliamentary and Health Services Ombudsman (1994–98). From 1993–94 he was an Observer for the Civil Service Selection Board fast-stream entry selection. He was an enthusiastic hobbyist throughout most of his life covering a wide range of interests including maritime history, arms and armour, the Vikings, bonsai trees and ghosts. Quite an eclectic mix that reflected a man of many interests and huge intellectual curiosity. He took huge pleasure from watching our two sons, Edward and William, develop loving partnerships and move into adult life. His death was unexpected and he had been enjoying his newly retired life and his reputation for sociability- he loved to lunch with friends until only two weeks before he died.'

- Edward (Ted) Drummond Salt (1961) died on 9 December 2014 aged 72. Educated at Birkenhead School he came up to Keble to read Geography. For many years he was on the 'List of the lost' and sadly it was only after his death in a Nursing Home in Leamington Spa that one of his contemporaries, Bill Sharrod (1961 Geography), was able to contact Ed's partner Pauline and send us the following 'After leaving Keble Ed joined the Cowley plant at Oxford as a Systems Analyst and from there went on to work for a number of engineering companies in the Midlands in similar posts and later as a Systems Manager. Before retirement he became the IT Manager with Coventry City Council. Whilst at Keble, many will remember his great interest in matters military...he was always smartly turned out. (His old friend Arthur Cowie once remarked that he was the only man he knew who ironed his socks!) He joined the University Officers Training Corps and after coming down he was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the TA in Oxford. In later years this interest found an outlet in membership of the Sealed Knot Society. He was a member of a number of regiments, including Colonel John Pickering's Regiment of Foote, Overton's Regiment and latterly the Nantwich Sealed Knot. Their anniversary battle re-enactment took him and Pauline to Liscowel in Ireland, the scene of a Civil War battle, to Gettysburg (twice) and Antietam for the American Civil War battles and to Palmanova Fort near Trieste for a Napoleonic War battle as well as many other places and activities. In his last few years he suffered increasingly from dementia, a cruel fate for someone with a sharp, precise and witty mind, and resided in a nursing home in Leamington Spa. He leaves his partner, Pauline Ward, a fellow re-enactor who cared for him for many years.'
- John Roger Smitham (1971) died in early 2015 aged 62. He came up to Oxford at Pembroke College (1970) to read Modern History and Languages but transferred to Keble a year later to read Modern History. Ever since his second year as an undergraduate he had suffered from bi-polar manic depression and for many years he had been detained under the terms of the 1983 Mental Health Act in the Parkwood Psychiatric Unit in Blackpool and then the Belmar Psychiatric Nursing Home in Lytham St Anne's.
- Ralph Hugh Tompsett (1945) died on 20 July 2015 aged 88. He was educated at Abingdon School and came up to Keble to read Mathematics and Physics. He was Stroke of the College 1st VIII and his daughter Margaret says that rowing was his enduring passion throughout his life and photos of the VIII were always up around the house and he often talked about his time at Keble as being some of the happiest days of his life. He was called up for National Service, commissioned into the Royal Army Service Corps as a 2nd Lieutenant and served in Palestine (1947). On his return he decided to train as an architect qualifying with a Diploma in Architecture (1954) and becoming a Member of the Royal Institute of British Architects (1955). He worked for British Rail for twelve years (1956-68) and then the London Borough of Bromley for twenty years (1968-88). He worked privately for several years (1988-93) and finally joined his wife's practice, she also being an architect. He became a Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts (1995). He leaves a wife Elise Victoria Margaret whom he married in 1965 and daughters Margaret (1967) and Clare (1969).
