SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

This edition of Papers of the American Slave Trade consists of slave manifests for the port of Savannah, Georgia. Congress passed legislation in March 1807 that prohibited the importation of slaves into the United States after 1808, and section 9 required that all vessels of 40 tons or more carrying slaves between ports within the United States file two manifests (one for the port of origin and one for the destination). All of the manifests in this collection dated from 1808 include a pledge that the slave had not been imported after 1807. Each manifest lists the name of the ship, the master of the ship, the names of the slaves being transported, and the name and residence of either the slave owner or the shipper. The manifests are arranged into two series.

The first series, on reels 1 through 9, are inward manifests for ships arriving in Savannah. These manifests date from 1790 through 1859, but there are no inward manifests for the years 1823, 1835, and 1836. All of the ships listed in these manifests came from ports along the east coast of the United States or the Gulf of Mexico. Among the ports listed in the manifests are Baltimore, Md.; Charleston, S.C.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Mobile, Ala.; New Orleans, La.; New York City; Providence, R.I.; and St. Augustine, Fla. The inward manifests also include one folder for ships arriving in Savannah from Africa. One manifest in this folder is for a ship from Trinidad. These manifests date from 1789 through 1798.

The second series, on reels 11 through 20, are the outward manifests for ships that began in Savannah and traveled to other parts of the United States. Again, most of the destinations were on the east coast, with some ships also heading to ports in the Gulf of Mexico. The outward manifests cover the period from 1808 to 1859, but there are no outward manifests for the year 1837.

Researchers can make many interesting discoveries in these manifests. There are, for example, approximately ten thousand slave names listed on the manifests. Although the slave names have not been included in the index to this collection, the names of the slave owners have been included. Hence, these manifests might be used to trace the fate of a particular slave if the slave owner's name is known. Many of the manifests include listings for the sale of slaves along with their children, indicating not only the strength of slave families but also the fact that slave owners also recognized these familial bonds. The number of women listed as slave owners in the manifests is also worth further investigation.

LexisNexis has microfilmed the personal and family papers of some of the owners listed on the manifests. The papers of J. H. Hammond (see manifest in folder at Reel 15, Frame 0412) are available in Records of Ante-Bellum Southern Plantations from the Revolution through the Civil War, Series A: Selections from the South Caroliniana Library, University of South Carolina. Hammond family papers from after the Civil War are in Records of Southern Plantations from Emancipation to the Great Migration, Series C: Selections from the South Caroliniana Library, University of South Carolina, Part 1: The Hammond Family Papers. The papers of Louis Manigault are available in Records of Ante-Bellum Southern Plantations from the Revolution through the Civil War, Series F: Selections from the Manuscript Department, Duke University Library, Part 2: South Carolina and Georgia.

Other Manigault family papers are part of Records of Ante-Bellum Southern Plantations from the Revolution through the Civil War, Series J: Selections from the Southern Historical Collection, Manuscripts Department, Library of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Part 4: Georgia and Florida. The papers of John H. Cocke can be found in Records of Ante-Bellum Southern Plantations from the Revolution through the Civil War, Series E: Selections from the University of Virginia Library, Part 4: Cocke Family Papers. Other related collections microfilmed by LexisNexis are Slavery in Ante-Bellum Southern Industries; Race, Slavery, and Free Blacks; and Letters Received by the Attorney General, 1809–1870: Southern Law and Order.

NOTE ON SOURCES

Microfilmed from Record Group 36: Records of the United States Customs Service, Records of Customshouses, Entry 1468: Savannah—Coastwise Slave Manifests, 1801–1860, National Archives and Records Administration (Archives I), Washington, D.C. LexisNexis has microfilmed the documents in their entirety.

EDITORIAL NOTE

The records of the U.S. Customshouse in Savannah, Georgia, are arranged into two groupings, depending on the movement of vessels into and out of Savannah—inward and outward. The slave manifests are arranged chronologically by date of arrival and then by name of vessel in each grouping. The manifests contain name, tonnage, and nationality of vessel; date of arrival; name of master; name, usually Christian only, age, and sex of slave; name and address of consignee; and name of owner.

LexisNexis has microfilmed the documents as they are arranged at the National Archives, with the exception of box 32. Box 32 consists of oversize inward manifests for the period 1789–1798, and LexisNexis filmed these oversize manifests on reel 9. LexisNexis has made every technical effort to improve legibility of the original documents.

REEL INDEX

The following is a listing of the folders that compose Papers of the American Slave Trade, Series D: Records of the U.S. Customhouses, Part 1: Port of Savannah Slave Manifests, 1790–1860. The four-digit number on the far left is the frame at which a particular file folder begins. The file title and the date(s) of the file follow the frame number. The names of ships, ship masters, slave owners or shippers, and ports of destination and departure are listed in order of appearance. For the slave owners and shippers column, shippers are identified by (S) following the appropriate name. Due to the age of the documents and the handwritten script, some of the names on the manifests are more difficult to read than others. The guide writers have included these names in brackets. Inward folders indicate ships bound for Savannah. Outward folders indicate ships departing from Savannah.

INDEX OF SHIPS

The following index is a listing of the ships identified in this microfilm collection. The first number after each entry refers to the reel, while the four-digit number following the colon refers to the frame number at which a particular file folder containing a manifest listing the location begins. Hence, 10: 0116 directs the researcher to the folder that begins at Frame 0116 of Reel 10. All names in this guide have been entered as they appear on the ship manifests. Due to the age of the documents and the handwritten script, some of the names on the manifests are more difficult to read than others. The guide writers have included these names in brackets. No attempt has been made to combine similar, but not identical, names.

INDEX OF SHIP MASTERS AND THEIR SHIPS

The following index is a listing of ship masters and their ships identified in this microfilm collection. The first number after each entry refers to the reel, while the four-digit number following the colon refers to the frame number at which a particular file folder containing a manifest listing the ship master begins. Hence, 12: 0685 directs the researcher to the folder that begins at Frame 0685 of Reel 12. All names in this guide have been entered as they appear on the ship manifests. Due to the age of the documents and the handwritten script, some of the names on the manifests are more difficult to read than others. The guide writers have included these names in brackets. No attempt has been made to combine similar, but not identical, names.

INDEX OF SLAVE OWNERS AND SHIPPERS

The following index is a listing of the slave owners and shippers identified in this microfilm collection. The first number after each entry refers to the reel, while the four-digit number following the colon refers to the frame number at which a particular file folder containing a manifest listing the person begins. Hence, 5: 0294 directs the researcher to the folder that begins at Frame 0294 of Reel 5. All names in this guide have been entered as they appear on the ship manifests. Due to the age of the documents and the handwritten script, some of the names on the manifests are more difficult to read than others. The guide writers have included these names in brackets. No attempt has been made to combine similar, but not identical, names.

INDEX OF PORTS AND SHIPS

The following index is a listing of the ports and ships identified in this microfilm collection. The first number after each entry refers to the reel, while the four-digit number following the colon refers to the frame number at which a particular file folder containing a manifest listing the location begins. Hence, 9: 0853 directs the researcher to the folder that begins at Frame 0853 of Reel 9. All names in this guide have been entered as they appear on the ship manifests. Due to the age of the documents and the handwritten script, some of the names on the manifests are more difficult to read than others. The guide writers have included these names in brackets. No attempt has been made to combine similar, but not identical, names.
