

Member Roadmap Tool

		Do you consider yourself:
		New to Simulation	Not a novice, but some experience	Experienced
Professional Development	Use your SSH membership to become the best simulationist you can be...	...by getting to know colleagues in person	Attend and Participate in SSH Conferences (IMSH, SimOps, Regional Meetings, Women in Leadership, Webinars)
			Attend a new member orientation at IMSH
			Be a Mentee at IMSH, SimOps, or other in-person events
		...by engaging with colleagues and others who share similar interests	Join & participate in online discussions with colleagues on the Open Forum or in the Sections, Special Interest Groups, & Affinity Groups on SimConnect
				Participate in online webinars
		...by learning about the state of the field	Watch and Listen to Recorded Content in the Live Learning Center
			Read Articles in Professional Journals (e.g., Simulation in Healthcare, Diverse Clinical Journals, Health Professions Education Journals, STORM)
	...by contributing to the content of annual conferences		Submit workshops and presentations to share your work or innovations	Review program content for simulation-related conferences
Scholarship	Use your SSH membership to become a scholar of simulation-based education...	...by continuing to learning about the state of the field	Read Articles in Professional Journals (e.g., Simulation in Healthcare, Diverse Clinical Journals, Health Professions Education Journals, STORM)
		...by developing relationships with other researchers or research collaborations	Attend Research Rounds and Research Presentations at Professional Conferences (e.g., IMSH, SIMOPS)
			Identify mentors or experienced investigators and/or mentor emerging scholars
		...by contributing to the conduct and dissemination of scholarly work	Support or participate in the conduct of simulation-based research
			Submit articles to professional journals ( e.g. Simulation in Healthcare) or to professional conferences (IMSH, SIMOPS)
				Review research submissions to local, national or international conferences or professional journals
					Serve on the Simulation in Healthcare journal Editorial Board
Leadership	Use your SSH membership to become a leader in the field...	...by becoming credentialed	Seek SSH Certification for Educators (CHSE) and Operation Specialists (CHSOS)
				Explore Advanced Certification CHSE-A or CHSOS-A
				Engage in Accreditation of your Center	Lead in Accreditation of your Center
		...by sharing your knowledge with others -	Attend IMSH Abstract and Workshop How-To Course
			Submit to IMSH Abstract and Workshop sessions
		- in person	Submit your ideas at SimVentors Showcase
			Be a Connector at IMSH, SimOps, or other in-person events
		- online	Submit articles to Simulation Spotlight
			Present webinars and other online events.
		- and in print	Submit articles to the Journal: Simulation in Healthcare
		...by taking a leadership role	Join and participate in specific projects organized by SSH Sections, Special Interest Groups, Affinity Groups and Committees
					Serve in supporting leadership positions within a Section, Special Interest Group, Affinity Group or Committee.
					Serve as Chair or Vice-Chair of a Section, Special Interest Group, or Affinity Group.
			Serve on or chair a Task Force
			Serve as a volunteer at a SSH regional or national meeting (IMSH, SimOps, etc.)
			Volunteer to review submissions for SSH regional or national meetings.
			Serve on planning committee for SSH regional or national meetings (IMSH, SimOps, etc.)
		Serve as Chair for a regional or national meeting planning committee
		Serve on SSH Board of Directors				