

Why Crisis24

Our skilled staff, drawing upon experience gained through extensive service in government agencies, special military operations, and corporate security departments, provides our clients with exceptional global capabilities.

Executive Protection

Our Executive Protection division has over 20 years of successful experience, having protected at-risk individuals and enterprises in 119 countries. We support half of the Fortune 500 companies, scores of prominent people/families, and other organizations facing unique risks. We also maintain a separate dedicated Security Operations Center, solely to support on-the-ground clients and agents, allowing us to operate effectively, efficiently, and at large scale across all time zones.

Residential / Estate Security

Crisis24 delivers world-class security, privacy, and governance for at-risk individuals at home, either on a full-time or part-time basis. Our agents help in designing a comprehensive residential security program that includes advanced technologies, and other best practice processes.

Surveillance

Our Protectors will provide surveillance detection to identify physical or surveillance threats against the client. They are conducting both mobile and static surveillance from a discreet distance. They can additionally conduct surveillance detection when the client is traveling from different locations.

Corporate Security

Our corporate security protectors are responsible for overseeing the protection of the physical and intellectual assets of the client's company. They ensure proper security and safety measures are in place.

Our people

We pay careful attention to how we hire and train our staff. They are highly educated with backgrounds spanning from geopolitics, security, and military experience. They are professionals with a passion for success. Do you have what it takes to join our team?
