HOW IS BALL “VETERAN FRIENDLY”?

Veterans bring a diverse set of translatable practical, hands-on experience, leadership skills and discipline that is unique to military service and extremely valuable in the private sector. Recognizing your military service doesn't always allow for you to obtain a formal degree, Ball has proprietary waivers to help service members articulate their field experience into corporate experience. Using our Degree Equivalency Waiver and Experience Equivalency Waiver we can demonstrate how the experience of the individual is relevant and applicable to the duties and responsibilities of the position.

SkillBridge

Ball Aerospace is proud to be an authorized SkillBridge organization through the Department of Defense, bridging the skills of Service members to their new civilian careers. Active Duty military can participate anytime during their final 180 days of service. The program is designed to provide the candidate and our organization value in a strategic skillset match, candidate development and a path to potential regular employment. Ultimately, we are looking for transitioning service members to join our team after completion of the program in numerous job categories.

Ball Veterans Network

This support for service members taking their next career step contributes to both Ball Aerospace's success and to a stronger military. At Ball, the transition process for veterans does not end upon finding civilian employment. Our Veterans Ball Network was established to provide opportunities to build community and camaraderie for veterans and non-veterans within our organization.
