

Legion Consulting Solutions

Legion Consulting Solutions (Legion) specializes in providing subject matter experts our customers need to achieve the results they demand. We support at all echelons with sound analytics, plans development, and comprehensive assessments. The Legion brings cutting-edge experience to support highly technical staff in mission critical positions and classified efforts across both public and private markets to ensure mission success. We currently have six pillars of support: 1) Joint Military Operations, 2) Cybersecurity & Information Technology, 3) Cyberspace Operations, 4) Systems & Data Engineering, 5) Program & Project Management and 6) Veteran Outreach.

What does that mean for transitioning Rangers?

We bring cutting-edge experience to mission critical positions... Sound familiar? Many of these roles are suited for veterans with a joint operations and/or SOF background. Enter the Rangers. Your training, experience, and (potentially) security clearances could pave the way for you to transition easily into post-military life.

Further, we want you to succeed because we all transitioned ourselves. Our owner was a Ranger, all Core Team Members are veterans (Two Army, two Navy, and one Chair Force; pun intended). We offer you assistance in finding a job, resume writing, and social media presence (building or refinement). Anything else, just ask and we will do what we can for you!

What do we expect from you?

RLTW! And they always will. We need that grit, that ferocity, that violence of action we don't see on the "civilian battlefield" (so to speak). The missions will change, but they still must be accomplished. What do we expect from you? The skills you've amassed over your career along with your leadership skills and intangible assets to guide these small Teams to success.
