

SUPERCHARGE YOUR FUNDRAISING WITH MEDIC BATTERIES!

Tired of hosting the traditional fundraisers for your organization?
Sick of selling magazines that pile up on coffee tables? Hoping to avoid another tempting box of cookies ending up on your neighbor's kitchen counter — or worse, your own?

At Medic Batteries, we're supercharging the traditional fundraiser and giving back to the community with our low-cost, low-risk, low-calorie fundraising program. We supply you with high-quality, name-brand batteries at below-market prices, you sell them to raise money for your cause. It's that easy! And best of all: you keep up to 50% of the profits!

How does it work?

Once you've enrolled with Medic Batteries, you can get out there and sell! At the end of your fundraising campaign, you'll collect your order forms and let us know how many total packs of batteries you'll need. Medic Batteries will send you an invoice for the batteries; once it's been paid, we will ship the batteries to your organization within 48 hours for distribution. There's no minimum order, so sell as few or as many packs as you like! And to make it even easier, your first shipment will be 100% free!

Who has partnered with Medic Batteries for their fundraisers, and what have the results looked like?

Over the years, we've worked with schools, kids' sports teams, churches, and Parent Teacher Organizations. In 2024 alone, participating groups raised an average of $2,393 per fundraiser, with some taking home more than $5,500!