- Ian Stuart Trowbridge (1970) died on 16 February 2013 aged 65. He grew up in Derbyshire and came up to Oriel College to read Biochemistry (1965). He transferred as a Graduate Student to Keble (1970) where he was supervised by Ian Walker the College's one and only Fellow in Biochemistry. Ian Trowbridge moved to San Diego as a Junior Faculty Member at the Salk Institute (1972) being promoted a full Professor (1983). He became Director of the Cancer Biology Laboratory at the Salk Institute and Adjunct Professor of Biology and Pharmacology at UCSD. He concentrated his research on molecular and cell biology on both normal and cancerous cells of the immune system. His later work focussed on how proteins involved in Alzheimer's disease move within cells. He published 141 scientific papers between 1970 and 2006. After retiring from the Salk Institute (2001) he became a community leader and activist in San Diego. As an ambassador for open government Ian served as an important voice for the community by attending public meetings of the San Diego City Council, the County of Supervisors and the Port Commission. He advocated for clean needle exchange to fight the spread of AIDS. He sued to stop developments over environmental issues and to prevent inflated severance packages for public officials. His biggest victory was when he and others sued the Port of San Diego over plans to spruce up the waterfront North Embarcadero. Ian wanted more public space and forced port officials into accepting a 150 foot open space east of Harbour Drive (2010). He is survived by his partner of twenty one years Del Cunamay, his daughter Emma Tecca, son Christopher Trowbridge and four grandchildren.
- Joseph Francis Geoffrey Williams (HT 1948) died on 12 January 2014 aged 87. Educated at Wolstanton Grammar School in Staffordshire he came up to Trinity College Oxford as a Naval Cadet (1944). After two terms reading History and receiving specialist cipher training he was called up and commissioned into the Royal Navy. He served as a (Cipher) Officer in Malta on the staff of Sir Algernon Willis, Commander-in-Chief Mediterranean. After the war he taught for eight months while waiting for a place at Oxford. He migrated to Keble as the waiting list was shorter and school friends Michael Johnson (1942), Sir Roy Griffiths (1945) and others were at the College. He played football for the College (1949-50), was a member of the Athletics Team (1948-49) and commented that he greatly enjoyed the brilliant teaching of history at Keble. He became a Trainee Manager at Lotus and Delta Ltd (1950) but decided to teach and gained a Diploma in Education at the Institute of Education, London University. He was appointed History Master at Watford Grammar School (1952-56), Marling School, Stroud (1956), St Nicholas Grammar School, Northwood and then Principal of Bexhill Sixth Form College (1977). He served on the National Council of the Secondary Heads Association and held a Page Scholarship to the USA. He also served on the Parliamentary Committee on Globalisation chaired by Shirley Williams and John Selwyn Gummer. He had close links with the Pestalozzi International Village and Pestalozzi aims. He wrote three volumes for 11-16 year-olds Portrait of World History (pub. Ed Arnold), Britain and Europe (pub. Ed Arnold), Britain and Empire (pub. UNESCO) and The Irish Problem (pub. HMSO). After twelve years as Principal of Bexhill he retired, trained for five years as a chiropractor at what became Bournemouth University and practised for another 8-10 years. His interests were walking, music, church, theatre, French language and culture and his family. He leaves a wife Jennie and children, Rosamund a Psychotherapist, Andrew a Priest, Alison a former OUP and Amnesty International Editor and Rachel (Keble 1982 then DPhil at St Hugh's) a Clinical Psychologist.

