From Nature to Home...

STONE PANEL is a design brand with an idea which is carefully prepared and organized in a way to deliver unique interior solutions while integrating with nature.

Having an aesthetic concern and dislike of ordinary popular culture, it addresses an audience of art lovers.

Degeneration became ultra source of maintenance of life in our society. The values we regarded as positive and uplifting are no longer available. Goodness, aesthetic and beauty are no more valuable today. We are moving away to something with a soul inside. We are surrounded by pop culture and by Television's harmful effect to our lives and have become obsessed.

In such an environment, the value of art is diminishing. Theatres are closing down, the historic cinemas are being demolished. Creativity is steadily decreasing for those who want to improve fine arts.

Everything that arises as a result; it occurs tasteless, unsalted, soulless as we are or the music we listen to. There is a "disconcertion underneath everything, and this disconcertion disturbs us. The walls, which can not go beyond the standard points, we are confronted with a heap of concrete that does not give the person a chance to express himself.

We know that there are emotional people with awareness, who are separated from the hed. These are the people who produce, write-read, draw-follow, play-listen and make the world beautiful.

Our purpose is to produce products, that can satisfy the souls of these people with awareness as STONE PANEL. On the other hand, to serve creative people art and design.

Finally, we want to continue something, "Doing honest business" until forever without following anyone. Valuing the brand and approaching it with more value to those entering the relationship with us to defeat other brands.