Stephen James Wood (1961)

died on 28 February 2014 aged 72. He was educated at Clifton and came up to Keble to read Philosophy and Physiology after two years National Service. He went as an Exchange Student to study Liberal Arts at Davidson College, North Carolina, USA. On his return to the UK he joined May and Baker Ltd (1966-68). He joined NatWest Bank (1968-94) and then moved to the Crown Prosecution Service (1994-2001). He retired in 2008. He was interested in the conservation of old buildings and was a member of the Friends of Whitehall and Cheam, the Friends of Nonsuch, the National Trust and the Landmark Trust. His wife Daphne had predeceased him and he leaves a daughter Sarah.

John Jasper Woodcock OBE (1943)

died on 26 January 2015 aged 89. Educated at Felsted he came up to Keble for one year as an RAF Probationer to read Philosophy. After release from the RAF he returned to Keble for two years to complete a PPE degree and was President of the Music Society (1949-50). He joined Menley and James Ltd as a Medical Copy-writer (1950-54) and then as Advertising Manager (1954-56). He moved to be Assistant Secretary of the Association of the British Pharmaceutical Industry and then joined the Psychotropic Drug Usage Research Unit at the London Hospital Medical College (1966-69). He was hired for one day a week by the Institute for the Study of Drug Dependence as their Information Officer working from one room in an attic in Queen Anne Street, London. He developed an index of drugs and gained a grant from the US Drug Abuse Council to support the Institute's library and information service. The Department of Health then provided the core funding to consolidate the ISSDD's existence. Jasper became the Director of the ISDD until he retired (1975-93). Harry Shapiro the former editor of the ISDD Newsletter wrote 'Jasper's abiding legacy was two-fold. Firstly he oversaw the development of the leading English library on drugs in the world with over 100,000 articles, books and reports. Secondly he established the principle that drug information by the ISDD would be topical, non-judgemental and evidence-based. This made ISDD unique. Information was available to any enquirer anywhere in the world.' When he retired the ISDD had an unparalleled international reputation. We are indebted to his wife Thérèse for most of the above.

Keith Woodward OBE (1948)

died on 12 November 2014 aged 84 Educated at Plymouth College he came up to Keble as a History Scholar. He rowed for the College, was a member of the Tenmantale Society and Treasurer of the University Railway Society. He was an Administrative Trainee at St Mary's Hospital in London (1951-52) but left to join the Colonial Service. He was posted to the New Hebrides Condominium as a member of the British Administrative Staff. He became Assistant Secretary being awarded a MBE (1964) and then Senior Secretary for Political Affairs being awarded an OBE (1976). He took early retirement on medical grounds (1978) and moved to New Zealand. His first wife Joyce Fletcher, whom he had married in 1953, died in 1983. He was a marathon and half-marathon runner and was President of the Blind Marathon (1984). He married Elizabeth Will (1986) and they came to England to live in Bath where he joined the Historical Association. He wrote A Political Memoir of the Anglo-French Condominium of the New Hebrides (ANU Press, 2014) and was co-editor of Tufala Gavman Reminiscences from the Anglo-French Condominium of the New Hebrides (University of the South Pacific, 2002). Keith is survived by his wife Elizabeth and by his daughters Lesley and Fleur by his first marriage. Elizabeth writes that she will probably return to New Zealand to be closer to her family.

NEWS OF OLD MEMBERS

- John Bennet (Former Tutor in Archaeology) took the post of Director of the British School at Athens from 1 October this year. The post is for five years, during which he will be on secondment from the University of Sheffield.
- 1936 Jack Swaab has entered the world of electronic publishing in his 98th year! His children's book The Ninth Life of Bella Simkins has just been published online with illustrations by Andrew McDonald. It's a must-read for all fans of cats and time travel, and can be found on Amazon.
- 1946 Ronald Gates writes: 'Since my retirement in 1985 from the vice-chancellorship of the University of New England (Australia), I have learnt Esperanto and have published, in Antwerp, Sydney and Vienna, nine little volumes in that language: five murder-mystery novels set in my old university and its regional city; three collections of crime short stories; and one crime-novel-cum-love-story. (The titles can be found in Who's Who and in Who's Who in Australia.)'
- 1948 Alan Robinson has now moved to Aberdeen to be near family following retirement to his native Yorkshire where he voluntarily assisted with churches in Knaresborough and the Ripon Diocese until he was 85 years old.
- 1949 Peter Jones' book, 'Imagist Poetry' (Penguin Classics), has been translated into Chinese and is being published this year by Chuchen Books in Beijing.
- 1952 Glyn Jenkins was ordained deacon in June 2014 and priest in November 2014 by the Bishop of Monmouth to be SSM in the Bassaleg Deanery in the Monmouth Diocese.
- 1957 Anthony Williams has published Bill's Saga, the story of a sufferer from Alzheimer's Disease, how his infirmity was callously exploited and wider lessons on how to prevent such abuse in future (Published by Witley Press Ltd., Hunstanton, PE36 6AD).
- 1958 John Fidler published A History of Lancaster Royal Grammar School in 2011. He is now working on a survey of Lancaster during the Great War, to be published shortly.
- 1959 Derek Inglelew writes: 'I retired after forty years as a General Practitioner in Redcar, where I attended St William Juners School, managing to be sued only once. Patients greet me affably.' His second wife works as a carer with her full nursing qualifications. One son lives in York looking after his twelve year old daughter, the other is in New Zealand, as an apprentice carpenter.
- Peter Watson continues to teach at the University of Law in Moorgate.
- 1960 Harold Goddard has been Honorary Diocesan Chaplain for the Worcester Diocesan Mothers Union since 2012, and since 3 May 2015 the Associate Priest of Christ Church, Malvern, remaining Canon Emeritus of Worcester Cathedral.
- Anthony Horne writes: 'I have just published my third historical novel based on ancient Rome. It is entitled The Daughters of Cannae and follows In the Shadow of Caesar and Domitilla and the Goddess. All are available as E-Books.'
- 1961 Peter Lucas taught Old and Middle English for forty years in University College Dublin and, together with his wife Angela, who taught the same subject at Maynooth University, has recently published an account of the medieval manuscripts at Maynooth. St Patrick's College Maynooth was founded in 1795 and most of their medieval manuscripts were acquired during the nineteenth century, much like those in Keble. Hardly any research had been done on them before, so they are now newly brought out into the light. See www.fourcourtspress.ie/books/2014/maynooth-manuscripts/. The Medieval manuscripts at Maynooth: Explorations in the Unknown was published with Four Courts Press, Dublin, in November 2014. ISBN 978-1-84682-534-7.
- Stephen Pople writes: 'My working life in four sentences. After an undistinguished career as an undergraduate, then several years of teaching, I finally discovered my true vocation: writing science books. I have produced around a dozen books for the education market, all published by Oxford University Press. The first, Science to Sixteen, appeared in 1980; the most recent, Complete Physics has been published in various editions for the UK and international markets. Writing continues, but I have now reduced my workload in order to take on more commitments as a grandparent.'
- 1962 Richard Rice Oxley writes: 'The Jesus Story musical received its first two live performances in April 2015. The eighteen songs with a linking narration were performed by a local choir in two village halls in South Lincolnshire. We plan to produce a CD and internet download. More details on our website: www.rev-rice-oxley.uk'
- 1963 Colin Summerhayes (MCR) has written Earth's Climate Evolution, describing climate change from the geological perspective. Our climate of the past 2000 years has been controlled by variations in Earth's orbit, modified by small changes in the Sun's output. This cooling period, Earth's neogacial, culminated in the Little Ice Age (1250-1850). Colin concludes that we should still be in the Little Ice Age, but our emissions of carbon dioxide have pushed us out of this natural climatic home for Planet Earth. Colin is now an Emeritus Associate of the Scott Polar Research Institute of Cambridge University.
- Glenville Whittaker has published For Christ's Sake – pressing the refresh button on the life of Jesus. It addresses the question, "would we still want a Christian religion if it were discovered its teaching is not something Jesus himself would have approved of?" In this new study, Glenville disavows the miracles but finds underneath an even more moving story about a man with a powerful divine connection who could indeed reveal an 'inner heaven'. He also takes the many new lines of investigation of the past half century as a starting point and draws them together in a way that one reviewer has said 'takes his readers on a journey of discovery near the completion of which the evidence supporting his theory is overwhelming.' Available from Amazon Books.
- 1965 John Bradbeer has published The Heritage Handbook: An A-Z of the Archaeology and Landscape History of Northern Devon, Bradbeer, J & Green, T (2015). Barnstaple: Museum of North Devon and North Devon Archaeological Society.

- 1965 Philip Kendall retired in 2000 from a Headship and spent eight years as an Independent Educational Consultant. In 2004 he became Chairman of the Spring Bank Arts Centre, a project to restore a Victorian Chapel and open it as an arts centre and since 2014 has been managing the now flourishing Arts Centre (www.springbankarts.org.uk). Andrew Oliver was appointed MBE in 2014 for 'services to homelessness' in the USA. He has served as President of the Board of Lifebridge (www.lifebridgesalem.org) for nine years, during which time its plans were hailed as 'a model for the nation'. On stepping down, Andrew was named President Emeritus with the main campus building named The Andrew and Carla Oliver Centre. Howard Oliver has written a new book, John Wesley-The Travelling Geographer. It was published in April 2015 by Harris Manchester College, Oxford.
- 1966 Mike Beaumont published, in 2014, A Discourse of Diversity: Policy and Provision for the Teaching of English as an Additional Language in the UK in the Journal of Korean Language Education 34 pp 89-118, and in 2015 (co-edited with Tony Wright) Experiences of Second Language Teaching Education, Basingstoke, Palgrave Macmillan. Ian Brackley writes: 'I shall be retiring from my post as Bishop of Dorking in Guildford Diocese on 30 September this year, a post I have held for nearly twenty years.' Jonathan Foster retired from the Circuit Bench in May 2015. He is enjoying his garden and continuing the futile struggle to improve his golf.
- 1967 Richard Keeble writes: 'My latest publications: George Orwell Now!, edited by Richard Lance Keeble, Peter Lang, New York 2015; The Funniest Pages: International Perspectives on Humor in Journalism, edited by David Swick and Richard Lance Keeble, Peter Lang, New York, 2015; The Profiling Handbook, edited by Sue Joseph and Richard Lance Keeble, Abramis, Bury St Edmunds, 2015; Profiling Pieces: Journalism and the 'Human Interest' Bias, edited by Sue Joseph and Richard Lance Keeble, Abingdon, Oxon, Routledge, 2015; Pleasures of the Prose, edited by Richard Lance Keeble and David Swick, Abramis, Bury St Edmunds, 2015; and The BBC Today: Future Uncertain, edited by John Mair, Richard Tait and Richard Lance Keeble, Abramis, Bury St Edmunds, 2015.'
- 1968 David Geggus has published The Haitian Revolution: A Documentary History. Cambridge, Mass.: Hackett, 2014. xxxviii + 211pp.
- 1969 John Heath has taken up a senior role in a project to facilitate geothermal power in East Africa. In addition he is providing advice to electricity sectors in Malawi and the Dominican Republic. Max Hill writes: 'At the age of 70 I have just become a Town Councillor for the first time and have also been invited to jointly manage the new Bedfordshire over-60s reserve cricket XI. I am still very active on the community front and am Chair of Governors of the local primary school, President of Sandy Twinning Association, County Welfare Officer for cricket, village home watch coordinator, Secretary of two local angling associations and MC of the annual Christmas lights event.'
- 1973 Thomas Muir writes: 'I was the principal organiser of a concert of new music by the Lakeland Composers Group (of which I am a member) during the 23rd Ribchester Musical Festival. The concert, on 26 June, was performed by Trio Aquilon and included one of my own compositions A Mechanical Music for Violin and Piano. Concerts devoted entirely to new music are virtually unheard of these days in the Classical Music world outside University or Conservatoire Music Departments.' David Ross writes: 'After over thirty years working for the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine as an epidemiologist, I joined the World Health Organisation's Maternal, Newborn, Child and Adolescent Health Department in April 2015 to work on adolescent health research in their Geneva office.' Donald Quicke, formerly Professor of Systematics, Imperial College London, is now retired and living in Thailand, and has published The Braconid and Ichneumonid Parasitoid Wasps: Biology, Systematics, Evolution and Ecology, which can be found at: <http://as.wiley.com/WileyCDA/WileyTitle/productCd-1118907051,subjectCd-LS24.html>.
- 1975 John Whitfield writes: 'As Founder and Director of Endymion Ensemble I often conducted Mozart's glorious Serenade in Bb, K361, affectionately known as 'The 13 Wind'. After years of deliberating whether it could be done, I have produced a version for wind quintet, which I hope still retains some of Mozart's lovely sonorities.' It is published as a set of Full Score & Parts by Phylloscopus Publications and printed and distributed by: Spartan Press Music Publishers Limited www.SpartanPress.co.uk. <http://www.spartanpress.co.uk/spweb/details.php?catno=PP813>. Scott Barnes writes: 'After serving two terms as UK CEO of Grant Thornton, Scott has been elected as Non-executive Chairman of Grant Thornton international with effect from 1 July.'
- 1981 Ian Knowles is the Director of the Bethlehem Icon Centre and the Bethlehem Icon School, situated in Bethlehem in the Holy Land which was founded in 2012.
- 1982 Kathryn Bramham-Galbraith moved to Haileybury College as Head of History in September 2014 after twenty years at Ipswich School. Robin Gwynn left the FCO in early 2014, after twenty-five years' service - much of which was spent working in or on sub-Saharan Africa. He is now joint-owner and director, with his wife Diana, of Whyteleafe Solutions Ltd, covering opportunity and risk in Africa and other business services. Craig Robinson was awarded Highly Commended by the British Medical Association for the 2015 Popular Medical Book category. His chapter (8) Catastrophe Theory and Chronic Fatigue Syndrome was published in Diagnosis and Treatment of Chronic Fatigue Syndrome- it's mitochondria not hypochondria written by Dr Sarah Myhill. ISBN: 9781781610343.
- 1987 James McAlevey has had his recent play at the Abbey Theatre in Dublin, Monsters, Dinosaurs, Ghosts, published by Methuen Drama/Bloomsbury. John Priestland is now Global Strategy Director at WSP Parsons Brinckerhoff, a 31,000 global engineering consultancy. He is a Fellow of the Institute of Physics and led the team advising the UK Government on the siting of new nuclear power stations.

- 1988 Juliet Rosenfeld (Soskice) Juliet's husband Andrew died 7 February 2015, aged 52. Andrew was chairman of Minerva PLC and then the The People's Operator PLC but also a significant philanthropist and donor to many causes. As Chairman of the NSPCC Full Stop campaign he raised £250 million for the charity. Latterly he was a Labour party supporter, donor and chair of its Nations and Regions board. He embodied the belief that you could be a highly successful entrepreneur but give back, not just with time and expertise but your own money. He did not have the opportunity to go to Oxford himself but appreciated what an education at Keble had given Juliet, and supported the college for this reason. Most importantly he was a phenomenal husband and father and is missed acutely by Juliet and their six children.
- 1991 John Daly and Yandan are thrilled to share the news of the birth of their son Daniel Cai Daly on 6 March 2014; they hope he will follow in his father's footsteps to Keble in due course!
Mark Wightman has joined the EY (Ernst and Young) partnership in Singapore. He has been in Asia for ten years with his wife Melanie and two sons.
- 1992 Jonathan Dean has written A Heart Strangely Warmed: John and Charles Wesley and their Writings which was published in September 2014 by The Canterbury Press.
Heidi Harrison and Julian are delighted to announce the arrival of Frederick Jack André Denée who came bursting into the world in under three hours at 11.08pm on Thursday 8 January 2015, weighing 7lbs 5oz. He joins his brothers, Harrison and George. His middle names come from his paternal great grandfathers, and with Frederick meaning 'peaceful ruler', maybe he'll be the calming force in The Denée Boys' triumvirate.
- 1993 David McDowell was appointed as Queen's Counsel in December last year. He is in practice at the Bar of Northern Ireland specialising in criminal law.
- 1994 Ben McCann and his wife Jacqueline welcomed Marlowe Cyril Eric McCann to the world on 12 June 2015, a younger brother to Monty and Cleo. Ben is now Head of French Studies at the University of Adelaide.
- 1995 Sara Cody (Wilcock) and David welcomed twins, Seth (6lbs 8oz) and Evelyn (4lb 12oz) on 14 May 2015. A brother and a sister for Owen and Dylan. Evelyn was born with a fatal brain abnormality and sadly passed away peacefully at home in the early hours of 20 May 2015, having significantly exceeded the doctors' expectations as to her likely life expectancy. Sara and David rejoice in the addition of Seth to their family, but are simultaneously devastated by the loss of their beautiful baby girl.
George Karamanolis writes: 'In September 2014 I have moved to Vienna to take up a new job as Assistant Professor of Philosophy specializing in Ancient Philosophy at the Institut für Philosophie at the University of Vienna. In late April we welcomed our second child, a daughter who joins our three and half year old son, Phoivos. Keble remains very dear to me as it was there that I first had a good grasp of the field of philosophy and ancient philosophy. I will always remember my days and especially nights in its wonderful library.'
